League Stalls on Germany to Avoid Break-up

FRENCH CRISIS USED TO STAVE OFF QUARREL

BULLETIN.

ROME, March 8.—(U. N.)—Premier Benito Mussolini may join the Italian delegates at Geneva, officials admitted here tonight.

[Premier Mussolini, as minister of foreign affairs in Italy, would doubtless supplant Sig. Scialoja as head of the Italian delegation if he were to go to Geneva.]

GENEVA, March 8.—The special extraordinary session of the assembly of the league of nations, summoned for the admission of Germany in conformity with the German government's written application last month, today opened and immediately slowed down, awaiting the formation of a new French government. The league leaders want to see what attitude Paris takes on granting Spain and Brazil permanent seats and Poland a temporary seat in the council.

The big chiefs intend to keep the small fry of the assembly busy discussing unimportant matters while President Doumergue seeks a new premier to succeed Aristide Briand. It is estimated that they can drag along the assembly at least a week, or maybe ten days, especially if the weather holds good.

Then, should the French government crisis persist and the deadlock here over Poland continue, the question of Germany's admission will be postponed until another special assembly a couple of months hence or go over to the regular assembly in September.

Situation Badly Confused.

Meanwhile, behind the scenes, the leaders are fighting to stop the threatened breakup of the league. Tonight found the situation still in confusion. Two council sessions, the first private, without press or audience, and the second secret, without secretaries or interpreters or any one except the ten chief delegates and Sir Eric Drummond, the secretary general, were held this morning. These meetings demonstrated that the situation is more serious than the informal conference between Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign minister; M. Briand, Sig. Scialoja of Italy, M. Vandervelde of Belgium, and Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany found it yesterday.

Sweden Opposes New Members.

The first crack out of the box, Osten Unden, foreign minister of Sweden, remarked:

"The members of the council are not signatories of the Rhineland and Locarno pacts and are not concerned with what was done by those who found themselves at Locarno. The fact is that we are all here as free, independent and equal voters and must thrash out the whole situation again. Sweden opposes enlarging the council and cannot consent to the admission of others with Germany."

This was considered significant, because Herr von Schubert, German undersecretary of state for foreign affairs, had had a long conversation with Mr. Unden a short time before.

Mr. Unden said the Scandinavians oppose enlarging the council because the small nations do not want the council made up largely of great powers to dominate the league. They want the council kept at the present ratio of importance to the assembly, which is composed largely of little nations.

Spain Renews Demand.

Senor Quinones de Leon served a solemn warning on his colleagues that Spain maintained a most firm and [illegible] demand for a permanent seat. Foreign Minister Yanguas came all the way from Madrid to back up that declaration.

Paul Boncour, replacing M. Briand, said France supports the candidacy of Spain, Brazil, and Poland.

BLAST ENTOMBS 28 MINERS; 39 ARE RESCUED

Explosion in Shaft in West Virginia.

Eccles, W. Va., March 9, 2 a. m.—(AP)—One man is known to have been killed, twenty-eight miners were entombed, and thirty-nine others were rescued alive following an explosion in mines No. 5 and 6 of the Crab Orchard Improvement company near here, according to a check made early this morning by officials.

The last two men in No. 6 mine were brought out alive shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. Of the forty men working in the mine all but one was saved.

Hope for the twenty-eight men in No. 5 mine dwindled as a barrier blocked further rescue work near the bottom of the shaft.

Many Badly Burned.

Many of those brought out by rescue crews were badly burned and were suffering from the effects of poison gas.

The rescue work was being directed by R. M. Lambie, chief of the state department of mines.

The force of the blast in No. 5, spreading to No. 6, caused experienced miners to believe that there was little chance for the entombed men.

Scene of Big Disaster.

The explosion was in the same mine which was wrecked by a gas explosion in April, 1914, with 186 fatalities. At that time, it was an open light which ignited the coal gas and caused the disaster.

Somewhere in the flame swept tunnels is Slim Russell, veteran miner, who was the last man to be rescued from the same workings in the 1914 disaster. After that disaster Slim was hailed as the luckiest miner in Raleigh county.

Mine No. 5 lies at the bottom of a 520 foot shaft and is underneath mine No. 6, which has a depth of 250 feet. A connecting shaft joins the two.

EXPECT KRESGES TO SETTLE THEIR $1,000,000 SUIT

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—The suit of Mrs. Doris Mercer Kresge to obtain $1,000,000 from her husband, S. S. Kresge, wealthy chain store owner, under an alleged prenuptial agreement, began before Supreme Court Justice Wagner today, and then adjourned until tomorrow with a hint of reconciliation.

After counsel made their opening addresses Mrs. Kresge took the stand, but before any questions were asked the attorneys—Nathan Burkan for her, Max B. Steuer for Mr. Kresge—went to the bench and conferred with Justice Wagner. Then the adjournment was announced.

The pair were married in 1924. Mr. Kresge gave his age then as 56 and his bride was 31.

Mr. Burkan outlined the nature of the suit, saying that although Mr. Kresge had given her 2,500 shares of stock before they were married, he made an agreement to give her 2,500 more shares upon their marriage on April 16, 1924, after the first Mrs. Kresge had obtained a divorce, and he had failed to do so.

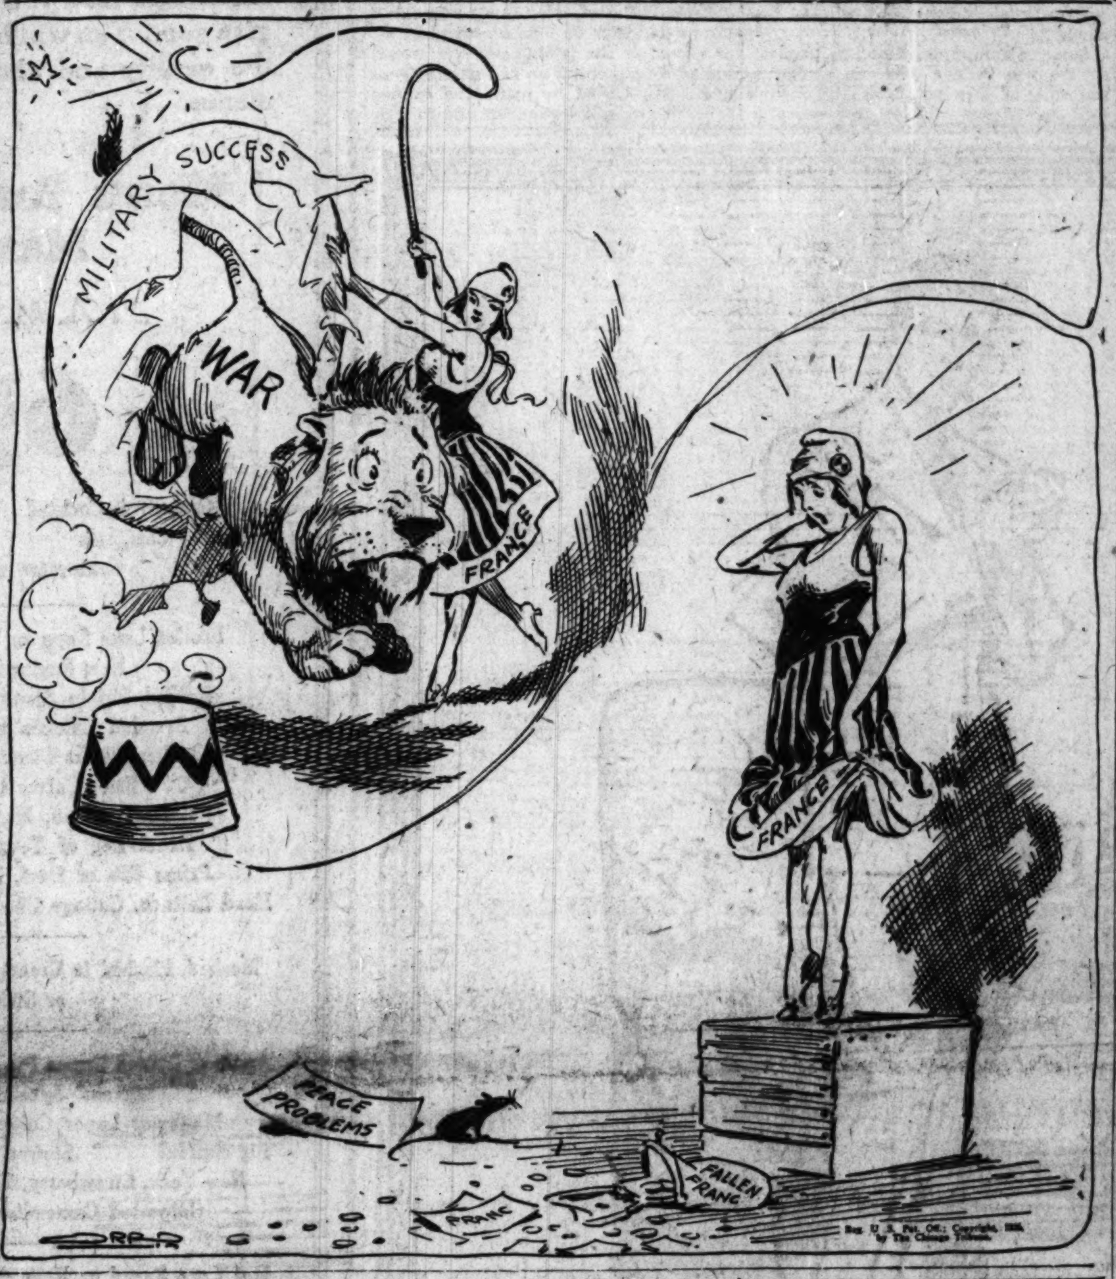
Mr. Steuer said that when Mr. Kresge gave Doris Mercer 2,500 shares of Kresge stock, worth $1,000,000, he was not in position to marry her, and later he signed an ante-nuptial agreement in which he confirmed that this stock was to be hers. Mr. Steuer intimated that Doris Mercer Kresge was not satisfied with this settlement.

SEEKS $50,000 FOR BREACH OF PROMISE TO WED

Suit for $50,000 damages for breach of promise to marry her was filed yesterday by Miss Margaret Wheelock, 4405 Drexel boulevard, against Walter Bender, secretary-treasurer of the Ahlberg Bearing company, 321 East 29th street. The complaint was filed by Attorney H. Ward Heidenreich.

According to the lawyer, the romance of Miss Wheelock and the wealthy manufacturer began in 1923 while she was unaware that he was married. When she discovered he had a wife, she claims, Bender promised to marry her as soon as he obtained a divorce. The divorce was granted last January, but instead of marrying her, Miss Wheelock says, he married a young woman employed in his office.

MASTER OF THE LION, BUT AFRAID OF THE MOUSE



Diamond Joe, Storm Center; His Own Story

BY SIDNEY SUTHERLAND.

This is the story of Giuseppi Esposito, more familiarly known as Diamond Joe, sketching his career from the day of his birth until yesterday. He has been somewhat in the limelight during the primary campaign, he being a Deneen candidate at the April primaries for county commissioner.

When Esposito was asked yesterday to state his case, he was quick to exhibit one souvenir which he treasures. It appears that two or three years ago he took a trip back to Italy. When he reached there he received an engrossed testimonial which he displayed with pride to his old friends there. On the front cover of the souvenir was his picture, at the sides of which American and Italian flags were intertwined. On the back cover appeared the facsimile signatures of Len Small, governor; Robert M. Sweitzer, county clerk; William E. Dever, mayor; Patrick J. Carr, county treasurer; C. S. Deneen, ex-governor; William Hale Thompson, ex-mayor, and others.

Born Near Naples.

In the town of Accera, seven miles from Naples, was born on April 28, 1872, a bambino to whom the Esposito parents gave the name of Giuseppi. Nothing of moment transpires in his career until 1895, when the 23 year old Italian descended the New York gangplank of an immigrant ship.

A year as a laborer in Brooklyn, another in Boston, and Joe, to Anglicize Giuseppi, returned to a bakery in Brooklyn. There he toiled until he owned his own shop at May and Navy streets. In 1905, aged 33, he came to Chicago.

Opens a Bakery Here.

At Gilpin and Jefferson streets, in the old 19th, now the 27th ward, he opened his own bakery. Presently he owned one at Vernon Park place and Morgan streets.

Joe has an undisputed charm of contact and a dominent personality. Into the volubly excited spirit of the Italian neighborhood he plunged with the fervor that has developed until it swings his ward at ballot time. By 1908 he was a power in labor affairs and in minor ward politics. He became business agent and treasurer of the International Hod Carriers, Building and Construction Laborers' union, and president of Circolo Accera, the latter composed of 500 men and women from his native town.

And it was in 1908 that Joe became mixed up in a murder case. The bureau of identification record, Reg. No. 43602, and Esposito's version of this affair are directly contrasting, and both are given here. First, the record shows that—

"On Aug. 19, 1908, Giuseppi Esposito fired one shot at Mack Geaquenta of 244 West Randolph street. The bullet struck Geaquenta in the mouth and he died almost instantly. The shooting followed a quarrel over a woman in a barber shop at 244 West Randolph street, where Geaquenta was employed. Jealousy is said to have been the motive.

"On June 4, 1909, the charge of murder was stricken off."

And Gives His Version.

Diamond Joe's version follows:

"Theese was alla de meestake. I no keel any-body. I veesit my sister in Yonkers, New York, and come home to find they eendite me. Eef I keela da man why they no try me? John E. W. Wayman (state's attorney then) he study da charge, find somebody peek on Diamond Joe just to hava da goat. Dey hava crime wave thata time, and seemply decide maka Joe do keeler. So Wayman he deesmeesa da case. Eef Crowe want reenstate why he no go head and do eet?"

In any event, Diamond Joe prospered, and presently he had branched into the saloon and restaurant game. He ran a bar at 1048 Taylor street, where his brother Sam had a little finger shot off on April 19, 1917, when Cuono Coletta shot up a spaghetti party and had his head blown off by one of the guests.

Joe in 1912 married a beautiful

Cops Laugh at Writ and Chop Up Beer Shop

Capt. Daniel Murphy of the Chicago avenue station carefully read an injunction last night. It told what policemen could and could not do in a saloon at 920 North Wells street. By and by the captain smiled.

"Boys," he said, "the injunction is all right. We will now place it in a pigeonhole. Let Walsh, and Nash, and O'Reilly get some hatchets. We are going over to Larry O'Brien's saloon and play Carrie Nation."

They went. It was not the first time they had gone. It was not the first time that they had seized beer. But it was the first time they had taken their hatchets.

An Injunction, But—

In the place Edward Cleary, the bartender, instructed the captain that it was all wrong—he couldn't come in because there was an injunction.

"Yes," said the captain, as he chipped a chunk of mahogany from the bar. "You are right. O'Reilly, hit that mirror, will you. And Nash, knock those chips the other way, while Walsh is rolling out that beer. Cleary can watch us."

The work went on until the bar was wrecked, the glasses smashed, the bung starter destroyed, and the beer pushed out to the sidewalk. While the captain and his men were pouring the foaming amber into the gutter a truck arrived. It contained two barrels of beer. The driver saw the pouring. He abruptly halted the truck and dashed for the nearest alley. Capt. Murphy let him go and poured out his two barrels.

Hatchets vs. Writs.

Then came a large automobile. In it, said the captain, was Lawrence C. O'Brien, state representative from the 29th district. And the conversation, as the captain has it, was as follows:

"You know there's an injunction?"

"Yes, but there's hatchets."

"O, well, if you must play that way, captain, I guess we'll have to close the place."

O'Brien has denied that he is owner of the place, but Capt. Murphy asserts that it was his attorney who obtained an injunction to prevent police interference.

Coast to Coast Plane with 7 Airmen Is Lost

Dallas, Tex., March 8.—(AP)—An army Douglas transport airplane, which left Little Rock, Ark., at 11 o'clock this morning for Dallas with seven army airmen aboard had not arrived here tonight. The plane was en route from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.

Kidnaps Boy From Guard at St. Charles

Four armed men invaded the St. Charles School for Boys on the Lincoln highway, four miles west of St. Charles, last night after dark, help up a guard with their revolvers, took one boy—a convict—from a cottage and escaped toward Chicago. Police of Elgin and Chicago were notified to be on the lookout for the quartet. The name of the boy who was liberated was not given to the police in the report of the school officials.

How the rescue party gained entrance to the grounds was a mystery to the authorities working on the case. The rescue occurred shortly after 8 o'clock. The entrances to the institution are supposed to be closed at 6 o'clock and no outsiders are permitted to enter after that hour.

Guard Faces Revolvers.

The school is conducted on the cottage system, each cottage housing a tage system, each cottage housing about sixty boys. Guard Daly was in charge of the cottage in which the boy sought by the armed men lived. He was on duty as usual when suddenly he heard the cry, "hands up."

Looking up, he saw four revolvers pointed at him, according to the Elgin police. While three of the invaders stood guard over him the other one went into the cottage and brought out the boy they sought. The youth was placed in the machine, which roared out from the grounds and off toward Chicago. There were sixty boys in the cottage, which has been under quarantine for scarlet fever.

The boy's escape was effected just a short time after Col. Frank D. Whipp, superintendent of the school, had become alarmed when he was accosted by two rough looking men near the grounds. Information of that encounter reached the office of the Kane county sheriff, but no formal complaint was made and nothing was done about it.

No Shooting Reported.

One report was that several shots had been fired at Guard Daly, but the Elgin police chief said that if that were so the authorities had not informed them of it. At the institution, closest secrecy was maintained over the affair, the officials declaring that if they gave out any information it would handicap the police working on the case. The night officer in charge, in response to a question, declared no one had been wounded. This was taken to indicate that there had been some shooting.

The St. Charles School for Boys is the state reform school for boy criminals between the ages of 10 and 17 years. It has 750 inmates, among whom Chicago has a large representation.

U. S. OWES HER AN APOLOGY, SAYS COUNTESS VERA

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—Vera, Countess Cathcart, made her first public address tonight since her arrival, detention, and subsequent release from Ellis island, when she spoke before the Morons club.

On her arrival in America, the countess said, she made the discovery that Mrs. Grundy, who had been banished from England, had settled down on these shores.

"She presented herself to me," she went on, "in the brass buttons and rude bluster of one Deputy Inspector Scarzini."

She said she felt that the state department should send her a note saying, "Inspector Scarzini made a mistake and we are sorry."

United States District Attorney Buckner received instructions from the department of labor to proceed with an appeal in the countess' case, it was announced today.

DRY LAW ISSUE HAS TO BE MET, SENATORS SAY

Committee Hearing Brings Frank Talk.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—Plain talk on prohibition by some of the most important men in American public life stirred the capital today.

W. C. BRUCE.
Und. & Und. Photo.]

Senators Bruce [Dem., Md.], Edge [Rep., N. J.], and Edwards [Dem., N. J.] came before the senate judiciary committee to demand public hearings on their bills to amend the national prohibition (Volstead) act for the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

Their attack was aggressive, their description of conditions often sensational, and their reception by the committee grave.

Bruce Issues Challenge.

At the end of a two hour session, part of which was executive, the committee was unable to reach a decision as to the granting of public hearings. It will take up the subject again at a special session.

Eleven of the sixteen senators on the committee were present to hear the three petitioning senators. Thus twelve states, ranging from New Jersey on the east to Arizona on the west, were represented.

Jibes and accusations were frequent and the challenge that "something must be done" was vehemently thrown down by Senator Bruce, who is for a return to local option, and who said:

"A change is going to come—must come—much quicker than some of you think. Don't make any mistake about that. Public opinion is moving fast on this question."

"Is a Consuming Issue."

"Have general hearings on these proposed amendments first. Ultimately we can fight this out on the floor of the senate, and we will! That is what we are here for. We can't take the position that prohibition is not an issue. It is consuming the time and attention of the press and of public men—sometimes to the exclusion of all other subjects.

"It is often said that we are too conservative to enforce the national prohibition act and too ignorant of the actual facts to modify it. Well, let us get at those actual facts."

Questioned by Committeemen.

Senator Harreld [Rep., Okla.] broke in with this question:

"As long as Assistant Secretary Andrews appoints as enforcement officers one man indicted for perjury and another for murder, how can any one talk about enforcement?"

Senator Caraway [Dem., Ark.] was the most persistent and pointed of the questioners of the three petitioners, and he asked Senator Bruce:

"Does the senator think congress ought to say, 'If you don't want to obey the law we will change it?'"

Senator Bruce—"The law is not what you put on the statute book. It is what the great mass of the people are willing to obey. The great trouble with this law is that there is no moral force behind it."

Senator Borah's Opinion.

Senator Borah [Rep., Idaho] spoke up:

"To move to repeal the eighteenth amendment is to attack it in an open, manly, candid way. To offer amendments to the Volstead act is to shilly-shally."

Senator Bruce—"Senator, some change has got to come. The issue has got to be met."

Then, in comment on Senator Bruce's proposal to have the manufacture, sale, and distribution of liquor under and by the government, Senator Borah said:

"I, too, think some change has got to come, but I don't want to see Uncle Sam go into the manufacture of liquor. If he does we'll never have another issue in American politics as long as that issue is there."

The senatorial hawk, Mr. Caraway, again swooped down, saying:

"I think thousands of weak-minded people now in prison got their courage to violate the eighteenth amendment from high places."

* *

Senator Edge—"O, I wouldn't say that!"

Senator Harreld—"Well, I will say it."

Senator Caraway, again swooping—"If there had been as much propaganda against the rape and murder laws as there has been against the prohibition laws the crimes of rape and murder would have doubled. Why should congress sit down to hear everybody who doesn't want to obey the law? I think that, when the conflict is between the law-abiding and the law-violating, congress ought to take and keep its position with the law-abiding.

Senator Bruce spoke up for his state:

"I think I may say that Maryland has always had a good name as a law-abiding and conservative state, but this prohibition is working the moral ruin of our people.

Bruce Tells of Law's Havoc.

"The utterly detestable thing about it is that it is most undemocratic. The rich get what they want to drink. And the poor get rotgut.

"As the situation now is and as the law now operates, the conditions are intolerable. Prisons are crowded to overflowing. In my state they have had to begin immuring offenders in the county prisons.

"I am speaking as a temperance man whose abhorrence of drunkenness is as deep seated as his—what shall I say?—his disbelief in prohibition.

"I am not in favor of repeal of the 18th amendment but of amending the prohibition act. I want to get rid of absolute prohibition, but conserve what good there is in prohibition. Of course, we shall never go back to the saloon. That is unthinkable."

SENATOR BORAH—What good is there in prohibition?

SENATOR BRUCE—In so far as it does make for temperance there is good in it, and that is what I want to preserve.

Not Marc Antony's Kind.

Senator Caraway took especial delight in baiting the suave wet protagonist, Senator Edge, and when the Jersey man began to make his plea for public hearings, the Arkansan warned him thus:

"I would like to remind this gentleman that Marc Antony was the only man that ever got anything out of a funeral oration."

Senator Bruce interjected:

"Yes, but funeral baked meats sometimes furnish forth the marriage feast."

Amid that badinage, Senator Edge got under way. "Whether," he said, "we can or cannot modify the Volstead act is certainly a subject for public hearings. That certainly is not latitudinous, but if a hearing is denied by this committee, it might be the best thing that could happen to the opponents of prohibition because so unheard of a refusal would bring to a head the feeling against the tyranny inherent in prohibition."

Senator Edge then outlined his proposals to increase alcoholic content from one half of one per cent to 2.75 per cent, to eliminate the formula entirely in the case of home made ciders and fruit juices, and to obtain relief from the present stipulation of "one pint in ten days" for a patient receiving a physician's prescription for alcohol.

Senator Cummins [Rep., Ia.] asked: "Do you believe you can authorize the sale of any palatable light wine that would not violate the constitution? Is there any wine fit to drink that will not intoxicate?"

Senator Edge—It might intoxicate some; others not. If people could have light wines and beer it would reduce the bootlegger trade.

That brought Senator Edge's Jersey colleague, Senator Edwards, to his feet with this accusation:

Borah Demands the Evidence.

Senator Borah—What proof have you of that?

Senator Edwards [somewhat taken aback]—I don't need any. It's self-evident. The bootlegger contributes to the league because it makes the stuff harder to get, and so he can charge you more for it.

Of enforcement under present conditions Senator Edwards has no hope. "I have," he said, "introduced a bill to repeal prohibition, and I doubt whether there is a dayer man in the United States than I am. Nor am I bent upon breaking the law. But I know the conditions, and I know that to enforce prohibition in New Jersey you would have to put in every sea coast town one enforcement officer for every three men living in those towns."

Senator Caraway—"If the majority are in favor of stealing, shall the laws against stealing be repealed?"

Senator Edwards, heatedly—"That's nonsense! Don't talk nonsense! I wish I were a lawyer. If I were a lawyer, you wouldn't have a lot of fun with me!"

"No Excuse to Keep It Wrong."

Senator Caraway—"Don't you think public hearings on bills for amendment or repeal of the prohibition act would indicate weakening on the part of congress and would be made the excuse for a deluge of propaganda and for the further weakening of enforcement?"

Senator Edwards—"That makes no difference. If you are wrong, be man enough to acknowledge it. Andrews says he can't enforce this law. Repeal this act and draw an act that can be made workable. Senator Walsh here could draw such an act. I think there should be no saloons, but the manufacture and sale of liquor by the government."

After reaffirming his position as a wet who votes wet but drinks dry, Senator Edwards added:

"At that there isn't a bootlegger in New Jersey that would vote for Senator Edge or me."

ANDREWS STILL HOPES.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, "dry czar," reiterated today his announcement of last November that he would give up the post of chief prohibition enforcement officer one year from that date unless he was able to show the nation that he had made a success of his job.

Gen. Andrews, however, was quick to add that he believed he had a good chance of making good. In his opinion progress is being made in the battle to make the nation actually dry and with proper support the wet places will begin to dry up.

In an effort to stem the rising output of illicit wine and beer, Mr. Andrews today announced that new machinery would be set up to check the illegal output from cereal beverage factories, near beer factories, and wildcat breweries. A new wine squad and a special beer detail will be features of this new campaign.

Dry Law Cited as Cause of Increase in Mental Diseases

Forecasting that the American of 1975 will be a mental child in comparison wtih the present day citizen, Dr. William J. Hickson of the city psychopathic laboratory yesterday made public figures showing a startling increase in the percentage of mental defectives.

Perhaps the chief cause of the increase in the number of mentally afflicted persons is the Volstead act, Dr. Hickson said. There has been an increase of nearly 35 per cent in the number of mental defectives examined in the laboratory since prohibition went into effect. Low grade post-prohibition liquor has proved ruinous to the brain tissues of thousands, the figures showed.

But in general the multiplicity of laws passed by the government in the last few years has tended to destroy the morale of the people, according to the physician.

"We formerly lived decently because we had will power," he declared. "Now, the government has assumed to substitute laws for will power. That has tended to make it easier for the flood of feeble-minded persons to increase in numbers."

Last year Dr. Hickson examined approximately 3,500 men, women, and children sent to him by Municipal court judges before whom the individuals had been arraigned, charged with crime. An examination showed that 2,000 were insane or feeble minded and most of the remainder were what is known as border line cases, hovering on the verge or insanity.

"All the professions have been invaded by the mental defectives," he asserted. "The medical profession has its thousands of quacks, who are nothing but morons masquerading as physicians. The prevalence of fake religious cults shows the influence on religion. The legal profession has its hangers-on in the person of hundreds of fixers who infest the courts."

With brief and skimpy skirts of this "Charleston regime," shoes have just naturally got to be pretty to compete with slim and youthful knees. Walk-Over shoes are. Yet is requires more than merely pretty style to make a shoe attractive. It takes skill in making and fitting that style to meet youthful needs, and Walk-Over has gained world-wide popularity with their superior fitting qualities.

Then, too, the exclusive system of "Footograph Chart" fitting tells the Walk-Over "fitter" all there is to know about your foot, eliminating any guesswork.

ENGINEER FINDS BRICK JOKERS IN CITY TILE BILL

Text Was Tampered With, Charge; Veto Urged.

Expected explosions concerning the hollow tile ordinance that was eased through the city council committee on buildings last week began popping yesterday.

They had been looked for at the council meeting tomorrow, but the discovery of even a greater number of jokers than had been suspected led William Artingstall, one of the city's engineers representing the administration, to write a letter to Mayor Dever urging him to veto the ordinance if passed in its present form.

So serious are the jokers, Artingstall and other experts say, that instead of being a pro-tile ordinance, the measure is an anti-tile law, since it imposes new penalties on the use of hollow blocks and will not benefit the small home builders or anybody else, unless it is the brick makers.

The Julius Floto Mystery.

Engineer Artingstall calls attention to one of the several mysteries in connection with the ordinance. This is the unexplained activity of Julius Floto, an engineer who suddenly bobbed up to "aid" a subcommittee in drafting the new regulations.

Ald. Joseph Higgins Smith, chairman of the subcommittee, said that he had retained Floto on the recommendation of the Western Society of Engineers. The representative of that organization who would know if any such recommendation had been made is Edward W. Nethercutt, its secretary.

"We were not asked to recommend anybody and did not recommend anybody," Mr. Nethercutt told THE TRIBUNE.

"Last Tuesday the subcommittee authorized me, Deputy Building Commissioner Knight, and Mr. Floto to complete the technical provisions of the ordinance. Mr. Floto was called away. Mr. Knight and I agreed that the Hoover commission's recommendation concerning a water absorption test should go in. This is a safety measure which checks the use of soft, dangerous tile.

Eliminates Precautionary Section.

"The final draft of the ordinance was in the hands of the stenographer when, I understand, Mr. Floto returned and had that provision stricken out of it. With that section missing tile that would absorb so much water that they would crumble could be used.

"In other words, it would open the door for a repetition of the church disaster at St. Petersburg, Fla., that cost 400 lives. It shows the way to discredit tile by unfair means."

Engineer Artingstall, in his letter to Mayor Dever, urged support of the ordinance which was presented by Ald. A. J. Horan [29th] as a minority report.

"The majority recommendations," he said, "will effect a more complete monopoly for the brick trust, if such a thing is possible, than exists now."

Further extracts from the letter follow:

"The majority report favors brick in the construction of bungalows, residences, and two-flat buildings by penalizing tile 16 to 20 per cent.

"This is contrary to the Hoover code and does not show much evidence of good faith to the small home builder. Three-story apartment buildings and small stores with one or two flats above, which form the largest percentage of Chicago's rentable habitations, are not allowed under the majority recommendations; but, as the economic minimum limit for skeleton construction in Chicago seems to be about 40 feet, the four-story apartments could be constructed under the majority ordinance.

Specified Tile Is Obsolete.

"However, the enacting clause refers to section 779E of the present building code, which sanctions only tile at least 80 per cent solid. This cannot be economically manufactured, and was discontinued 15 or more years ago.

"Hence, under a strict interpretation of the enacting clause, the use of any other hollow clay tile is prohibited, and the use of hollow tile in Chicago would be practically forbidden."

Mayor Dever declined to make any public statement on the subject, but it is believed he would veto the majority ordinance if it were passed.

HUSBAND DIES, WIFE HURT AS TRAIN HITS AUTO

Morton Grove Scene of Accident.

Christ L. Beiers, 55 years old, of Des Plaines, was instantly killed and his wife, Emma, 35 years old, was probably fatally injured when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Chicago, Milwaukee and St Paul passenger train at the Church street crossing north of Morton Grove last night.

There are no gates or bell signals at the crossing, according to the highway police. Beiers apparently did not hear the approaching train and drove directly into the path of the locomotive. Mrs. Beiers, suffering from a skull fracture and internal injuries, was taken to the Washington Boulevard hospital.

The death of Joseph Carson, 26 years old, 2211 Sherman avenue, Evanston, was the second of the day and raised the county toll for the year to 138. Carson died of injuries received Saturday when he was struck by a taxicab driven by Edward Swiontek, 24 years old, 919 Emerson street, Evanston.

Mrs. Mary L. Youde, 38 years old, 2117 South Elmwood avenue, Berwyn, was severely cut by glass when the automobile in which she was riding with her husband, Frederick, struck a parked truck at Ogden road and Rose avenues, Lyons, Ill.

Systematic investigation of the causes of all serious accidents on the highways of Cook county will be conducted by the mayor's safety commission, it was announced under a program of policies adopted by the commission at a meeting yesterday. Improvements have been made at 75 railroad crossings in the county, it was stated.

LURER OF GIRLS IN LAKE FOREST HELD BY POLICE

Lake Forest police last night were secretly investigating the action of John Satorus, 62 years old, a painter, who is charged with luring a number of the suburb's ten and twelve year old girls to his room at 212 West Deerpath road.

The painter was held on a charge of disorderly conduct while the police, who would give out no statements, were said to be seeking evidence for a more serious charge. The only information obtainable was that the man lured the children to his room with gifts of candy and money and then danced for them only partly clad.

REFUSE TO HALT U. S. ENTRY INTO WORLD COURT

Washington, D. C., March 8.—(AP)—The Supreme court today refused to entertain an attempted legal challenge to American participation in the world court.

An injunction proceeding instituted by Benjamin Catchings, a New York and Washington lawyer, was dismissed. Catchings protested that adherence to the world tribunal was unconstitutional.

Prices realized on Swift & Company's sales of carcass beef in Chicago, for week ending Saturday, March 6, on shipments sold out, were as follows: Cows, common to good, 8.50 cents to 13.00 cents; steers, common to medium, 12.00 cents to 15.00 cents; steers, good to choice, 15.50 cents to 19.00 cents; total sales averaged 13.13 cents per pound.—Adv.

G. B. S. GLAD FIRE RAZED MEMORIAL TO SHAKESPEARE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 8.—Providence deserves a vote of thanks for burning down the Shakespeare Memorial theater, George Bernard Shaw commented today on the destruction of the old Stratford-on-Avon landmark, adding that it was not suited for enacting the bard's plays.

"I cannot help feeling pleased that the old relic has gone and must be replaced with a house adequate for production," the playwright said.

The theater, which was known to thousands of American tourists visiting Stratford-on-Avon, will be replaced within a year, the authorities announced today, and the festivals planned for April and July will be held in a motion picture theater, which is said to offer better facilities.

Bookings, including many Americans, are already being made for the Shakespeare festival, beginning April 12. About 20,000 programs have been printed.

"Well, the Ontra has a homey atmosphere and I haven't any real home in Chicago—I'm just rooming. Miss Dutton's cooking is the nearest approach to the old home table of any eating place I've found in the city. I heard that she was raised on a farm and farm girls usually know how to cook. Maybe that accounts for it."

LEAGUE GROPES IN CONFUSION OF COUNCIL ROW

Leaders Strive to Halt Threatened Split.

land's request in principle, said that Italy was not a partisan to enlarging the council too much.

V. Vandervelde said that Belgium opposes an enlarged council, but is ready to accept any proposition for overcoming a possible menace to the life of the league.

Sir Austen kept pretty quiet, except to emphasize the fact that Great Britain opposes anything threatening to delay or block Germany's entry into the league, and he indicated that England is ready to do most anything to assure Germany joining without loss of time.

The various statements were interpreted as ambiguous warnings that the nations not securing their demands probably will quit the league cold.

Germans Talk of Quitting.

The German headquarters emitted anonymous mutterings that Germany is ready to withdraw its demand for membership and let the Locarno accords go hang if the haggling over Poland continues. Meanwhile Herr Stresemann and Herr Luther took pleasant automobile rides in nice, shiny motor cars—bigger even than Sir Austen's Rolls Royce.

"Feed box" information from reliable sources indicates the present status is that France is willing to have Germany enter the council alone now if Germany pledges its vote in favor of a council seat for Poland, Brazil, and Spain in September. The German position is that it is ready to agree to Brazil and Spain at any time, but they will not have the Polish government rammed down their throats as part of the bargain for their membership.

Incidentally, Germany has been tipped off that it will not be welcomed into the world court unless it joins the league, although the United States was permitted to join The Hague organization without affiliating itself with Geneva. Once Germany joins the league, though, it is automatically a member of the court.

Da Costa Elected President.

After Senor da Costa's election as president the assembly named two committees, first a political committee, headed by Sir Austen Chamberlain, to pass on Germany's demand for admission, "whether the German government gives effective guarantees of its sincere intention to carry out its international obligations," and the second, headed by Louis Loucheur of France, to fix Germany's quota of dues and readjust the league budget accordingly.

It is expected that these committees will kill as much time as possible while awaiting the formation of a French government, but they will have two decoys ready to toss into the assembly to keep the delegates busy a while longer, as the agenda also provides for a decision on the council's proposals concerning the application of article four of the covenant and the construction of an assembly hall for the league.

All But Briand Want Briand Back as Premier of France

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, March 8.—France is groping today in a political fog, which lies thickest about the Elysee palace, to which President Doumergue is calling various political leaders in the hope of finding a Moses among them.

In the gloom many names are cried, but one which echoes with the most persistence is that of Aristide Briand. But M. Briand, who never looked more aged or tired than when he returned this morning from Geneva and rushed to the presidential palace without even taking time to shave, said cynically:

"They have smashed the platter over my head and now they want me to pick up the pieces."

Hope Briand Will Change Mind.

He said outright here and in Geneva that he will not take the responsibility of forming a cabinet, but it is certain that President Doumergue offered him the job this morning. M. Doumergue and other leaders are gambling that M. Briand's itch to get back to Geneva to salvage his Locarno achievements and further the policy he has shaped up laboriously may lead him to take the job he assuredly does not want. And the entire country seems to want to see M. Briand back in a cabinet job of some kind at once.

Edouard Herriot's friends are busily scratching the back of the mayor of Lyons trying to persuade him that the moment is ripe to give up his soft and safe job as president of the chamber of deputies and take the reins of government, with M. Briand as foreign minister. However, M. Herriot is a crafty fellow and wants to be sure of support to keep him in power more than a couple of months.

Many Call at Palace.

The fourth cabinet crisis within a year brought the usual callers to the Elysee palace. Speakers of both houses of parliament, M. Deselves from the senate, M. Herriot from the chamber, Joseph Caillaux, M. Casals, radical socialist chief, M. Malvy, and a number of others were there. M. Briand's name dominates everything. The deputies when they voted his defeat, spoke up and explained that the catastrophe was in protest against M. Doumer's financial project and not against the premier, who had previously obtained a tremendous majority for the Locarno treaties.

The parties of the right approve of M. Briand, but insist that he find support in the center, and spurn the Socialists on the ground that the country cannot be strengthened through the efforts of a party opposed to the existing social structure.

68 Cabinets in 55 Years.

With certain contrition over the awkwardness of the crisis, the Paris press points out that the third French republic in fifty-five years' existence has used up sixty-eight cabinets, compared with fifteen English ministries during the same time. Since 1914 the English have had five ministries and the French seventeen.

The hope of an early settlement of the crisis, which all parties realize is essential, halted the franc's tobogganing, and it remained fairly steady around 27 francs, 80 centimes to a dollar.

SURVEY FINDS YOUTHS FOND OF APING GUNMEN

Toy Pistols at Playgrounds Bring Investigation.

Imitating bootleggers and gunmen with the aid of toy cap pistols is now one of the favorite pastimes of Chicago's youth, according to a survey just completed by Charles H. English, supervisor of recreation of the board of education.

Where the school boy used to play "Indian and Cowboy" he now plays "Bootlegger and Hijacker." The modern boy, however, has the advantage of a survey and this was lacking to the youth of a couple of generations ago who played Injun and Cowboy.

When not at play the schoolboy's toy pistols of today, Mr. English finds, are secreted in the playground before they enter the school and pick them up after the day's work is over. In one school fourteen such pistols were found in the pockets of the youths.

Show Interest in Crime.

In an effort to learn just what effect crime fiction and stories, and motion picture melodrama are having upon the youth of today, Mr. English set out to interview a cross section of Chicago's school boy and girl in the fifty-eight school playgrounds operated by the board of education. Here is what he found.

That 48 per cent of boys between 10 and 14 years of age, and 76 per cent of the youths between 14 and 18 years of age were interested in crime. That most of the children liked the western stuff in the movies and that the average attendance was two times a week, and sometimes as high as seven.

That most of the older girls imitated the manners and dress of the movie stars and that the younger boys fell for the bravado and hero stuff. On the west side here was an example of the reaction of an 11 year old boy to the careers of bandits and gunmen:

Want Little at Time.

"These birds have the wrong idea," he informed his interviewer. "They are always getting caught. Now our gang has an idea of robbing the mothers as they are on the way to the store. We are not after big money, just a little at a time."

"But what if you are arrested?" the youngster was asked.

"Aw, they don't hang anybody in Chicago any more anyway," he replied.

WED AT HEALTH RESORT.

George K. Schoenberger, 80, and Mrs. Kate Ellis Hughes, 57, both residents of the North Shore health resort in Winnetka, were married yesterday by the Rev. James A. Richards of Winnetka, after which the couple left for Kentucky.

BUY ACRES
In Greater Chicago

Located on rapid transportation, express service to the Loop. Near schools, stores and churches. You can live on this land now and pay for it with your rent money; or you can cultivate it and make money by raising fruits, poultry and vegetables. Later you can subdivide your land into lots and sell these lots at a big profit. In the last few years, hundreds of our purchasers have made big money in this way. You can do the same.

At the Rate of $350 Per Acre

How You Can Buy One of Our Homes

If you earn $35 a week (about $152 a month) here is the monthly allowance for your income:

On Home............$40 a month
For Food............ 30 a month
For Clothing........ 25 a month
Insurance .... 7 a month
Fuel .... 8 a month
Gas and Electricity. 3 a month
Automobile .... 6 a month
Carfare .... 8 a month
Church .... 3 a month
School .... 3 a month
Amusements .... 8 a month
Taxes .... 3 a month
Savings Bank....... 6 a month
$152

This budget is based on your expenditures for a month. If you will raise fruits, poultry and vegetables, part of which you will consume, you may thus further cut down your living cost.

THIS MEANS PAYING FOR YOUR HOME ON YOUR PRESENT RENT MONEY

Every acre is equal to eight city lots. You can buy this land with a small payment down and on easy terms. Your present rent money and your profits from the land will more than pay for it. In a few years you can subdivide it into lots and each lot should bring more than you now pay for a whole acre. This is the way to make big money. We have hundreds of purchasers doing this now—why not you?

We also have large homesites (100 ft. x 300 ft.) with water, stone roads, and electric included, for $875, which you can buy on terms of $10 a month. We also have houses ready to move into for $4,075, including cost of land, which we will sell on terms of $40 a month.

Big Profits in Our Acres

The money you give away, with nothing but rent receipts to show for it, will buy your Chicago Acres and build your home. Just think of this! $40 a month, compounded on a 6% basis, in ten years amounts to $5,846, and in fifteen years it amounts to $10,892; $50 a month in ten years amounts to $7,308, and in fifteen years it amounts to $12,366. The money you now waste in this way by paying rent if invested in acres in Greater Chicago will make you big profits.

The other day one of our customers, who paid $1,850 for five acres of land a few years ago, sold a lot off this piece, 100x150 feet, for $8,600, and still has over 4½ acres left. Property we sold a few years ago at $20 a front foot is now selling at from $150 to $250 a front foot. Acres on the Northwest Side that sold a few years ago for $800 are now selling for as much per lot as the purchasers originally paid for an acre. You can do as well. You can make money in the same way that these people made their money, and you need only a few dollars to start with.

COURT REBUKES RICH'S LAWYER FOR BAD FAITH

Offers to Prove Co-ed Was on Rum Party.

Mason, Mich., March 8.—[Special.]—W. J. Barnard, leading defense lawyer in the Rich-King criminal assault case, sprung a surprise by resting his case today immediately after Arthur Rich had left the stand following a day's cross-examination by Assistant Attorney General O. L. Smith. Young Rich's defense of "I don't remember," or "She led me on," and "I was drunk" was subjected to a merciless bombardment by Smith.

The defense had planned to recall Miss Jean Macbeth and Miss Dorothy Wheeler, co-ed chums of Miss King, and other witnesses. Balked by Judge Charles B. Collingwood in this move, Barnard announced his case closed.

An offer of testimony by Barnard that Miss King, Miss Macbeth and Miss Wheeler were engaged in a drinking party with Lansing youths last Wednesday night and were ordered out of a chop suey parlor was refused by Judge Collingwood. The offer was made in the absence of the jury. Both Miss King and Assistant Attorney General Smith called Barnard a liar and Judge Collingwood rebuked the defense attorney for a lack of good faith.

Wants to Slap His Face.

At the noon adjournment spectators flocked excitedly about the courtroom doors when Miss King and Barnard met in the hall. Miss King endeavored to reach the side of the defense attorney, but was held back by Clyde C. Cortright, Calhoun county prosecutor.

"I want to slap his face! I want to slap his face!" Miss King kept repeating as she struggled to free herself.

The trouble started when Miss King was placed on the stand after the jury had been excluded at the request of the defense.

"I offer to show, if the court please," Barnard said, "that last Wednesday night Miss King, together with Jean Macbeth and Dorothy Wheeler, went to Meadow Lark inn with some boys that they picked up in Lansing; that they had liquor to drink and that they were ordered out of the chop suey parlor because of their conduct."

Calls Attorney a Liar.

Miss King half rose from the witness chair. "It's a lie!" she shouted. "You know it's a lie!"

Smith jumped to his feet and advanced toward Barnard.

"If the court please," he said, "Mr. Barnard knows that is a damnable lie."

"Mr. Barnard must know that such evidence would be absolutely and totally incompetent in this case," Judge Collingwood ruled. "It does not go to prove the case at all, and the court will so hold."

"I challenge counsel's statement about bad faith; we are making this offer in good faith," Barnard replied.

"I say you are not making it in good faith," shot back the judge, his voice ringing through the courthouse. "I say you know that such testimony as that would not be competent; you are too good a lawyer not to know that."

Makes Second Offer.

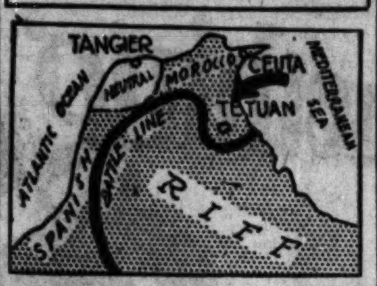
"All right," Barnard replied. "I also want to make the same offer with reference to Miss Macbeth in regard to matters that occurred in Battle Creek in the month of May, 1925. I suppose the same ruling holds good?"

"Absolutely," Judge Collingwood stated.

Dr. James Thomas Case, X-ray specialist and a member of the Northwestern university faculty, contradicted the testimony of Dr. George Bauch, called by the defense last week.

Dr. Bauch testified that the X-ray films taken of Miss King's jaw did not show the injuries the state claims she received.

SPANIARDS WIN



MADRID, March 8.—[U. P.]—Spanish troops today occupied the heights of Macizo-Bu in Morocco, from which Riffian artillery has been bombarding Tetuan, according to a dispatch from the fighting zone. The Spaniards suffered at least 1,000 casualties.

[The Franco-Spanish war with Abd-el Krim's Riffians is awakening from its winter nap. The Riffians are endeavoring to take the offensive on all fronts, but general hostilities all along the line have not yet begun. Krim seeks autonomy for his mountain tribesmen.]

French Free Yank Legionaire.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—(AP)—Thomas Williams of San Francisco, reported captured by Riff tribesmen while serving in the French foreign legion in Morocco and to have been arrested by French authorities in Tangier after his escape from the Riffs, has been given over into the custody of Maxwell Blake, the American diplomatic agent at Tangier.

GENNA GANG FIRED 60 SHOTS, WITNESS SAYS

At least sixty shots were fired at the police last June when Albert Anselmi and John Scalisi and their leader, Mike Genna, made their attack on a police squad at 59th street and Western avenue, according to the testimony given yesterday before Judge William V. Brothers, where the two gangsters are charged with the murder of Policeman Charles Walsh. T. W. Kenny, manager of the service department of an automobile repair company, testified that he found at least sixty bullet holes in the police car.

Sergt. William Sweeney, the only unhurt member of the police squad, was the principal witness yesterday. He gave the details of the fight in which the gangsters killed two policemen and wounded another.

"We rang the bell and drove up to the car, as we had done many times," testified Sweeney.

"Yes, but you didn't have a warrant in this instance or at other times when you stopped cars," said Attorney Michael Ahern of the defense.

"And they never got shot at before because the occupants of other cars they stopped were law abiding citizens," retorted Prosecutor McSwiggin.

HOLD TWO FOR FOUR ROBBERIES.

Two men, identified as the perpetrators of four robberies, were held to the grand jury in bonds of $60,000 each yesterday by Judge Philip Finnegan. They are Charles Kent, 1217 South Morgan street, and Isadore Cohen, 714 West 14th street

TAKES POISON, SAYING HUSBAND LOVES ANOTHER

At the county hospital, where her condition was said to be serious, she asserted that she was despondent because her husband, Earl, had deserted her and their three children.

"He hasn't been home for a week," she said. "Sunday a woman who wouldn't tell me her name called my home and asked me to give up my husband so she could marry him. She told me he wanted his freedom. After that I didn't want to live."

According to Mrs. McDonald, her husband is an executive of the Land o' Lakes Resort company, 72 West Washington street.

BEAUTY PARLORS IN 1925 TREATED SIXTY MILLIONS

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—Sixty million women and children in the United States patronized beauty parlors last year, each spending approximately six and a half dollars, or $390,000,000 in all, according to Charles Nessler, president of the Master Hair Dressers Association of America, at its convention today.

STOLEN BRITISH PAINTINGS SENT BACK BY MAIL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 8.—A brown paper parcel arrived tonight at the office of the Daily Mail. It was found to contain three of the four Constable canvasses stolen from the Royal academy Thursday, along with "The Hencoop," by Birket Foster, which was stolen Wednesday from the guild hall. The secretary of the Royal academy readily identified the pictures, which had been removed from their frames. One of the pictures was slightly peaked on the surface. The others were undamaged. The authorities are unable to account for the mysterious action of the thieves.

Flu Warning Is Given Chicago by Bundesen

If you ache all over, have a sore throat and a touch of fever, feel tired and generally miserable—you have the "flu." Go to bed and stay there at least two or three days.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner, sent out that advice last night to check a threatening outbreak of influenza-pneumonia in Chicago, the worst, perhaps, since the days of the world war.

Within the last twenty-four hours, Dr. Bundesen announced, 113 new cases of the malady have developed in the city, the largest number on record for any one day in the last eight years.

CABARET BATTLE TOLD TO JUDGE; STORIES DIFFER

Conflicting versions of happenings early last Thursday morning in the Moulin Rouge café, one of the gayest spots along South Wabash avenue, prior to the encounter in which Mrs. Clara Harcq, 522 Addison street, received a black eye and numerous bruises, were recounted yesterday in South Clark street court before Judge Francis Borrelli.

Mrs. Harcq, who was acquitted recently in Waukegan of the death of her mother, Mrs. Lillie Holt, said in her story that she had gone to the café with Miss Darlene Begerny, who lives in the same apartment building, because Darlene wanted to see her sweetheart, a waiter there. The judge continued the case to April 10.

Mrs. Harcq said she had intervened when the proprietor, Ben Franklin, was scolding an entertainer, and that he had struck her.

SLAIN SALOON MAN'S PARTNER IS SUSPECTED

Conflicting stories told by Edward "Red" Donovan last night convinced Deputy Chief of Detectives John Stege of the bureau that Donovan and the bartender, John Kane, were the men who killed Donovan's partner, Frank Lawrence, in their saloon at 2011 West 63d street.

Lawrence, shot in the head, was dumped into the corridor of the Auburn Park hospital by two men who fled. Donovan admitted he was one of these two men; and asked why he fled, replied:

"I didn't know he was hurt so bad, and I didn't want to get mixed up in it."

Capt. Stege believes Donovan, aided by Kane, killed Lawrence either in a quarrel over a woman or because Donovan suspected Lawrence was responsible for the arrest of his two gangster friends, Joseph Newton and William McPadden.

A Land Office Business

A sudden rush in any business is usually described in this colorful manner, dating to the days when the government parceled off plots of western land about the size of Englewood, at ridiculously low prices.

In many parts of the country today real estate men are doing "A Land Office Business." A sudden influx of tourists creates an atmosphere of feverish boom activity.

There is a striking contrast between this and the situation in Chicago. What might constitute a gigantic boom for most cities is but a healthy, normal growth here. A casual comparison, that includes the element of safety, with any city in America, only strengthens Chicago's position in this regard.

Auspitz & Oakes justify their faith in Chicago by a program of expansion that includes realty investments for many years to come.

The opening of extensive improved properties, already influenced in value by new rapid electric transportation facilities, will be publicly announced soon. Advance confidential information will be gladly furnished upon request.

MRS. BREWSTER WINS $200,000 ALIENATION SUIT

Jury Decides Against Corliss Palmer.

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—It required just one hour today for a jury in the Supreme court to award Mrs. Eleanor V. V. Brewster $200,000 damages against Corliss Palmer, prize winning beauty, for alienation of the affections of Eugene V. Brewster, the publisher. The suit was undefended.

Neither Miss Palmer nor Mr. Brewster appeared in court, and the only witness was Mrs. Brewster. She gave a recital of the acts on which she based her allegation. Then the issue was handed to the jury, which was instructed by Justice O'Malley.

Mrs. Brewster told of her husband's meeting Miss Palmer through a beauty contest conducted by his moving picture magazine, of the young woman's sojourn in their home at Roslyn, L. I., and of her intimacy with Mr. Brewster.

Lonesome Second Honeymoon.

"She lived right in our home," Mrs. Brewster said, "and at last her attitude became insolent and indifferent. After our baby was born, Mr. Brewster suggested that we go south on a 'second honeymoon.' But Miss Palmer ridiculed our plans in the presence of both of us and tried to discourage my husband from making the trip. I went alone and stayed away there weeks."

Mrs. Brewster said that when she returned she found Miss Palmer still at Roslyn and learned she had not left the house during her absence.

"I was astonished to see Miss Palmer comb my husband's hair and pat it down affectionately," she said. "That evening Mr. Brewster told me he had become used to a solitary life and that I was to occupy my own part of the house with the baby. He told me Corliss was 'attached' to him and admitted he was a little infatuated with the girl.

Eventually was Deserted.

"Just before my return he said she had told him she did not intend to play 'second fiddle' to any one. He also told me Miss Palmer had insisted he should not show any affection toward his wife."

After Mrs. Brewster left the Roslyn house, she said, her husband induced her to return, but installed Miss Palmer in a studio nearby, and in 1921 ceased altogether to visit his home.

In the following year, she asserted, he took Miss Palmer to Morristown, N. J., where they lived for some time.

Losers Refuse Comment.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 8.—[Special.]—Both E. V. Brewster and Miss Corliss Palmer refused to make any comment here tonight on the New York verdict in favor of Mrs. Brewster.

DIAMOND JOE STORM CENTER; HIS OWN STORY

He Finds Politics No Bed of Roses.

Italian girl, 16 years old, and named Carmela Marchese. He was 41 at the time. They have three children, Joseph Junior, 11; Jeanette, 7, and Charles Anthony, 1. Their present home is at 800 South Oakley boulevard.

His popularity increasing as his charities among the poor Italian families expanded, Joe got into politics on a larger scale about 1914. He learned his p's and q's under Jim Marzano, the ward leader. In April, 1920, he was put on the Deneen ticket for Republican ward committeeman, and after a bitter fight defeated Christopher Mamer, the Thompson candidate for the post.

Esposito says that it was at this point what he terms "Crowe's enmity" began. For Mamer was Crowe's boss and the latter had worked for his victory. Esposito was the only anti-Thompson candidate for ward committeeman to beat the Thompson machine in that battle.

Beaten in An Election.

In 1922, the Diamond ran for county-commissioner, won the nomination, but was beaten in the election. With that exception, and the present race, Esposito says he never sought office. In 1925 he received 1,450,239 votes in the electoral college contest, and was one of Illinois' 29 Coolidge electors.

On May 31, 1923, Joe's locally celebrated restaurant, the Bella Napoli, at 850 South Halsted street, was raided by federal officers who arrested four waiters and seized 30 gallons of red wine and 40 bottles of assorted Italian liquors.

On June 3, Joe surrendered at the federal building, and on Nov. 13, 1923, pleaded guilty and a month later was fined $1,000 by Judge Wilkerson. The Bella Napoli was padlocked for a year, and Joe got rid of the place to L. G. Coscioni.

To keep intact a tradition of many years, Judge Wilkerson unlocked the café padlock for one night, Dec. 22, when Esposito staged his annual Christmas dinner to 800 poor Italian children in the ward. Baskets of food, coal, rent money, clothing, and little gifts distributed freely for years among the people of his ward have indisputably enhanced Diamond Joe's popularity in the 27th. Even his political opponents concede his power among his own people.

Esposito was asked what truth lay in the charge that he was utterly illiterate. He answered:

"Well, I no hava da college edukashe. I been a poor man all my life. I can read and write a leetle bit. But no-body can say Joe ever do any-body a bad turn. My frens are da beegest and highest men een da ceety of Cheecago, and I got more frens in my ward than any man in Eellinois.

"I think Bob Crowe, one time my fren, should taka shame to heemself to make creeticize my christening of my bambino last year. I have my good fren Deneen and hees wife, and other frens, and they help me to celebrate. No-body shoulda steeka da knife een my ribs because my frens veesit my christening."

Whether the electorate will find in this catalog of Giuseppi Esposito's debits and credits aught to commend or to condemn in nowise alters the fact that Diamond Joe has herewith been given what he has been clamoring for—his side of the story.

Owner Finds Thief in His Stolen Auto; Is Arrested

Gustave Sanger, said by the police to be a well known automobile thief, was arrested yesterday at State and Adams streets, when H. W. Seaman, 1400 East 53d street, reported he had seen him there in his stolen car.

Watch Your Breakfast

Eat food that supplies "balanced" ration after night's fast

HOW you feel all morning depends largely on what you eat for breakfast. Thousands have unenergetic forenoons because of wrong breakfast eating.

To feel right, you must have well-balanced, complete breakfast ration. At most other meals—lunch and dinner—you get it. But breakfast is a hurried meal, often badly chosen.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder, 58% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamines and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

It is food that "stands by" you through the morning. Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. That's faster than plain toast. Don't deny yourself the natural stimulation this rich food offers you.

Practical Tests Prove Devoe Quality

They all say mahogany on the can — but — DEVOE says mahogany on the wood

IT took place before an audience of over 50 paint experts. They had assembled to test without prejudice the relative quality of 8 different makes of varnish stain.

Volunteers in the audience came to the platform and applied the varnish stains to new soft wood panels, which were hung on a rack to dry. Mahogany, Dark Mahogany, Walnut, Light Oak, Golden Oak, and Dark Oak—these 6 tones were tested for color accuracy. And what a conclusive test it was!

The audience chose Devoe Mirrolac Varnish Stain as the line of colors which reproduced most closely their conception of the true hardwood tones.

The Guaranteed Varnish Stain

If you want to do over an old oak table to match the mahogany furniture in a room—if you want to refinish an odd chair, a bookcase, the woodwork, or an entire set of furniture, you can use Devoe Mirrolac with perfect confidence.

For test after test of varnish stains proves that Devoe Mirrolac not only duplicates the desired hardwood tones but at the same time adds a tough, durable coat of varnish. And most important to you, Devoe Mirrolac is actually guaranteed to render satisfaction when applied according to directions.

172 Years of Experience

For the outside of your home, for the walls inside, for the woodwork, the floors, the furniture, there is a particular Devoe paint, varnish or enamel, backed by 172 years of experience. Take your paint and varnish problems to a Devoe Authorized Agent, and get dependable advice.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach trouble.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

COUNCIL TO ASK M. V. L. PROOF OF GRAFT CHARGES

Toman Demands Probe on Cash Paid Aldermen.

An investigation of charges, hurled yesterday by the Municipal Voters' league, that dishonesty is widespread in the city council, will be demanded at the next meeting of the aldermen.

Ald. John Toman, who announced Saturday his intention to call for a showdown on the Better Government association charges against the city asserted yesterday that he would amend his resolution and provide that the league's statements be included in the probe.

He will suggest that the scope of the investigation be as wide as possible. It is the duty of the league, he asserted, to back up its general charges with specific facts.

The league statement declared that a cleanup is necessary, adding that it can be accomplished in two ways—"send the crooks to jail or beat them for reelection."

Aldermen Got Cash, Charge.

In the document appear the following statements:

"'Decorate the mahogany' is the description given by a sitting alderman to a garage owner who had for some time badly needed a driveway permit. The garage man went out, cashed a check, handed the alderman $100, and got his permit.

"A highly reputable ex-alderman says a friend of his was forced last October to pay $200 to a sitting alderman for a like permit.

"Another council member is credibly reported to have stated that for $1,000 he would get through the council a permit for an 'open air garage' nearer a school than the law allows.

$500 for Filling Station, Charge.

"Another alderman, after charging $[illegible]00 for getting the consent of neighbors to the establishment of a filling station, is reported to have demanded and received $500 for driveway permits for the same station.

"Then there is a councilman who is said to have demanded $10,000 to put through an ordinance vacating a subdivision.

"The league is watching with interest the doings of certain aldermanic groups, one of which is in a pleasurable state of excitement concerning the anticipated distribution, through a criminal lawyer associated with a prominent law firm, of $5,000 among certain favored aldermen, for putting through an ordinance."

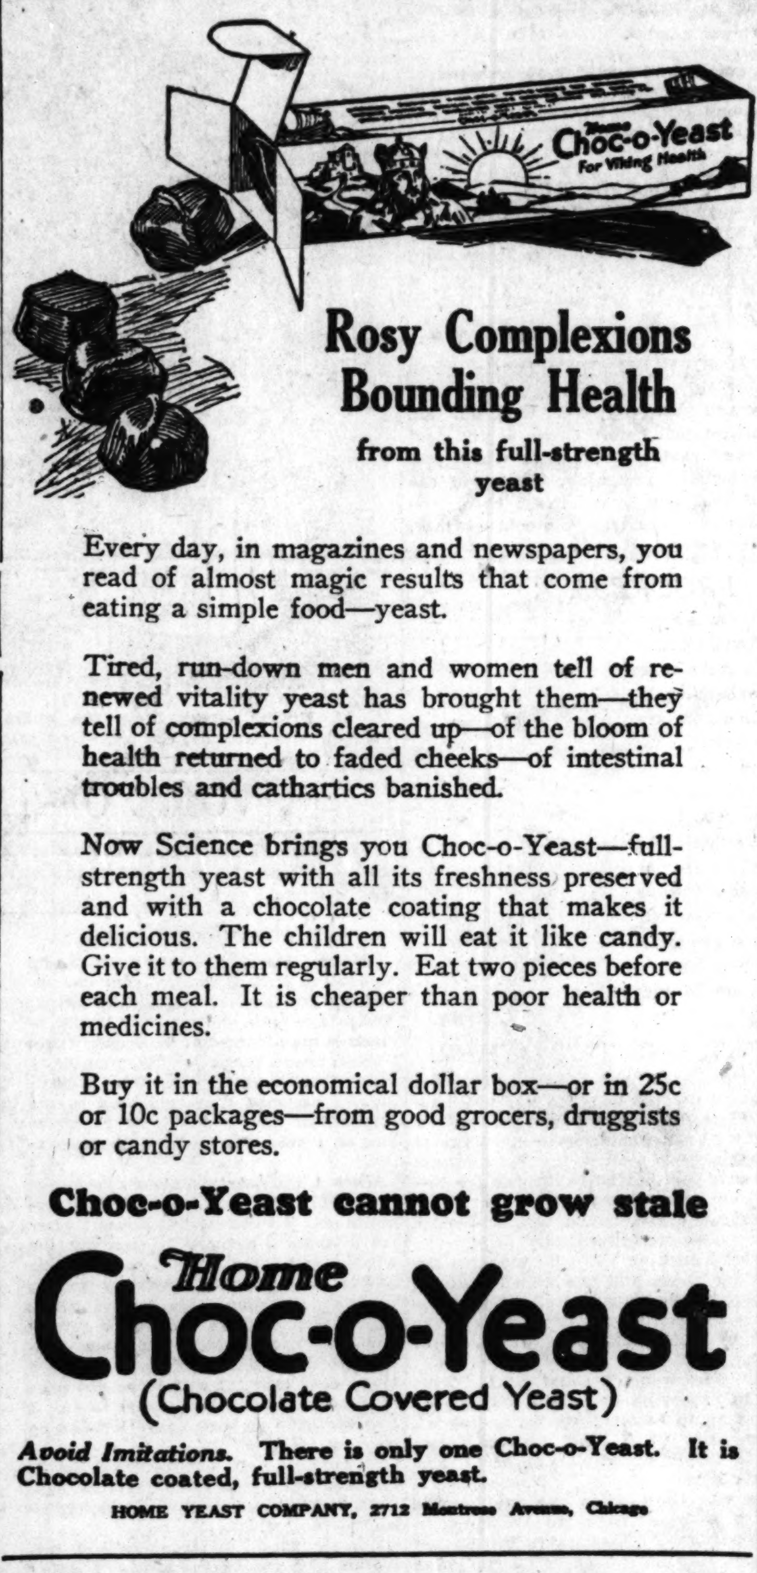
At St. Vincent's orphanage this morning is a baby girl about three weeks old. She was left on the doorstep of a flat building yesterday by a young woman wearing an expensive looking white fur coat and a jaunty tight hat of orange.

Architect's Wife Charges Desertion in Divorce Bill

Henry Lane, architect with offices in the Wrigley building, deserted his wife, Mrs. Cecil T. Lane, more than two years ago, according to a bill for divorce filed by Mrs. Lane yesterday in the Superior court. Lane has an income of $1,000 a month, according to the wife, who asks alimony for herself and six children.

$50,000 Damage by Fire on Wellington Avenue

Damage estimated at $50,000 was caused last night by a fire in a four story building at Clybourn and Wellington avenues, occupied by the Northwestern Terra Cotta company. The flames, which started on the second floor, gained rapid headway and the first firemen on the scene sent in a 4-11 alarm, fearing that adjoining factories would be destroyed.



Rosy Complexions
Bounding Health

from this full-strength yeast

Every day, in magazines and newspapers, you read of almost magic results that come from eating a simple food—yeast.

Tired, run-down men and women tell of renewed vitality yeast has brought them—they tell of complexions cleared up—of the bloom of health returned to faded cheeks—of intestinal troubles and cathartics banished.

Now Science brings you Choc-o-Yeast—full-strength yeast with all its freshness preserved and with a chocolate coating that makes it delicious. The children will eat it like candy. Give it to them regularly. Eat two pieces before each meal. It is cheaper than poor health or medicines.

Buy it in the economical dollar box—or in 25c or 10c packages—from good grocers, druggists or candy stores.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH FRANCE?

The franc has been dropping in value from day to day because the French government has not balanced its budget. A new tax law was prepared by the Briand ministry. It met with opposition here and there, but most observers expected that it would be passed. The emergency was so great, the need for increasing the government's revenues was so pressing, that defeat of the bill because of minor injustices seemed impossible. Nevertheless, the chamber of deputies refused to endorse an important provision of the bill, and because of the adverse vote M. Briand, the premier, and his cabinet were forced to resign. That left France with a falling currency and an international crisis to face at Geneva without a government.

The incompetence of the French government to function in the emergency is striking. In a situation in which we could trust our representatives or the British could trust theirs to forget their quarrels for the good of the nation the French deputies fall down.

It is a paradox. The French, whose self-sacrificing patriotism in war time is the marvel of the world, fail miserably to yield a centime for the sake of their country in time of peace. They appear willing to go down with their country to financial ruin rather than assume a new tax burden.

There is no lack of intelligence in France and no lack of patriotic feeling. Perhaps the failure of the French government may be attributed to the fact that so much of the best blood and brains of the country goes into the army. Government and business get what is left. The French army has the best high command in the world. In the last war the French general staff was supreme among the allies because it was best. The French had enough competent officers to direct their own forces and enough left over to lend to their allies. Not one of our regiments in the war could have done as well as it did but for the help given by the French officers assigned to our staff and to the units in the field. The debt of the British to France's officers is only less than ours. A nation cannot concentrate its best brains in one profession without weakening itself in others.

That is not the whole story, however. The French government ever since the establishment of the present republic has been a government of parliamentary blocs coöperating temporarily. The system makes a virtue of factionalism. The government is likely to be weakest when the greatest strain is put upon it, as at present. The more pressing the problem the more likely that each faction will have its own solution, to which it clings though the heavens fall. Happily for us, our tradition is different. Our country has adhered closely to the two party system, which we learned from the British. We have departed from it from time to time, but seldom for long.

The Anglo-American tradition of government is different from the French in another respect, which applies to the present situation with even greater force. The Frenchman has never outgrown the conviction that taxation is the business of despots. In England it is centuries since the king could, by his own will, enact tax laws. Through those centuries of experience the British taxpayer gradually acquired the conviction that he was taxing himself, and behaved accordingly. He learned to pay. He may not have enjoyed meeting the exactions of the treasury, but he met them in the conviction that they were for his own good. We inherited that tradition. In France, on the other hand, the last vestiges of tyrannical taxation were not wiped out until the revolution. The Frenchman still carries in the back of his head the notion that the taxes he pays are forced from him for the good of some one else. That is the explanation of the wholesale tax evasion in a country where commercial honor is maintained at a high level. It is also the explanation of the great difficulty experienced by the government in levying taxes upon the peasants, a prosperous class whose members have the revolution to thank for title to their lands. They wrested their acres from a tyrannous government and they do not propose to allow the old tyranny to be revived through taxpaying.

A striking fact in connection with the fall of the Briand ministry has been the calm prevailing throughout France, and particularly in Paris. It may not last, but as long as it continues it furnishes proof that the French people are not greatly disturbed over the crisis. They are used to these upsets, and at the moment their country is prosperous. The temper of public opinion may change when the full effect of the franc's collapse is felt in higher living costs. Wages never can keep pace with a rapidly falling currency.

ANOTHER STRAW ADDED TO THE MEXICAN SITUATION.

A new strain has been thrown on the already none too firm tie that unites diplomatically the United States and Mexico. The sudden desertion by Dr. Rodrigo Octavio of Brazil of his post as neutral chairman of the commission called to adjudicate American losses in Mexican revolutions comes at an inauspicious moment.

Judge Ernest B. Perry, American representative, has been forced to declare that the failure of the commission, because of Dr. Octavio's action, amounts to a nullification of the convention agreement whereby the United States recognized the Mexican government.

Coming on top of the discord over the Mexican land laws, with their threatened confiscation of American property, and the expulsion of all foreign clerics and missionaries from Mexico, the failure to settle the American claims is unfortunate.

The Mexican question is at bottom a conflict between two principles of human nature. North of the Rio Grande is an energetic, well governed, intelligent, aggressive people. To the south is a nation suffering from the effects of peonage, chronically in a state of unrest, largely illiterate, and incapable of developing the country's great resources. The drift from the north across the border to the south is as ponderably inexorable as were the great drifts of the glacial age. Combating this irrestible force is the natural desire of a people to govern itself, to enjoy its own natural benefits, without interference from without.

Only constant effort on the part of both nations is able to prevent such a situation from fulminating again as it has many times in the past. There were causes enough already, making the present situation serious, without this newest one of the failure of the claims commission, to cause additional aggravation.

VERA MAY STAY.

Federal Judge William Bondy held that Vera, countess of Cathcart, was eligible to enter the country and she was released from the custody of the immigration officials, who, with a different decision, would have deported her. The ruling of the immigration commissioner in New York had been against her, and he was sustained by Secretary Davis of the labor department. The court holds that her affair with the earl of Craven in South Africa was not a crime under the laws of that country and, regardless of what may be thought in America of such irregularity, the woman could not be excluded because of turpitude.

The impression the incident leaves is that the immigration agents, wittingly or unwittingly, were used in a successful publicity maneuver. The countess has her liberty and her contracts and apparently is delighted, pleased with everybody. The United States has no reason to be pleased by the publicity it has received.

The law governing the admission of visitors endeavors to exercise the right of denying the privilege to persons who, for one reason or another, are not wanted. Every country exercises the right. Most countries succeed in doing it without getting themselves laughed at. The definitions in our law leave a great deal of interpretation, construction, and discretion to agents, and when the case came to Mr. Davis he headed away from ideas of turpitude which might prevail on Long Island and decided to conform to opinion in less latitudinarian sections. Mr. Davis could not see himself taking the ground that adultery was not turpitude. That would help him a lot the next time he was on a political platform. A federal court does not have to listen to the folk back home. The secretary of labor played safe and skipped out for Florida.

The consequence of it all to the country was that again it was paraded before world opinion as a clownish hypocrite—paraded unjustly but effectively. Another such occasion was when it prohibited foreign vessels from coming into its ports with enough wines and liquors to serve the return trip. Europe thought that was a contemptible piece of interference, the more so because of our own notorious rum running and bootlegging. In the Cathcart case Europe had fresh opportunity to find Americans unpleasant people, living in glass houses and throwing bricks.

It does not pay to gain a reputation for such unpleasantness. It affects opinion, increases dislikes, and creates a susceptibility to other and more serious trouble. National antipathies have a great deal to do with the conflicts and controversies of nations. People of one country may be naturally derisive and contemptuous of the people of another. This is almost a rule, and they very readily accept evidence as justifying their opinions and prejudices. That is an explosive quality in nationality. If people naturally thought well of each other prudential statesmanship would have an easier time.

We are quite sure that the United States in setting a standard of citizenship for itself can avoid spreading broadcast untrue and unpleasant impressions of its citizenship. Probably in the field in which the Cathcart case figured there will be a line of judicial definitions which will keep immigration agents out of the devices of publicity and out of their own dilemmas, which may be honest and nevertheless stupid.

Editorial of the Day

MUSSOLINI AS A MENACE.

[Brooklyn Eagle.]

In the hope of winning some support for his foreign policies outside of Italy, Premier and Foreign Minister Mussolini is now coquetting with France and Jugoslavia. In his interviews with French journalists he stresses the German menace, a subject on which he is sure of French response. In his dealings with Jugoslavia he emphasizes the necessity that the war victors hold together to preserve the fruits of their success.

Without any encouragement from Briand's peace-loving government he has now thrust himself into the dispute with regard to the enlargement of the league council. He is seeking the support of both Poland and Jugoslavia for his anti-German policies and in return promises Poland Italy's definite support in her application for a permanent seat in the league council. For Jugoslavia it is enough that he promises to support the little entente in its determination to prevent the reconstitution of Hungary or the union of Austria and Germany.

The "pan-German menace," the "dangerous Germanic bloc of 80,000,000," the "balance of masses" are phrases that recur in his interview with a correspondent of the most widely circulated French newspaper. It is an exact duplicate of pre-war talk brought down to date. Mussolini forgets every lesson of the great conflict, ignores every effort to organize the peace of Europe, sneers at Locarno and the league, and preys upon the fears and jealousies of his neighbors.

Let no one underestimate this man's capacity for mischief. He is an able, intelligent leader, whose occasional grandiloquent mouthings are followed by shrewd political moves that show keen understanding of Europe's state of mind. While Mussolini holds all Italy in the palm of his hand the issue of peace or war may depend upon the state of one man's liver.

CLEAR DOWN.

"By the way," said the lawyer who was drawing up the will, "I notice that you've named six bankers to be your pallbearers. Wouldn't you rather choose some friends with whom you are on better terms?"

"No; that's all right," was the quick reply. "Those fellows have carried me so long they might as well finish the job."—Everybody's.

DRAGGED A BEAN THROUGH.

"Sir," said the astonished landlady to a guest who had passed his cup for the seventh time, "you must be very fond of coffee."

"Yes, madam, I am," he replied, "or I should never have drunk so much water to get a little."—The Progressive Grocer.

MILK, EGGS, AND SUNLIGHT.

STEENBOCK, Hart, and their associates continue to pile up evidence that it pays to make hay while the sun shines. Hay that has had plenty of sunshine while it was grass and which is then sun cured has more of the principles which protect against rickets by odds than has hay which grew in the dark, was cut on cloudy days, and cured by the light of the moon.

If any person is disposed to say, "I don't eat hay. Why should I take up my time reading about hay and cows?" The answer is that the milk cow is merely a broker. She is not a manufacturer, in the true sense of the word. If the hay she eats does not contain such vitamines as those which protect against rickets and scurvy and as promote growth, then her milk will not contain these valuable ingredients, at least not in full quantities.

All sorts of proof along that line has been accumulated. For instance, hens that do not get enough sunlight will lay eggs that are deficient in the anti-rickets substance and probably also in the growth promoting substance. Incidentally, the eggs from such hens do not hatch well. A batch of eggs from hens kept in the sunlight will hatch just forty-five per cent more chickens than will eggs laid by hens kept in a poorly lighted place, or a place where the sunlight comes through glass. One of the discoveries is that hens must have direct sunlight—sunlight that comes through glass will not do.

Nor is the protection against the disease rickets all there is to the question. There are several important infections and other diseases in which the balance between lime and phosphorus in the human tissues is the basis of the disease. These antirachitic vitamines have the power to maintain a proper balance between calcium and phosphorus in the blood.

Therefore, as a matter of protection of both the young and the old against rickets, scurvy, consumption, spasmodic disorders, and some other complaints, it is advisable to go back of the milk and inquire about the food of the cow; and to go back of the egg and inquire as to the life history of the hen that laid it. Whether it be a cow or a hen these researches show that the food and the animal can be improved by exposure to artificial sunlight when the supply of sunlight is scanty. We read about exposing hens and cows to 30 minutes of radiation from a mercury quartz vapor lamp on those days when clouds obscure the sun, or dirty air robs the sun rays of all its ultra-violet. Or, if the hay has been cured in the dark, or the chicken feed has not had the sunlight it needs, these needs can be made right by exposing them to ultra-violet light.

Another group of experimenters find that children who get oranges along with their food grow and thrive. The relation between the calcium and the phosphorus in their blood remains proper. Oranges are largely stored sunshine.

PNEUMONIA.

News Reader writes: We would like your version and advice to settle a little dispute on pneumonia.

1. A claims that penumonia cannot be caught from one who is suffering from pneumonia; also, that it is contracted either from a cold or a draught, and that it is not a germ flying around the air.

B claims that it can be caught from one suffering from the disease, by getting in contact with the breath or sputum from the patient. Also, that it is a germ flying around the air, and can be taken on not only from a cold or draught but by a weakened condition.

2. B also claims that the best treatment, aside from the regular medical treatment, is all the fresh air that a patient can be given.

3. We would appreciate it very much if you would give us full particulars on this disease, as it would not only settle our dispute but enlighten a great many people on this dread disease.

REPLY.

1. A is wrong. Pneumonia can be caught from a person who is sick with this disease. However, it is not usually caught that way. Neither A nor B is one hundred per cent right, but B is much nearer right than A.

2. I expect B could be said to be right, though I think his proposal carries a good thing too far.

3. As a rule, there are no permanent after effects, but there are many exceptions. Among the diseases which follow at times are pleurisy, Bright's disease, heart disease, consumption.

Riverside, Ill., March 4.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—What is the necessary procedure to place a person under peace bonds?

1. Must one swear out a warrant, having the person arrested and brought into court?

2. Is it necessary for the person to be represented by an attorney in court? Must they appear themselves?

3. Could the person swearing out the warrant use the name of "Jane Doe"?

4. Is it necessary for the person so placed under bond, to have some one reliable, sign the bond?

5. What is the penalty should bond be violated? G. F. B.

1. Yes.
2. No.
3. We see no reason for it. Discuss the point with the warrant clerk.
4. Ordinarily it is not required.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 9, 1861.

WASHINGTON.—In the senate Senator Foster offered this resolution: "Whereas, Mr. Wigfall, United States Senator from Texas, has declared in debate that he is a foreigner and owes no allegiance to this government——". [Here the telegraph lines broke down between Toledo and Cleveland. Impossible to get any more news on this tonight.]

NEW ORLEANS.—The opinion is rapidly becoming settled in political and commercial circles that Lincoln's inaugural address is a declaration of war. The Louisiana legislature passed a resolution approving the conduct of Gen. Twiggs in surrendering the federal property in Texas to the state authorities there. It is reported that Fort Brown, Texas, has surrendered to the state forces.

RICHMOND.—The Inquirer says: "There is no middle course; there is left no more peace; war must settle the conflict, and the god of battle give the victory to the right! We must be invaded by Davis or Lincoln. The former can rally 50,000 of the best and bravest sons of Virginia, who will rush with willing hearts and ready hands to the standard that protects the right and defends the honor of the south—for every traitor heart that offers aid to Lincoln there will be many, many who will glory in the opportunity to avenge the treason by a sharp and certain death. Let not Virginians be arrayed against each other, and since we cannot avoid war, let us determine that together, as people of the same state, we will defend each other and preserve the soil of the state from the polluting foot of the Black Republican invader. The question, 'Where shall Virginia go?' is answered by Mr. Lincoln. She must go to war."

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 9, 1901.

LONDON.—Gen. Botha and the Boer forces who still recognize him as commander-in-chief are expected to surrender to Gen. French on March 11. The agreement to surrender is the result of negotiations which have been pending between Lord Kitchener and Gen. Botha at Middleburg since Feb. 27. Gen De Wet and President Steyn are not included in the agreement to surrender. The terms are amnesty to all Boers laying down their arms except the Cape Dutch who, while British subjects, were active in fomenting Boer resistance. De Wet and Steyn are specifically excluded from amnesty.

CHICAGO.—Frederic McLaughlin, 22, son of William F. McLaughlin, the coffee merchant, had a hand to hand encounter with a robber on the porch of his father's home, 97 Rush street, and had not a cartridge failed to explode, probably would have lost his life. As McLaughlin went on the porch he met the robber making his escape from the house. The robber placed a gun to the young man's side and pulled the trigger. Then McLaughlin wrested the weapon from his assailant and fired two shots at him as he fled. A confederate of the robber shot twice at McLaughlin and Gen. M. D. Hardin, an uncle of McLaughlin, who had come out on the porch to see what the trouble was, but missed.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col.—The Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus and the Rev. L. A. Rockwell of Chicago started the machinery of the Good Will Temple Mining company after fervent prayer for the success of the venture. From the Good Will claim given to the Lord by Andrew Wharton, the company, composed mainly of Chicago churchmen, hopes to dig enough gold to build, in Chicago, a temple which Dr. Gunsaulus says, "will be such as the world has never before seen."

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 9, 1916.

WASHINGTON.—President Wilson will demand of England an explanation of alleged secret orders to arm merchantmen and the purpose of the armament. The President and Secretary Lansing are surprised at the apparent conclusiveness of the evidence submitted by Germany that orders were issued by Great Britain to arm offensively and attack submarines.

LONDON. — The Russians today found but sixteen Armenians alive in Erzerum out of the usual Armenian population of 40,000, according to information received in Petrograd and sent out by Reuter's correspondent. The dispatch says: "The Turkish inhabitants of Erzerum stated that a few days before the capture of the fortress by the Russians all the Armenians were driven out by the police in a westerly direction, where the Kurds, who had been forewarned, massacred them all."

LONDON.—Berlin reported that the Germans attacking Verdun took by storm the French trenches, 3.7 miles in length and 1.8 miles in depth, on both sides of the Forges brook, below Bethincourt. Paris reported that the attacks in Bethincourt were repulsed and that the French retook Corbeaux woods. This field of operations, which lies west of the Meuse, has been the scene of terrific fighting for several days.

OTHER WAR NEWS.—Vienna reports that the Austrians took a half mile of Russian trenches in Galicia. The Russians continued to drive the Turks back, capturing Riza on the Black sea in their advance on Trebizond and a Persian town at the southern end of the battle front.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY.

Advantages of Married Life, or Why Gentlemen Prefer Blondes.

"I don't give a damn if you do need the publicity, Reggie," said the young bride of the famous moving picture star, "and unless you buy me that diamond bracelet at Cartier's, I'll not divorce you, and that's that!"

. . . . .

"So you're going to Paris?" said her dinner partner that night, glancing admiringly at a platinum and diamond bracelet on her arm. "How nice! Paris is lovely in the spring."

LEE SHELBY.

Useless Question No. 81795.

R. H. L.: By the way, don't you think that many of our so-called hotels might be sticking closer to the truth if they could have those signs in the rooms changed from "STOP! HAVE YOU LEFT ANYTHING?" to "STOP! HAVE YOU ANYTHING LEFT?"

THE OBSERVANT TRAVELEER.

OH JOY! OH JOY! OH JOY! Lovely, beautiful spring, now only one jump behind. A little coldish Sunday and yesterday, true, true, but ah, it is always darkest just before dawn, as the poet Milton has so well said. The cold of which you complained so bitterly yesterday, dearie, is the strongest proof that spring is almost here. Because spring always comes after the cold weather. To be sure, to be sure!

PROGRESS.

We are a race
Of civil bent,
We move apace
For betterment.
The dinner-coat
Bedecks the femme
And who would note,
Or do mayhem?
The kaiserhund
Gets rich and brave . . .
And by the Ourcq
I know a grave . . .
For betterment
We move apace,
Of civil bent
We are the race.

THE SOLICITOR.

THIS, THAT, AND THE OTHER.

To Phyllis: You are not narrow-minded—I rather doubt that you could be when you have not even a mind. When the American government becomes so sacred, and American music—no! dem it! not music, cacophony—so perfect, that they cannot be criticized—and would not be the better for it—we are dwelling in an earthly paradise. And any one but an illogical, unreasonable, muddle-headed woman knows that we are in no Utopia.

To S. L.: 'Tis of such as you that martyrs are made. Too seldom do we find one who persists in his beliefs in spite of the snarlings of the rabble—the canaille—his intellectual inferiors, who prove their inferiority by their snarling. I would that I could know you.

To R. H. L.: Please don't shoot S. L. True patriotism lies in observing one's country's shortcomings and trying to better them by calling attention to them—not in a blind and senseless adoration. S. L. is an admirable character, and has a remarkable mind. MISOGYNIST.

P. S.—Phyllis was right when she said it was more difficult to satirize American things than women—dawggone right. Women are the easiest things to satirize I have ever seen or heard. There is not one good point about them. M.

There Is Much in What You Say.

R. H. L.: Don't you think that the supreme test of Pola and Rudy's love is not whether they can live apart four months and still feel the same, but that they can live together that long? FLOE.

NEW YORK AND LONDON chatted for four hours Sunday night. The transmission was so clear that the sound of corks being pulled out of champagne bottles in London was distinctly heard across the water. When the listeners in New York heard some one in London say, "Bartender, put a cherry in my cocktail," strong men burst into tears and many fainted.

It Was a Strange Noise Anyway.

Dear Dique: That sound which you heard above the roar of bandits' guns Friday morning was Digger Dever telling the world that Chicago has no crime. SEZ WHICH.

WE THOUGHT that noise was made by the Better Government association asking each other where George Brennan's money went.

We Hope Georges Reads This, Arthur.

R. H. L.: And the fellow from Oak Park would like to have his request tied up with the rest of the letters to be presented to M. Georges Morris to kindly reprint the famous Hunchback Linebook of 1924, and fer th' love of Mike do it now!

A. F. HATCH.

We Will Gie You the 1965 Book, Sandy.

Laddie: Gamblin' seems tae be sacond natur' tae me, so I'm gaen tae tak' anither plunge. I've had ten cents laid bye, for a lang time, tae buy a 1925 edition o' the Linebook. I thocht, when I read that a' the Hunchback Books were gi'en awa, that maybe you'll be gi'en awa som o' the 1925 editions next year at this time. GREEN VASE.

(FOR ELSBETH.)

Lady, I think if you should go
To Tripoli or Zanzibar,
Or Babylon or Jericho,
Of all the ancient towns that are,—

Or Timbuctu or Yucatan
Or Buenos Aires in Argentine,
Or any place that's known to man
The wide, unquiet seas between,—

You might not find in any place,
Though you should seek it day and night,
A vase, as green as this green vase,—

GEORGE CARROLL.

We Did See That Worm.

R. H. L.: If you saw a fat, baldheaded, fuzzywuzzy worm stick out his little impudent head through a crack in a walk at Rush street and if you saw a saucy robin, I just hope that the little fuzzywuzzy worm saw that robin first. Ah—you yourself are King of the Royal Prevaricators, there are no robins yet, no fuzzywuzzy worms; instead—winter—dull—drab winter.

QUEEN MAB.

WELL, we've got nothing especial to do today. Guess we'll go over and see if we can't sell the Art institute to George Brennan. Of if he won't fall for that, we'll try him with a gold brick.

AN AUTOMOBILE PEST.

Chicago, March 5.—Cannot something be done to protect women from the unwanted attention of automobile pests? Yesterday—while on my way home to lunch—a man, parked at the corner where I cross, tipped his hat and very cordially said "Good-morning." As I am in business, I assumed that he'd been in the store, even though I did not recognize him, so I nodded and said "Good-morning."

When I got near my home two blocks away, this man was slowly driving opposite me. I went into the house. After ten minutes I chanced to look out the window and there was the car, with its half witted occupant patiently gazing over the building. He stayed about three-quarters of an hour—once getting out of the car, locking it, and then coming into the hall and trying to force the lower door open. I called the girl next door and we didn't know what to do. I was afraid to go back to work while he was out there.

Finally, he left but returned in 10 minutes and again came into the hall. Then he went again and drove slowly by a number of times.

I never speak to strangers and this moron had me so frightened I didn't think of taking his license number.

We hesitated to call the police because we did not want to make trouble or put ourselves in the way of unwanted publicity.

Madison street, from Garfield Park west, seems to be the happy hunting ground of these men with cars seeking to pick up girls. Why not send out women detectives to help stop this nuisance?

My nerves were so frazzled I couldn't eat, or think straight, worrying that he might return. INTERESTED.

HONOR IN THE COLLEGES.

Chicago, March 5.—When Chicago and Northwestern students deplore the lack of honesty during examinations at their universities they are simply broadcasting their lack of school spirit. A loyal student believes wholeheartedly in the methods and institutions of his university, and he does not seek to corrupt them.

A university is always judged by the character of its students wherever they go and whatever they do. Perhaps, if more time was spent in developing the school spirit of Chicago and Northwestern students and less time in curtailing their personal liberties, every student could be placed on his honor and would enjoy the delightful freedom of a Stanford university student.

During more than fifty examinations, I have noticed one case of cheating, and that was a transferred student who had not yet had the opportunity to learn to love Stanford traditions with the intensity that the Stanford family loves them. The honor system is a successful institution at Stanford university.

STANFORD '26.

SAVING WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 6.—What is all this about "saving Wisconsin" that we have read about all these years? The writer is such a dunce that he is ignorant of what it is all about. Wisconsin is being saved by so many well meaning people, including THE TRIBUNE, that I for one would be tickled pink to know all about this hydra-headed thing you are saving Wisconsin from. For the love you bear Wisconsin, tell us once more editorially about this ogre, so "me and mine can flee" on short notice. We want to be saved, but would like to know if it is a noose you are throwing or just a rope. PAUL TUMP.

NO STRAPS.

Chicago, March 4.—Once upon a time the chief indoor sport of the public was to condemn a fellow passenger for his failure to offer his seat, in the car, to a lady. Now comes a kick from a party of Oak Park, who objects to fellow passengers for their reluctance to hang on a strap.

If the above party will please board an Evanston express at Adams and Wabash on any evening between five-thirty and six o'clock, and locate a strap for me to hang on, he will have made an everlasting friend.

I have been located in this section for about two months, and out of approximately sixty trips I have made on the "L" I have found a vacant strap about four times; and the only time I ever got a seat was on Feb. 25. On that date I learned how King George felt when his father died. Secretly, I felt as though I owed every one standing an apology; not entitled to it and all that sort of stuff, etc.

But I do believe that when a man learns the art of being able to balance himself on an "L" car, sans accessories, the fact should be kept out of the newspapers. We don't want to be compelled to ride on flat cars; the temptation to trip a former cushion lizard would be too great. HAWIRE FROM EDGEWATER.

MISOGYNIST.

Chicago, March 4.—The female is more selfish and lazy than the male of any species. I wonder what the earth would do if the sun granted it equality and the right to vote and hold a man's job, the sun's job at the sun's pay. We would be out in some remote cold region where we surely are going socially.

I am a bachelor in my early thirties and work only about four months out of the year. The rest of the time I play. I am never sick. I have no worries from a wife or family.

I have also accumulated enough money to provide myself with good clothes, three meals a day, and a comfortable room when I get too old to work or cannot get a job. I never spend money or time on women, as I care nothing about them, and I keep my distance for fear of blackmail, at which the female, supported by our damning laws, is an adept.

I have no fear of breach of promise or alimony, as I will never propose, even in fun, let alone marry.

I don't have to bother about a lot of taxes, and neither do I intend to leave a large estate to nieces or second cousins and pay taxes to support a government that functions for women and women only.

If men would only join with me we could surely get some rights for ourselves, and put women where they belong. J. M. S.

OPEN DIPLOMACY.

River Forest, Ill., March 4.—I am heartily in accord with the editorial indorsing the attitude of Senator Norris in his effort to secure the early publication of all diplomatic correspondence and documents relating to the Mexican situation. People seldom learn from experience, all proverbs to the contrary, and some people never learn anything, but those who are capable of so doing have long been convinced of the folly of secret diplomacy.

We want to know not only the attitude of our own government in this question but also the viewpoint of the Mexican government and the motives actuating both countries.

HAIL HOOVER'S TALK TONIGHT AS McKINLEY BOOST

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Herbert E. Hoover, secretary of commerce, is tonight's headliner in the senatorship show. He will deliver the chief address at the annual banquet of the John Ericsson Republican league of Illinois at the La Salle hotel, and his coming has been heralded by the managers of Senator William B. McKinley as an "assist" from Washington to the McKinley campaign.

Word from the capital was that Mr. Hoover will speak on the topic of waterways, and the political camps yesterday were wondering whether he will also utter a few well chosen remarks on the world court question which is the big bone of contention between Senator McKinley and his rival, Frank L. Smith.

Secretary Hoover's appearance is the first in the billing of a new series of notables in Illinois. Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania will move to the succor of Senator McKinley Saturday night at the annual banquet of the Hamilton club. Later on the schedule includes addresses by Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, who has already made one Illinois tour; Postmaster General Harry S. New, Assistant Secretary of War Hanford MacNider, and Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas.

Shipstead to Fight Court.

On the other side, the anti-world court forces are arranging for a great reception for Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota, who is to speak in Chicago on St. Patrick's day. A return engagement, too, has been tentatively arranged for Senator William E. Borah of Idaho for the first week in April, with speeches possibly in Peoria, East St. Louis, and Chicago.

One pressing question which the politicians are expected may be settled within the next week or two is whether Senator Charles S. Deneen will swing any help to his senior colleague.

Mr. Deneen is expected in Chicago in a day or two. As yet he has not indicated whether he will engage in any activities in aid of Mr. McKinley.

Brennan Wins Dixie Support.

Meanwhile George Brennan's candidacy as a Democratic wet of the wets is meeting with great receptivity, even in dry Dixie. Georgia, which became a Sahara and changed its bars for soft drink stands long before national prohibition, is warming up to the Brennan utterances for amendment or repeal of the Volstead act in the interests of temperance and sobriety.

One of the first responses to the Brennan candidacy came from Georgia. It was from Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, who for many years was a member of the Democratic national committee. He wrote:

"My dear George: I notice that you have announced for the United States senate from Illinois, and I am immediately writing to you to extend my greeting and my best wishes for your success.

"As you know the Democratic organization is in a badly demoralized condition—worse than I have ever known it—and unless we get back to the old basis of following leaders who have some political sense—men like you, Tom Taggart, and Norman Mack—we are headed for the eternal bow-wows.

"No man in the country knows better than I do the necessity for the leadership of men who know something about politics, and whose honesty and square dealing is, like yours, unquestioned."

C. M. HAYES PAYS $500,000 FOR ALLEN ESTATE

The Benjamin Allen estate in Winnetka has been purchased by Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, for an indicated $500,000. Benjamin C. Allen, executor and trustee of his father's estate, was the seller. The estate, fronting over 500 feet on Sheridan road and with full riparian rights, is one of the show places of the North Shore and likewise is one of the few larger estates to change hands in the last twenty years.

The improvements consist of what is considered the finest steel and stone residence in the middle west, having been especially designed by Benjamin H. Marshall of Marshall & Fox, architects; a large garage of similar construction, a smaller residence of fourteen rooms, and a greenhouse.

The estate is beautifully landscaped and wooded, and the terraced approach to the beach is especially attractive. With the exception of personal belongings, all of the furnishings went in the transaction and include rare furniture, tapestries, and paintings. The property will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Hayes about March 15.

Elmer E. Stults of the E. E. Stults Realty company and Harold J. Betty of the Harold J. Betty company were the brokers representing all parties in the transaction.

POLICE STATION ADOPTS CHILDREN OF SHOT VICTIM

Capt. Michael Hughes and policemen at Deering street station have temporarily adopted the two children of William (Dutch) Emerling and his 27 year old wife, Sadie, who was shot and seriously wounded Sunday evening by her husband.

Capt. Hughes, with the help of Mrs. Iner Burns, who lives in the rear of the Emerlings at 3821 Emerald avenue, sat comforting Lois, 4 years old, and Mercedes, a year old, yesterday while their mother is in the county hospital and their father is a fugitive from justice. A collection was taken up and enough money was realized to care for the two for some time.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—An appeal from the assessment of additional income taxes amounting to $232,549.32 was filed with the board of tax appeals today by the Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago.

The additional taxes objected to include $229,546.54 for the year 1919 and $3,002.78 for the year 1921.

Deduction as a proper business expense of amounts paid by this bank and affiliated institutions to trustees of an employés' pension fund is one matter in controversy. Another is the amount of depreciation allowed on the bank building.

Affiliated institutions involved in the case are the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings bank, the Continental and Commercial Safe Deposit company, and the Continental and Commercial Securities company.

Builds Up Thin Sickly Children

Children that are weak, undernourished, backward in school, lack the energy to take a lively, normal interest in play and sports, gain ruddy health and vigor by taking Coco Cod, the pure cod liver oil strength-builder that tastes like chocolate.

Coco Cod is a nutritive system-builder of unequalled effectiveness. To the cod liver oil, which is recognized as the most concentrated nourishment known, is added the health-giving vitamins from yeast, eggs, lettuce and spinach. Coco Cod is flavored with pure cocoa, so that children with the most sensitive stomachs enjoy taking it.

Physicians everywhere recommend Coco Cod for its well-known value in the treatment of weakness in its various forms and because it is palatable. One physician writes: "Have given Coco Cod to a five-year-old patient suffering from malnutrition. Three bottles showed surprising improvement. Children will take it because it is palatable."

Begin today—build up the children's health with Coco Cod so they will have a fair and equal chance for success in life. All druggists.

Pickard China Retains Its Golden Luster

BECAUSE it is thoroughly coated with pure gold over fine China, Pickard pieces do not wear off or lose the golden luster which makes them beautiful ornaments on the table.

Of special interest just now is a large purchase of Pickard China, including bowls, plates, sugars and creamers, vases, relish dishes, salts and peppers. These are to be sold at prices lower than usual because of certain imperfections, scarcely noticeable, that in no way impair the beauty of the encrusted gold or shorten its serviceability.

CHANDLER TRYING TO SNARE VOTES, SAVAGE CHARGES

Condemned Before Hearing, Candidate Says.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Joseph P. Savage, Crowe-Barrett candidate for county judge, yesterday fired a broadside at Henry P. Chandler, chairman of the citizens' committee of 200, in which he accused the committee of "deceiving the public by attempting to create a false appearance of fairness" to candidates in the April 13 primaries.

Savage said he received a questionnaire from Chandler dater March 3, answers to which were to be used by the committee as the basis for its indorsements. But three days before the questionnaire was dated Mr. Chandler had publicly condemned him in advance without a hearing, Savage said.

"Who Is Mr. Chandler?"

As a postscrip to his letter, Mr. Savage added: "By the way, Mr. Chandler, I am writing to a stranger. Who are you?" The letter says in part:

"If this request (to answer the questionnaire) were made in good faith there could not be the slightest objection on my part to complying with your request. In view of the fact, however, that you have already publicly announced, as appeared in the daily press of Chicago, Feb. 28, 1926, that you had determined to recommend the Small - Esposito-Deneen-Lundin-Better government candidate opposing me, I submit that your present request shows not only your lack of good faith in the matter, but is striking evidence of the total insincerity of your whole pretense.

Submits Candidacy to Voters.

"Instead of presenting my case to a self-appointed and insincere inquisitorial body, the chairman of which has already shown himself to be merely an adjunct of a political faction, I will submit my candidacy to the Republican voters.

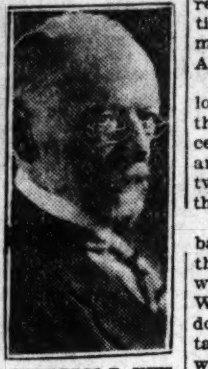
"My standing as a citizen; my loyalty as a soldier to my country; my service to the community in the last four years, as an assistant state's attorney, and my unfailing service to the Republican party, caused a committee of 250 leading men and women of Cook county, of at least equal standing with the members of your committee, to recommend me for county judge to a convention of three thousand Republican delegates, representing every election precinct in this county, and that convention unanimously concurred in the recommendation of this committee."

Maid's 4 Hours of Work Costs Boss Furs, Gems

Four hours after she went to work yesterday at the home of Mrs. Marie Cagney, 5060 West Congress street, a maid named Margie departed with clothing and jewelry valued at $2,300, the property of her mistress.

F. E. IVES, INVENTOR OF HALFTONE PLATE, WILL BE HONORED TONIGHT

Frederic E. Ives, inventor of the halftone printing plate, will be presented with a gold medal by the United Typothetae of America tonight in recognition of his services to the printing craft.



FREDERIC E. IVES.

The presentation will be made at a banquet in the Penn Athletic club, Philadephia. Ernest F. Eilert, president of the national organization, will make the presentation speech.

Mr. Ives invented the halftone process nearly fifty years ago. It was first commercially backed by a Philadelphia firm and the United States government was the first customer. Mr. Ives also invented the intaglio halftone plate, the forerunner of the modern rotogravure printing.

'MIRACLE' TICKET SELLING PLAN FOILS SCALPERS

Seats for any performance of "The Miracle," at the box office, at box office prices, on the "pay your money and take your choice" principle—such is the new order of things proclaimed yesterday by W. H. Oviatt, personal representative of Morris Gest, as the ticket sale for the extended engagement of the specacle opened at the Auditorium.

Seats are available. No one is any longer compelled to edge slowly along the line, money in hand, merely to receive at the window the trite assurance that nothing will be available for two, three, perhaps four weeks. All that is over.

"We haven't released any of this batch of tickets to the brokers, although I suppose Mr. Gest will do so when he returns from New York on Wednesday," Mr. Oviatt stated. "They do a legitimate business, most of them, taking their commission from those who are willing to pay the price because they are anxious to see the show."

FALL FROM SCAFFOLD FATAL.

Marcus Loomis, 22 years old 2838 Sheffield avenue, died at the Alexian Brothers hospital yesterday. It is believed that injuries sustained on Aug. 27, when he fell from a scafforld, caused his death.

LET B. G. A. JUDGE OWN OFFICERS, IS MINISTERS' VIEW

Before judging the Better Government association for accepting money from politicians, Chicago's Methodist preachers intend to wait until the fifty-five B. G. A. directors say what they think about it.

The B. G. A. board meets today. The Methodist Ministers' association met yesterday in executive session. No official statement was given out after the meeting, but it was learned on good authority that the preachers refused to take any action until the B. G. A. board meets.

Thomas E. D. Bradley, president of the B. G. A., and E. J. Davis, superintendent of the reform organization, appeared before the preachers and it is understood that the greater part of the meeting was devoted to questioning them and discussing the propriety of accepting money from politicians.

It is understood the general opinion was that the association had blundered in making charges at Washington that Chicago was in the grip of crooked politicians, bootleggers and criminals. But the ministers were of the opinion that the official's intentions were good.

In regard to the George Brennan deal, the Rev. W. S. Fleming, 3422 Fulton street, declared: "I think personally that I would have hesitated a long time before taking such a $23,000 contribution from a politician. I would recommend that much care be exercised in such matters in the future. However, I have implicit trust in the officials of the association."

Rooms always warm...make wife and children more comfortable—and keep them healthier, doctors say

For their sake change to oil heat NOW

No interruption in comfort when you put in Nokol—as many are doing, this month. This tells why

Two or three months more you're going to need heat. Changing to better heat—during March—is not "changing horses in mid-stream." It's more like changing from a leaky, dangerous boat to one that's fast and sea-worthy.

Oh yes, it can be done. So easily and quickly that no room in the house need even cool off.

Break tradition!

When you realize how simple and how wise the change is . . . then Sir or Madam, you'll break the coal-burning tradition in a hurry.

The day you put in Nokol you're going to have heat evenly controlled. Proper temperatures unfailingly kept, and purer air to breathe. Better health is bound to result. Your own doctor will tell you this.

Savings surprise you

Nokol usually costs less than hard coal—never more. Less, too, than any other automatic oil burner.

On top of this, Nokol saves the average household from $20 to $25 a month—the total of furnace-man's wages (your own time's worth more!), ash hauling and cleaning bills. This is practically enough to pay for your Nokol!

• • • •

Simple but important principles make Nokol quiet, odorless and reliable. They belong to Nokol exclusively—by right of discovery, and by patents. They were approved by leading safety boards long ago—before other manufacturers entered the field.

Not to have them is to miss the full advantages of automatic oil heat.

• • • •

After all, the proof's in the heating . . . in the actual heating of homes. More than 27,000 homes are Nokol-heated today—and have been for periods up to eight years. Two unequaled records.

Get comfort now!

Your ideas of comfort may be changed now—and the health of your family improved—without a break in heating the house. No brick-work or other make-shift alteration in your present heating plant required.

Reduced down-payment and terms now give you Nokol's lifetime comfort out of monthly income.

There is an interesting exhibit here. And we'll gladly send more information at once. Come in—telephone—or mail a postcard.

More Nokols are installed in homes than any other make of automatic oil-burner. And monthly sales to home-owners are today running double those of any year in Nokol history

For Years

Ripe Olives have been a favorite food in California—You, too, should know them

In 1769 the first olives were grown in California. Since that time they have become one of the most popular articles of food.

They have the real olive flavor, for they are fully ripened on the tree.

And they have the added nutrition, too, that only such complete maturing gives.

Easy to digest and wholesome, they are a valuable food and correct for any occasion—formal dinners or simple luncheons and teas.

Serve them often. Note how they are enjoyed. In fact, you will probably find that the children prefer them to sweets.

Ask your grocer for California Ripe Olives.

STATE HIGHWAY ENGINEERS DEFY SMALL ON FUND

Springfield, Ill., March 8.—[Special.]—Thirty-three delegates, representing the engineers of the construction section of the state highway division, adopted resolutions declaring themselves "unalterably opposed" to complying with demands that they contribute to Gov. Small's $1,000,000 fund. This meeting, held in the St. Nicholas hotel, was the outcome of gatherings held in each of the nine highway districts of the state in which the demand was for unified action.

Call Demand Outrageous.

The unanimous opinion of those present was expressed thus:

"That it would be unethical for the engineering profession to make payments in compliance with the demand.

"That the demand for payment to a fund which is obviously for the personal, selfish and unscrupulous use of one man is outrageous.

"That, to date, the engineers of the division of highways have been employed as professional men and retained through merit, and under this system an organization has been built up which has operated efficiently and effectively as demonstrated by results universally recognized as second to none; and that it was the intention of the engineers to maintain their status as professional men and not as politicians."

The conferees were told that a committee from one of the districts had called on Chief Engineer Frank T. Sheets and had told him that compliance with the demand would embarrass some of the engineers. His reply, it was said, was that such men would have to submit to him financial statements proving this condition and showing at what rate and at what dates they would be able to make the payments.

Ordered Into Capital.

Ottawa, Ill., March 8.—[Special.]—Gov. Small's determination to stamp out the rebellion among state highway engineers against contributing to his $1,000,000 defense fund was believed indicated today by orders for all of the district engineers of the state to report to headquarters at Springfield tomorrow.

Reports have indicated that all nine districts have held their meetings and refused to meet the assessment, ranging from $75 to $300 per man in the construction department.

Before leaving for Springfield today District Engineer Matthew Fleming transmitted orders he had received directing all the maintenance force to come across. S. P. Griffin, engineer in charge of maintenance, however, has declined to contribute and will stand with his brother engineers.

ONE 'RARE EARTH' CHEMISTRY KEY LESS TO ISOLATE

Urbana, Ill., March 8.—(AP)—Nearly twenty years of research in the "rare earth" group of the chemical field finally has resulted in the discovery of one of the five unknown but supposedly existent elements which make up all known compounds.

The discovery, the first ever made in America, was announced today by the University of Illinois as the work of Dr. B. S. Hopkins, professor of inorganic chemistry, assisted by L. F. Yntema and J. A. Harris of the chemistry staff.

The new element is known as Number Sixty-one. No name ever has been suggested for it.

In the list of ninety-two known and unknown elements on the earth a place was saved for an unknown element between number sixty, neodymium, and number sixty-two, samarium.

Previously, the newest element was hafnium, discovery of which was announced in Copenhagen in 1923. That announcement created great interest, but the element has remained comparatively little known. Helium is the youngest familiar element.

Whether Number Sixty-one, which is of metallic nature, may prove of high value commercially or otherwise has not been predicted. It may prove to be exceedingly scarce, however, since only one-half ounce remained of the original 400 pounds of "rare earth" material used by the researchers.

FOR Acid Stomach
PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!
Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

Don't mix a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, in the form of a white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

GANGSTER SHOT IN WILD CHASE AFTER ROBBERY

"You coppers will never take me alive. I'm going to pull a 'Durkin' the next time." Thus spoke Stanley Wojtalewicz, gunman and gangster, several months ago to the police of the Marquette station when he was brought in for disorderly conduct.

Wojtalewicz tried his best yesterday to live up to his boast. More than 20 shots were exchanged by him and a detective bureau squad when the latter found him and three companions robbing a flat.

The police shot him twice, but all his bullets went wild. At the Bridewell hospital it was said that Wojtalewicz's career of crime probably is over. His condition is said to be serious. The police also caught his three companions.

Start by Drinking "Moon."

Wojtalewicz and his companions, Felix Lenik, 4434 South Troy street, Alex Niespor, 6518 South Francisco avenue, and George Nauheimer, 2322 South Kroll street, started out yesterday morning drinking moonshine. Late in the afternoon their money gave out. Stanley suggested they "pull a job."

They staggered over to the rear of 1645 West 17th street where Joseph Naumowicz and his wife live. The couple was not at home. Bessie Deozekicz, 16 years old, and Louise Louss, 17 years old, who live on the first floor, coming home from school noticed the quartet coming up the stairs. Wojtalewicz drew a gun and threatened the girls.

Wild Chase Is On.

Mrs. Wanda Dembowski, who was visiting her mother, saw the burglars when she stepped out on the rear porch. She called the police.

Wojtalewicz saw them coming. He signaled a warning to his companions. Through yards, over fences, and running through alley the chase continued. Finally the bandit took shelter under a porch.

Two of the policemen's bullets finally felled him.

MURDER AT CLUB OF RAGEN COLTS AROUSES DEVER

Busch Says Writs Balk Police.

Spurred by the murder Sunday night in the hangout of Ragen's Colts, 5142 South Halsted street, the city legal department renewed its fight yesterday against injunctions restraining police raids.

The Ragen Athletic and Benevolent association, according to Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch, is a typical example of places the police, under a contempt of court penalty, are forbidden to molest.

Two men were held last night in connection with the Sunday murder in which James Thomas, a colored man, was stabbed and shot to death. They are Hugh (Stubby) McGovern, 833 East 53d street, and David (Yiddles) Miller. Thomas identified both before he died, the police say.

"We have been making determined effort since Oct. 1 to dissolve injunctions of that kind," Mr. Busch declared. "Within the next two or three months we hope to clean all of them up and prevent the issuance of any more, except in very extraordinary cases."

Within the last few weeks Mr. Busch reported injunctions against the following places have been revoked: Belle Plaine Athletic club, 3947 Lincoln avenue; Swedish-American club, 752 Barry avenue; Roosevelt Road Athletic club, 3437 West Roosevelt road, and the Italian Fellowship club, 82 North Clark street.

WORTHINGTON GIRL AMUSED AT WILL THEFT

Alice Worthington, 22 years old and blondely attractive, was skeptical yesterday about several features of the mysterious burglary of which Attorney Robert L. Cohan said he was the victim. She discussed the latest phase in the hunt for the fortune left, according to the barrister, by the late Wolf of La Salle Street, who died in a federal cell at Atlanta on March 2.

Yesterday the phone rang in the detective bureau and an excited voice said:

"I'm Attorney Cohan, room 1409 Ashland block. My desk has been robbed of the $3,500,000 will left by John W. Worthington. Hurry!"

Five Detectives on Job.

Five officers strolled over. They were Detective Sergeants Lawrence McCarthy, Frank Freemuth, and John Leyendecker of the bureau and Sergts. David Lindstrom and Arthur Linderman, fingerprint experts.

"I opened the door at 9:15 this morning," quoth Cohan as the sergeants surveyed the littered office. "Margaret Fowler, the office girl, was with me. The shade was drawn. The middle drawer of the flat top desk had been jimmied open. I quickly searched and found that the will, three blank checks signed by Worthington, and $150 in bills were missing."

The outer office door and the inner one to Cohan's office—six lawyers occupy the premises—were intact. There was nothing for anybody to do except take a look for finger prints.

Opportune Burglary, Alice Says.

Presently Alice was giving her version of this weird development to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

"If the will was a forgery," said the young woman, "it had to disappear. No lawyer would want such a thing around. And since I have parted company with Cohan in the matter of settling my father's estate—well, it's certainly a most accommodating burglar to make off with the will before a handwriting expert could examine it.

"And those vanished blank checks. Funny that the ones made out to me for immense sums of worthless foreign money were not stolen, but only those left blank and signed by my father. You see, he might have a few dimes in some foreign bank—and the burglar could use the three completely blank orders by simply filling in a name and the amount.

Kidded Cohan, She Says.

"Incidentally, everything in Cohan's possession, except my father's letters to him, belong to me. I have retained William Cunnea, an attorney in the Burnham building, to handle my case, and about the first thing he's going to do is demand all my papers from Cohan.

"Here's the humorous part of the whole affair. My father—I have to admit—would rather kid somebody out of a dime than earn a dollar. He kidded Cohan along for years by solemnly promising to take care of him in his will out of his boundless hidden wealth. After Cohan would leave the room, the old Wolf, as you call him would laugh until he cried.

"The only estate my father left is in the hands of the Central Trust company, as receiver, and I am the sole heir."

STUDENT URGES NEW OFFICE OF EXPERT ON BAIL

Creation of the office of bail commissioner was advocated yesterday in a thesis by Dr. Arthur L. Beeley, a student in the school of social service administration, made public by the University of Chicago.

"The incumbent of the office of bail commissioner," said the anouncement by the university, "should be appointed by and responsible to the courts. Such an authority could serve both the city and county criminal courts in the matter of scrutinizing all bail security, licensing of professional bondsmen, prosecuting bond forfeitures, and in a continuous investigation and report of the working of the bail system.

"He advocates further the creation of a joint administrative council.

"This council would include the following public officials:

"The presiding judge of the Criminal court of Cook county, the chief justice of the Municipal court of Chicago, the presiding judge of the Juvenile court of Cook county, the state's attorney of Cook county, the city attorney of Chicago, the sheriff of Cook county, the chief of police of Chicago, the superintendent of the Cook county jail, and the superintendent of the Chicago house of correction."

In his study of jail conditions, Dr. Beeley pronounced "at least 65" of the 225 cases studied as "needlessly imprisoned while awaiting final court action."

The Danger of "Friendly" Medical Advice

An authority who has had unusual opportunity to study the effects of various medicines and medical preparations on different people warns against taking of medicines because of the testimonials of others or upon the advice of any one other than a physician.

He states that the individual who desires to medicate himself should know that the human body is a complex aggregate of cells "the functions of which may be interfered with in many ways, and that no two organisms will react exactly alike under given conditions."

That fact is one of the reasons why it is often dangerous to take seriously the claims made for various preparations and bears out our repeated contention that "whenever you are ill enough to require medicine you are ill enough to need the physician's advice."

Bring us your prescriptions. That is the best way to uphold your physician's good work.

BOTH SIDES GIRD FOR BATTLE OVER WATER DIVERSION

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—Oral argument in the United States Supreme court on the joint petition of the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio, and Pennsylvania for an injunction to restrain the further diversion of Lake Michigan water into the Chicago drainage canal, originally set for today, will not be reached before Wednesday afternoon.

All preliminaries to the final hearing were cleared away today, however, when Illinois, the Chicago sanitary district and their allies in defense of the withdrawal for sanitary and waterway purposes—Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Louisiana—filed formal reply briefs summarizing their pleas for dismissal of the petition.

At the same time other briefs were filed by New York, Michigan, and Indiana, contending that neither congress nor the war department has any right to permit the diversion of water from one watershed to another.

Contention of Illinois.

In the reply brief filed for the state of Illinois Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom urges as major causes for dismissal of the injunction petition the following:

1. It is a suit in the name of states and navigation, but in the interest of individuals and probably of Canadian hydro-electric power.

2. It is in no sense a suit between states. It is a controversy between economic areas, one of which crosses an international boundary. Its bearings are all political and its determination is peculiarly a function of congress and not of the United States Supreme court.

3. It addresses a fundamental and intricate national problem, capable of many solutions which would be beneficial to the general good, and seeks to restrict its determination to a single solution, inimical to the general good and beneficial to a single economic area and particular private interests.

4. It is an attempt to coerce the discretion of the legislative and executive departments of government and to embarrass and control the negotiations of the government with a foreign state.

5. The petition fails in every juridical requirement. It shows no right, no wrongful act, no injury. It is brought by the wrong parties complainant.

Ignores Water Diversion.

War department engineers, after a careful study of the Putnam report on the cost of improving the Illinois link of the Mississippi waterway, have decided to ignore the Lake Michigan water diversion controversy, it was reported at the war department tonight.

It is understood that the engineers plan to report to congress on the costs of improving the river with various water diversions and with either two or four locks. No recommendations on the flow necessary from Lake Michigan to make the river navigable will be made, it is said.

The contention of the engineers being that if congress authorizes a waterway it naturally follows that water will be provided to operate it.

According to information circulated tonight, Maj. Rufus W. Putnam, district engineer at Chicago, recommended the elimination of the locks at La Grange and Kampsville. He would retain the McHenry and Copperas creek locks, however, according to reports.

HAMMOND BACKS CHICAGO

The state of Indiana has been urged by the Hammond chamber of commerce to drop its suit against the sanitary district of Chicago to prevent the withdrawal of 10,000 cubic feet of water per second for sewage purposes. The plea is made on the grounds that such diversion of water is essential to the health of northern Indiana towns.

The Hammond association, through its secretary manager, R. G. Brusch, pointed out that the proposed inland waterway development, in which northern Indiana would benefit greatly, would be seriously hampered, should the flow of water be restricted. The plea is made in a letter to Attorney General A. L. Gilliam of Indiana.

CONGRESS BODY WILL TAKE BIDS ON SHOALS LEASE

Coolidge Program Is Approved.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—Administration forces scored another victory today when the senate, by a vote of 51 to 26, adopted the house resolution providing for a joint commission of three senators and three representatives to receive bids for the leasing of Muscle Shoals to private interests.

The terms of the lease will be similar to those of Henery Ford's offer except that the maximum period is 50 instead of 100 years.

The commission must report back to congress not later than April 26. Any lease which is proposed must then receive congressional approval to be accepted.

The house is expected to accept senate amendments to the resolution, which does not require the signature of the President.

Appointment of a commission to receive bids was recommended by President Coolidge. The groups which have favored government operation of the Muscle Shoals plants opposed the resolution.

Voting for the resolution were 34 Republicans and 17 Democrats. Against it were 13 Democrats, 12 Republicans and one Farmer-Labor member.

The Republicans who failed to support the administration on the proposal were Senators Borah and Gooding [Idaho], Brookhart and Cummins [Iowa], Couzens [Mich.], Frazier and Nye [N. D.], McMaster and Norbeck [S. D.], Howell [Neb.], Johnson [Cal.], and La Follette [Wis.].

An amendment by Senator Lenroot [Rep., Wis.] deferring from April 1 to April 26 the date on which the commission must report back to congress was adopted by a vote of 50 to 28.

An amendment by Senator Caraway [Dem., Ark] providing that surplus power produced by a lessee must be equitably distributed among adjacent states was adopted by a vote of 47 to 30.

U. S. DEMANDING SOVEREIGNTY OF CANAL, CHARGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BALBOA, Canal Zone, March 8.—Following an editorial controversy the Evening Times today issued a challenge to the Star-Herald, offering $1,000 if the latter newspaper proves that the United States is not making the following demands to the republic of Panama in connection with the negotiations for a new treaty:

"The granting to the United States of unrestricted sovereignty over the Canal Zone.

"Would Ruin Panama."

"Panama considers the United States' sovereignty in the Canal Zone will result in the ruination of the republic," the Times says. "The treaty negotiations are being carried on in the utmost secrecy on the part of the United States' as well as Panaman diplomats."

It is reported that the United States offered Panama a lump sum of $25,000,000 in lieu of the $250,000 it is now paying annually for the rental of the Canal Zone.

Demands Light on Case.

Tomas Arias, one of the signers of the Panama independence declaration in 1903, this evening sent a letter to President Chiari, requesting the president to inform the country what demands Washington is making. The natives are excited and the local press is playing the treaty story with prominent headlines.

GIRL ARRESTED ON CHECK CHARGE.

Miss Carolyn Rhenberg, who told detectives she is the daughter of a Rockford [Ill.] merchant, was taken into custody in the Harris Trust and Savings bank yesterday while attempting to cash an alleged bogus check for $45.

WARSHIP SHELLS PERIL WHITES IN CHINESE BATTLE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PEKING, March 8.—Warships from Shantung province today renewed their bombardment of the Taku forts near Tientsin, occupied by the Kuominchun troops of Marshal Feng Hu-hsiang. The fort batteries returned the fire vigorously. The flying shells imperiled foreign and Chinese residents. Two foreign ships were fired at.

Two Shantung cruisers withdrew after bombarding the forts for a while and Shantung forces landed unopposed at Pieting, ten miles north of Taku.

Kuominchun reinforcements from Tientsin reached Taku and a heavy engagement is reported near where the foreign allies landed in 1858. On the other front the Kuominchun has recaptured Machang. Reports of heavy casualties are reaching Peking.

Bargain with Chang.

Emissaries of Gen. Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian dictator, have arrived in Peking and are considering Marshal Feng's offer of the Jehol district in return for the abandonment of the Chihli-Shantung-Wu Pei-fu coalition, enabling Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang to face only the southern armies under Wu.

Threaten New Riots.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 8.—Unless there is a definite move from the foreign municipal officials of Shanghai and the powers' representatives in Peking in the next two months to meet the Chinese demands for representation in the government of the foreign settlements here, the Chinese plan to stage a big demonstration on the anniversary of the May 30 riots of last year.

$184,800,000 construction—proof of Coral Gables' prosperity

CONSTRUCTION is more than a symbol of growth and activity. It is the guarantee of prosperity. The following facts are Miami's answers to the propaganda put out by bankers, realtors and city officials in various parts of the country to stop the flow of capital to Florida for investment. Read them.

Outside capital is engaged in construction operations at Coral Gables to the extent of $184,800,000. These figures cover actual construction and building programs of 219 contractors. They embrace the completed cost of 1962 homes, 62 apartments and 25 commercial buildings. Twenty-eight of these contractors alone, in work already begun and work planned for early construction, show a total of $124,800,000. Herewith is the list in detail:

Bring Out the Hidden Beauty

Do you know that just beneath that soiled, discolored, faded or aged complexion is one fair to look upon? Mercolized Wax will gradually, gently peel off the devitalized surface skin, revealing the young, fresh, white, beautiful skin underneath. The new complexion is a perfectly natural one, not to be compared with a make-up. The Wax leaves no trace but that of increased loveliness.

It Really Assists Nature

Isn't it better to remove a bad complexion than to try to hide or cover up the defects? This peeling method is painless, for the thin veil of outer skin has no nerves. Nature renews complexions the same way, constantly shedding tiny particles of the surface covering or scarf skin. But in time this process slows up. Then Mercolized Wax, the rejuvenator, Comes to the Rescue and hastens the skin shedding. This is the secret of its marvelous success. So if your skin is old-looking, sallow, over-red, blotchy, parched, rough, oily—the stubborn scarf skin—take it off! Have you pimples, freckles, moth patches, liver spots? Peel them off! Get rid of them!

It's the Sensible Thing to Do

And simple. Just apply Mercolized Wax at bedtime, as you apply cold cream, wash it off in the morning. Fine, almost invisible, skin particles are flecked off with the wax. No harm. No detention indoors. The lively, young, healthy underskin is brought gradually to view—you have the exquisite complexion of robust girlhood—the kind Women Envy and Men Admire—and you easily look from 10 to 20 years younger!

Obtain an ounce of Mercolized Wax from your druggist or department store, use as directed—and join the vast multitude who are praising the virtues of this wonder-working product.

JUDGE MUM AS PRESS IGNORES HIS CENSORSHIP

Confers with Attorneys from Newspapers.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., March 8.—(AP)—With no word from the bench as to the observance or disregard by newspapers circulating in Hancock county of the court order prohibiting the publication of testimony in the case, the trial of Jesse Favre, charged with murder, proceeded here today. Newspapers were in circulation in Bay St. Louis containing portions of testimony developed at Saturday's session of court.

Judge Confers with Lawyers.

Judge Walter A. White, who issued the order to newspapers to refrain from publication, conferred with attorneys representing New Orleans papers before court opened this morning.

After the conference, the attorneys for the newspapers stated that "it is understood that trial of Jesse Favre will not be complicated by raising this issue before a termination of the case."

The attorneys made it clear that they were not speaking for Judge White and the judge later said that he had authorized no statement other than to say:

"I am not going to stop the trial of Jesse Favre to try newspaper reporters or any one else."

The statement issued by the attorneys suggested that "it is probable that Judge White will give no official notice to the publication of the testimony until efforts shall be made to obtain a jury in subsequent trials, growing out of the same homicide," but no such announcement has come from Judge White.

What the Papers Say.

New Orleans, La., March 8.—(AP)—Commenting editorially on the order against newspaper publication of evidence developed at the trial in Bay St. Louis, Miss., of Jesse Favre, the New Orleans Item says:

"The judge's object in suppressing the publication of testimony is to make it easier, by keeping the public in Hancock county in ignorance of the facts, to get an intelligent jury to try another case that is likely to grow out of the same facts. He raised the fearsome suggestion that a guilty man may escape through failure to procure a jury. . . . We reply it were better that a thousand guilty men escape than that the blood bought, priceless privilege of free speech and free press be abolished."

Newspapers in Meridian, Miss., and Mobile, Ala., echoed this sentiment.

Beware the Cough or Cold That Hangs On

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growths.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble, and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga.—(Adv.)

Was It Love—or Fascination?

WHEN one is nearly twenty and wants to get ahead in the world, life as a manicurist in a barber shop is prosaic and dull.

Or, at least, so thought Angelique! Holding men's hands all day long wearied her. Their foolish flattery sickened her. And they were all alike—those men. She began to doubt whether she would ever meet a man she could love with all of the devotion she felt herself capable of.

But that was before she met Carlos. Carlos was an exhibition dancer, who also gave lessons. He came to be manicured every day—and soon Angelique, who loved music and dancing, began to accompany him to dances on his free evenings.

When she danced with him, and the music throbbed and called with its alluring notes, she felt that she could close her eyes and dance on and on with him forever. That was the beginning of her romance with Carlos.

Poor innocent, inexperienced Angelique! How little she knew about life and the ways of men! When Carlos told her one day that his woman partner was about to be married, and asked Angelique to take her place, the manicurist's heart set up a terrific hammering of excitement. To go on the stage with Carlos, and rise with him to heights of fame—she could hardly believe her good fortune.

The fact that Carlos was an absolute stranger to her—that she knew nothing of his past, his associates, his private life—did not enter her excited mind. So when he invited her to his private studio to learn all the latest steps, she fairly flew to get there.

That visit to Carlos' studio was the opening act in a drama that no playwright could have written, that no novelist could have imagined, that no "movie" plotster could have created for the screen.

It was a swift, heart-gripping, true-life drama that was to sweep the highest and the lowest of society into its cyclonic whirl. It was a desperate conflict of human love, hate and revenge that was to seize Angelique in its merciless grip, fling her high into the clouds of reckless laughter, and then hurl her with crushing force down, down onto the rocks of fear and despair.

Never has the terrible price of ignorance been made more vivid, more compelling, than in this astounding true-life narrative entitled, "Out of the Ruins," in April True Story Magazine. Never was there written a more powerful warning against forming friendships with people that one knows nothing about.

Here's Your Opportunity To Win A Big Prize in True Story's $50,000.00 Contest

Three hundred and eleven men and women are going to participate in cash prizes ranging from $5,000 to $100, and aggregating $50,000 in all, to be awarded by True Story Magazine in exchange for true stories. Why not win one of these wonderful prizes?

This is the most remarkable offer ever made. Never was there such a chance for men and women who are not professional writers to cash in handsomely on their life experiences.

Everywhere there are men and women who have lived at least one story which, because of its simple truth, because it goes beneath the surface of life and frankly reveals the joys and sorrows of human experience is more helpful, more inspiring, more powerfully thrilling than any fiction story ever written.

True Story is able to maintain indefinitely its present high plane with the many splendid stories it now receives, but if we can raise the quality of the stories even higher it is our desire and intention to do so. It is the best, most poignantly interesting, most thoroughly helpful stories that we desire, and we do not want a single life experience to escape us.

For rules and conditions of this mammoth Contest turn to page 63 of True Story for April.

Other Heart-Stirring Stories In the April Issue Are:

"Sunshine and Shadow"—With only the dull grind of a factory to fill her days, Tessie longed for something to happen—to vary the deadly monotony of life. Then something did happen. She fell in love with Eddie Novak—and that moment the underworld had her in its grip. A thrilling epic of grim courage that you won't forget for many days.

"Not Always What You Think"—Even a good girl who is fighting alone against the world may find herself forced to choose between failure, loneliness and hunger and luxurious comfort "at a price." Read this girl's story, and then decide whether you would have made the choice she made.

"A Wife's Temptation"—With her husband engrossed in his business affairs—it was during just such a period of gloom—fate introduced another man into the life of this wife—a man who fascinated her in spite of herself. At first she thought it only a harmless flirtation, but—well, let her tell the story. It contains an invaluable lesson for every reader, whether married or not.

Read Also In This Wonderful Issue:

"Flame of Love" "Her Golden Cage"
"The Clutches of the Demon"
"The Primrose Trail" "Blind Ways"
"Wasted Love" "Love-Starved"

The High Ideal of a Great Magazine

As a result, the reader-audience of True Story has grown by leaps and bounds.

Every issue of this great magazine reflects a high ideal of human helpfulness. Its stories are actual, true-life experiences. The good and the bad, the sweet and the bitter, the romance and the tragedy of life of all have their place in this intensely interesting and instructive magazine.

If you are not acquainted with True Story Magazine, a careful reading of the April issue will surprise and delight you. It is now on the newsstands—price only a quarter. But the edition always sells out quickly. Get your copy today!

"I smatched a phonograph record, and with all my strength aimed a blow straight at his forehead with the edge of the record. He went down like a log, and the key to the door, which he held, fell to the floor. I reached for the key and ran to the door. But as I jerked it open, I saw confronting me—" From "Out of the Ruins" in April True Story.

Now—only 23 hours to the Mississippi Coast

Famous All-Year Playground of the Old South

Where you may golf tomorrow afternoon beneath the deep green foliage of magnificent live-oaks and magnolias. Where business and investment opportunities are attracting the attention of the entire Middle West.

Only 23 hours from Chicago—this awakened development is increasing population, developing property values, and creating rapidly growing markets for every business, every product.

Rapid Development
Has Already Attracted Important Northern Capital

Because of its growing popularity as an all-year playground, because of its splendid natural wealth, its highly profitable agriculture, its increasing ocean commerce, its lumbering and fishing industries, the Mississippi Gulf Coast is being developed by conservative capitalists from the North as well as the South.

Purchase of the Gulf and Ship Island Railway by the Illinois Central has given direct fast service from Chicago. Its Gulfport freight traffic has increased 100% over a year ago. The Louisville and Nashville and C. & E. I. Railways have increased their service from Middle Western cities. The Mississippi Power Company is extending its electric power service, and operating inter-city buses. Several large new hotels are being built.

Twelve Months' Season
Year-Round Golfing, Fishing, Boating, Hunting

On the Mississippi Gulf Goast the season lasts throughout the entire year. More and more Northerners, attracted by its accessibility to the Northern Middle West, are coming here to escape the rigorous winter. Families from the South move to their homes on the Coast to enjoy the mild Gulf breezes during the summer-time. All along the Coast are bountiful supplies of the purest soft artesian water.

On this nearest Southern sea shore you will be able to take part in your favorite sport every month in the year.

Four excellent golf courses await you. Three more are building.

Fishing is superb, both in the Gulf and the fresh water streams along the Coast. The Mississippi Coast is the only fishing ground in the country where speckled trout may be taken all the year around.

Tourists and Winter Resorters, Hotel Interests and Builders, Investors and Merchants, Conventions —
An Invitation:

The Mississippi Coast Club, an organization representing all the business and civic interests of the Coast, extends its invitation to all who will join in the permanent development of this rapidly growing country.

More hotels are needed now. Builders are needed to erect apartment buildings and homes. New garages are in demand. Restaurants and cafeterias, more stores of every sort, which will carry the best of merchandise, are needed now in the Mississippi Coast towns.

Investors and business men who catch the vision of the coast's permanent development—as large investors have already done—will profit increasingly as the Mississippi Gulf Coast grows in wealth and in population.

Ask the Mississippi Coast Club for information about the Mississippi Coast as a place for your home, your business, or your investments. The coupon below will bring you the information you desire.

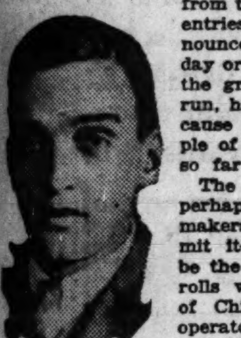
LEAN BILLFOLDS CRIMP CHICAGO DERBY BETTING

Bookies Still Groggy from Hawthorne.

BY FRENCH LANE.



MARSHALL FIELD.

Future book speculation on the Kentucky Derby, usually brisk in Chicago from the time the entries are announced until a day or two before the great race is run, has failed to cause even a ripple of excitement so far this year.

The cause—and perhaps the bookmakers won't admit it—seems to be the lean bank rolls which most of Chicago's big operators of other years are carrying around this winter. The big books are either broke or reduced to a shoestring.

The players, unwilling to take a chance with fly by night operators, are holding on to their money and studying the prices announced by bookmakers in other cities.

Hawthorne Deals K. O. Wallop.

"There hasn't been a bank roll in Chicago big enough to back a winter book since the Hawthorne meeting of last summer," a Chicago operator of other years declared last night. "Every Chicago bookmaker was walloped during that meeting. The ring quit more than $500,000 loser. Then to add to our woes the fall meetings at Bowie and Lexington came along last November and Chicago books dropped another quarter of a million to eastern sharpshooters.

"Only a few of the big bank rolls survived and they have been dwindling all winter long. The racing at Miami has been particularly disastrous.

"It is hardly possible to bet $5,000 here on a race to be run tomorrow at any of the winter tracks if the odds are at all long. For a winter book to lay $50,000 or $100,000 against a few hundred or a few thousand dollars on some of the long shots in the Derby is out of the question. Few Chicago books that would accept such a wager could pay off. And there have been runouts enough in recent years to convince the players they cannot deal with mushroom winter books.

Few Wagers on Derby.

While numerous Derby tips already have floated into Chicago, and there are more than fifteen Chicago owned Derby eligibles, little wagering has been reported here.

Some friends of Marshall Field are said to fancy at least one of the colts he has nominated. Nomad, a son of Omar Khayyam, and Tallwood, by Campfire-Pixy, are his eligibles, and the former is believed to be the chief hope of the stable.

T. W. "Chicago" O'Brien, the big plunger whose operations have been confined to New York in recent years, is said to have advised friends here to have a wager on his Derby colt Timmara.

Another tip came from the Harry Payne Whitney stable connections and was on Macaw, a son of Peter Pan-Polly Flinders.

In the odds quoted from other cities Pompey and Canter are short priced favorites. Little backing has developed for either.

Ray Miller Awarded Decision Over Garcia

Holyoke, Mass., March 8.—(AP)—Ray Miller, Chicago featherweight, tonight was awarded the decision in a 10 round bout with Bobby Garcia of Holabird, Md.

Four Teams Tied in Mileage for Lead at N. Y. Bike Race

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—During a series of wild riding, which lasted from the fourth to the eighth sprint in the six day bike race in Madison Square Garden tonight, the teams of Walker-McBeath, Sergent-Faudet, and Coburn-Petri, stole a lap on the field and went into a tie on mileage with Grimm-Winter for the lead in the long grind.

In all, while the series of jams was on, ten teams were credited gaining laps, but those which went into the lead had previously been tied for first place with McNamara-Georgetti and Golle-Miethe, the German pair, for first place. The standing at midnight, the 27th hour:

	Miles.	Laps.	Pts.
Walker-McBeath	461	8	54
Sergent-Faudet	461	8	54
Coburn-Petri	461	8	48
Grimm-Winter	461	8	18
Bello-Costello	461	7	45
Beckman-Stockholm	461	7	45
McNamara-Georgetti	461	7	45
Lacquehay-Wambst	461	7	34
Roy-Eaton	461	7	29
Taylor-Hanley	461	7	27
Walthour-Horan	461	7	27
Spencer-Benezatto	461	7	25
Golle-Miethe	461	7	23
Stockelynch-Goosens	461	7	22
Kaiser-Kockler	461	7	8
Madden-Fenn	461	6	16

Miss Lackie Clips 50 and 100 Yard World Swim Marks

Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—[Special.]—Miss Ethel Lackie of the Illinois Athletic club, Chicago, broke two world's records tonight at the opening meet of the Penn Athletic club. Her first successful attempt came in the 50 yard free style swim, when she finished in :27, clipping two-fifths of a second from her former world mark, made at Palm Beach this year. Later in the 100 yard free style swim Miss Lackie knocked one-tenth of a second off the former world's record of 1:01, swimming the distance in :60 9-10.

ETHEL LACKIE.

W.W.G.A. to Hold Tourney at Olympia

The board of governors of the Women's Western Golf association held its monthly meeting yesterday and scheduled the major championship tournament for Aug. 23-28, at Olympia Fields. A revised handicap list, based on the new par system inaugurated last year, also was adopted.

In making the change in the handicaps, the following resolution was adopted:

"The new 1926 handicap list has been revised and will be made up of club handicaps based on the new par system adopted last year, plus 20 per cent."

List Ready on April 19.

This follows similar action taken by the Women's Eastern Golf association last year and is expected to work out satisfactorily to all players. The handicap list has not been completed, because some of the member clubs have not yet sent in their reports. It probably will be ready for approval at the meeting April 19.

In regard to the medal play championship tournament, action was deferred until the Midlothian Country club approved June 15, 16 and 17 as the playing dates.

City Meet at Ridgemoor.

Similar action was taken with reference to the city championship meet, which will be held at Ridgemoor. The latter club will be asked to state its preference for either the week of July 12 or 19.

The awarding of the junior championship was withheld until the next meeting of the board. Tournaments were scheduled at the following clubs:

June 8, at Park Ridge; June 22, at North Shore; June 25, at Skokie; June 29, at Hinsdale; Aug. 12, at Barrington Hills; Aug. 17, at Beverly; Aug. 18, at Calumet.

Edgewater wants an open day July 12 if Ridgemoor does not desire a later date for the city meet.

YOUTH ARRESTED CHARGED WITH MURDER OF SIKI

New York, March 8.—(AP)—Martin Maroney, 18, a laborer, was arrested tonight on a charge of homicide in connection with the killing of Louis Phal, Battling Siki, pugilist, on Dec. 15.

Detectives who made the arrest had kept close watch on Maroney for the last two weeks after he had aroused their suspicion by a telephone conversation in a social club. The detectives said that Maroney telephoned a man whom they believed to be one of Siki's murderers. They said they overheard him say. "They're close on our trail, and know who killed Siki."

WRIGHT NAMED PURDUE CAPTAIN

Lafayette, Ind., March 8.—[Special.]—Howard (Red) Wright, star back guard of Purdue's basketball team, was chosen captain of the 1926 quintet tonight. Wright, whose home is at Greencastle, Ind., is a junior. Major letters were given to Capt. George Spradling, Paul Neuman, Carl Cramer, Chester Wilcox, Howard Wright, H. L. Wheeler, Robert Wilson, and Melvin Taube.

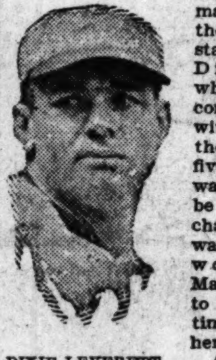
LEVERETT MAY LAND PLACE ON SOX SLAB STAFF

Shows Improved Form Over 1925 Style.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Shreveport, La., March 8.—[Special.]—Pitching strength from an unexpected source may be added to the White Sox staff this year by Dixie Leverett, who has been coming and going with the team for the last four or five years. This was supposed to be his final chance, and the way he looks and works has led Manager Collins to think that this time he may be here to stay.



DIXIE LEVERETT.

A year ago Dixie couldn't get a good start and when the season opened was planted down in Columbus. Of course he was disappointed, but was determined to show 'em yet he is a big leaguer, so he simply worked his head off with that club. It was a trailing club, but Dixie won almost as many games as he lost, and he pitched more than any other man on the staff.

Shaves Off 10 Pounds.

The result was that he worked himself down to fighting weight, and this winter he was careful to keep the weight down by the proper kind of rough outdoor exercise, so he reported ten pounds lighter than last spring and right now seems to have quite a chance to break into the pitching staff, regardless of the presence of two stars, Blankenship and Lyons, who weren't established a year ago.

Although Blankenship, Thurston and Connally haven't yet begun training, the pitching staff of the Sox appears high class throughout. Ted Lyons is here and looking great. Red Faber has been here since the start and is likely to be in shape much earlier than usual.

Jim John Edwards, the southpaw, has shown nice control in his practice work and that was all he needed. Then there is Tommy Thomas, the Baltimore star, who undoubtedly will stick and make good.

McBee Fails to Report.

Something seems to have gone wrong with McBee, the big lefthander bought from the Little Rock club. At least he hasn't reported. Secretary Grabiner will not admit there is any trouble over his contract, though there are rumors to that effect.

Of the recruits now in camp, Carney, the Oklahoma Indian, has shown splendid stuff in batting practice and Milton Steengrafe, the tall right hander, tried out twice before, is an improved hurler. But with such established stars as are on the staff, it will be hard for a recruit to break in unless he is extraordinary.

With perfect weather on tap, the practice today was the best of the spring. Boss Collins didn't put the boys through a game, but he did put them through a lot of work. No longer is he easy with them. The infielders are snapping the ball around with all they have and today Eddie had the outfielders making throws to the plate for the first time. It was announced by Secretary Grabiner that while the regulars are performing at Fort Worth, on March 20 and 21, a team of second string men will be left here to play against the Shreveport club.

MILT OLANDER OR CRISLER MAY COACH INDIANA

Bloomington, Ind., March 8.—[Special.]—It became known tonight that Milton Olander, first assistant football coach at the University of Illinois, and H. O. Crisler, first assistant at the University of Chicago, are being considered by Indiana university authorities for the position of head football coach.

It is understood the appointment will be made this week.

Cubs' Lack of Fight Puts Wrinkles in Bosses' Brows

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Santa Catalina Island, Cal., March 8.—[Special.]—Pilot McCarthy led his Cubs back to their training camp today with the hopes of ironing out some of the defects that hit them between the eyes during the three exhibition battles at Los Angeles.

JOE McCARTHY.

The games showed up the major leaguers to such disadvantage that even the optimistic McCarthy must have had trouble trying to figure out where to start repairing, but he still insisted as he sent his charges through practice this afternoon that he'd be able to whip them into presentable shape inside of another week.

In addition to expressing confidence in his present material, McCarthy also hinted that he might get help from elsewhere, but if there is anything in the minors that will help a club in the position of the Cubs, McCarthy is the only one who knows it.

McCarthy Awes Players.

What made the Bruins look bad at Los Angeles was their absolute lack of team play. Some of the fellows didn't seem to know, or care, what it was all about, which is strange, considering that almost everybody is fighting for a job. Of course, the athletes may have had a slight attack of stage fright in their first series under the new manager. Some of the men actually fear the new leader because he is so stern and outspoken.

The one redeeming feature of the three games was the pitching of George Milstead, the young left hander, in the first battle. He gave the Angels one hit in four innings. The other hurlers were rapped hard, they didn't get snappy support in the field, and the hitters didn't hit as expected.

Bosses Talk It Over.

Coming over on the boat this morning, Owner William Wrigley, President William Veeck, and Pilot Joe spent a couple of hours whispering, but the subject was kept secret. It is a good bet that McCarthy told his bosses just what is needed, but needing a ball player and getting him are two different things.

McCarthy put Michaels at short in place of Shannon yesterday, because he wanted to see whether the former could field as well as touted. He's convinced now, but doubts the fellow's hitting ability, so Shannon is fairly certain of being returned to the post.

Coast Clubs Want Men.

As soon as some of the excess outfielders are tossed overboard it may be possible to get some idea of who will chase the flies on opening day. The Los Angeles club wants to get Jahn, Brooks, Heathcote, or Munson and the Hollywood Bees are buzzing for the return of Lefty O'Doul.

SPEAKING OF SPORT

BY DON MAXWELL.

[Sports Editor.]

What sort of a fellow is Dempsey? To the most of us he's the Dempsey of the newspapers and the pictures. He's a fighting (nonfighting lately) fellow who's been whipping other fellows until he has won a grip on the heavyweight championship of the world. He's the husband of Estelle Taylor, the movie actress. He's Irish and he's had his face remodeled with paraffin.

JACK DEMPSEY.

Last week this Dempsey and this Estelle Taylor, his wife, came to dine at a midnight meal. And the Dempsey we saw and talked to was a different sort of fellow from the Dempsey we had read about. And a more interesting one.

He's not an Apollo, this Dempsey. He's just a broad shouldered, straight standing, pug nosed Irishman. His blue eyes twinkle when he looks at you, and he keeps them fixed on your eyes when he talks to you. The only noticeable things about his physique are his hands. They're big hands and as hairy as Esau's.

He walks with a springy step and seems not at all self conscious.

When he answers your questions he grins like a boy. That's one of the most remarkable things about this Dempsey.

And the second remarkable thing about this Dempsey is the air of frankness he imparts. Maybe its a guise. Maybe he's just a bit smarter than the fellows he talks to, but he gives you the feeling that what he tells you is the truth and nothing but it.

You ask him a question and he answers it without hesitation. And he doesn't boast.

"We're not giving very serious attention to the news dispatches which come in every night about when and where you're going to fight," we remarked. And he grinned and said:

"Well, I guess it is sort of mixed up. Nothing is certain. I don't know myself when I'm going to fight, but I am going to. You can bank on that. And it won't be long until I do, either."

◆

Some one said: "Jack, now tell us the truth, did Carpentier really hurt you when he handed you that one good wallop?"

"Sure he did," Dempsey answered. "But not a whole lot. He just jarred me."

"Well, how about Firpo. Did he hurt you when he knocked you out of the ring?"

"I'll say he did," Jack grinned. "He hit me so hard I didn't know what it was all about for at least three minutes. I just kept on fighting. I don't know why."

"Fighting instinct," one suggested.

◆

He has a sense of humor, does Dempsey.

"How did you like Florida?" we asked.

"I'd have liked it better if I hadn't had to pay $20 a day for a room. The way those fellows charge is a fright. Why, I think I'm lucky to get $1.50 a day for a room in my hotel in California.

"I heard a good joke in Miami. A bird walks up to another gent and he says: 'Say, partner, what's the best buy in Miami?' "Well,' says the gent, 'I guess it's a ticket to Los Angeles.'

"But the prices in Florida weren't anything compared to those in Havana. We went to the biggest hotel there and I didn't ask the rent per day. The next morning I asked the clerk what he was charging.

"'Only $50 a day,' says he. He said only, but I moved those sparring partners of mine within an hour."

"Yes, and the reason Jack gave for us staying there," interrupted Estelle, "was that 'nothing's too good for the wife.'"

Estelle Taylor began talking about the movies. Jack was talking about fighters. He stopped to listen to his wife. When she made a point he seconded it. Each seemed proud of the other.

◆

We read what we've written and we wonder if it sounds a bit sugary. You know what we mean. And that's not the idea we got of Dempsey. The idea we want to give you is that the real Dempsey isn't puffed up; he's not difficult to talk to; and he's not uninteresting.

A likeable, humorous Irishman—that's Dempsey.

BEST OF HELEN'S OPPONENTS QUIT TOURNEY AT NICE

King of Sweden Defeats Prince of Japan.

BY DON SKENE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

NICE, France, March 8.—The international tournament at the Nice Tennis club opened quietly today—a mere ghost of what the promoters had planned. With the club's own Mlle. Suzanne resting from tennis at Milan, the last dream of a return Wills-Lenglen battle here vanished, and with it the high hopes of record gate receipts, a portion of which would have paid off the mortgage on the old Lenglen homestead across the street from the club.

KING GUSTAV.

Miss Wills took a day off today, which hurt business. Frau Nelly Neppach, the tiny champion of Germany and Austria, who was invited to play here by Mlle. Lenglen herself, suddenly this afternoon boarded a train for Berlin, by way of Paris, obeying the ultimatum of the German Tennis federation, which threatened to bar her from ever playing in Germany if she played here.

No Competition for Helen.

Then Señorita Elia de Alvarez, the pretty Spanish champion and idol of the Spanish and South American colonies, decided to scratch, when her father ordered her to take a week's rest.

Mlle. Didi Vlasto, No. 2 in French tennis rankings, was the only remaining big star, and she also declared her intention of withdrawing from the singles. Mlle. Helene Contostavlos, the Franco-Greek sensation, planned to follow suit.

Miss Wills' first opponent in the singles play tomorrow will be Miss Helen Shirley, an obscure English player. The young Californian is also entered in the mixed doubles with C. H. Kingsley, the English Davis cup player.

King Battles Prince.

Interest today centered on the royal battle, or battle royal, in the handicap men's doubles, involving King Gustav of Sweden against Prince Chichibu, second son of the emperor of Japan.

The king playing under the alias of "Mr. G.," partnered with Mr. Steetterwal, former champion of Sweden, won the most overwhelming victory of his Riviera career by beating the Japanese prince and his tutor, R. L. Murray of England, 6—1, 6—1. The latter received a handicap of one point in every other game.

The two royal players presented a vivid contrast. The Swedish monarch, exceedingly tall and serious, played grimly for every point. The diminutive young price from Japan, laughed happily at his own errors, frequently slamming the ball over the fence.

Fight Decisions

At Milwaukee, Wis.—Doc Snell beat Joey Clein [10]; Fred Rudney beat Charley Weber [4]; Paul Allen and Irwin Berndt, draw [4]; Bill Hill shaded Jack Ennis [4]; Harold Wengert beat Irvin Blaetter [4]; Walter King and Norman Benz, draw [4].

At Philadelphia, Pa.—Kid Kaplan and Eddie Wagner, draw [10]; Lew Mayers beat Ruby Stein [6]; Paul Bulotta beat Joe Chaney, foul [3].

STILL CHAMP

JOHNNY MEYERS.

Meyers Pins Hadjick Two Falls in Three

Johnny Meyers still reigns as world's middleweight wrestling champion. Meyers won two out of three falls over Tony Hadjick, the young Bohemian grappler, in the windup of the wrestling show staged by the 202d coast artillery at the Broadway armory last night. Meyers took the second and third falls after the first had gone to Hadjick.

In the defense of his title Meyers crippled Hadjick and in the final fall the Bohemian boy's seconds threw in the towel to save their man from punishment.

Hadjick's Arm Crippled.

Hadjick won the first fall with a stopper hold in 18 minutes, Meyers conceding the fall. Meyers took the second fall in one hour even, applying a double wristlock and hammerlock on Hadjick's left arm. Meyers put so much pressure on the hold that Hadjick's arm was crippled and his shoulder wrenched.

When the grappers came out for the third fall Meyers immediately went after Hadjick's left arm again and after six minutes of milling around secured another double wristlock on the injured arm. Then Hadjick's seconds tossed the towel into the ring.

Logas Pins Katonsky.

Before the match it was announced that Meyers had forfeited $150 because of his failure to appear to weigh in at 160 pounds yesterday afternoon. The wrestlers agreed on this weight, but apparently Meyers couldn't make the poundage. He appeared to weigh 165 or 168 pounds when he came into the ring for the first fall.

In the opening bout Jimmy Logas pinned Pete Katonsky in 23 minutes with a reverse headlock. Joe Parelli and Lee Humbles, the colored middleweight, wrestled 30 minutes to a draw, while Lou Talaber pinned George Peters in 23 minutes with a double wristlock and cross body lock.

About 4,000 fans paid around $6,500 to see the show.

WAGNER BOXES KID KAPLAN TO 10 ROUND DRAW

Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—(AP)—Louis Kaplan, Meriden, Conn., featherweight champion, and Eddie Wagner, Philadelphia, fought ten rounds tonight to a draw. The judges disagreed and the decision was given by the referee. Kaplan's title was not at stake, the men meeting at catch weights. Kaplan weighed 133 pounds; Wagner 135½.

Kieckhefer Beats Layton Twice in Cue League Tilts

Milwaukee, Wis., March 8.—[Special.]—Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago made a clean sweep of his National Three Cushion Billiard league series with Johnny Layton here today. He won the initial encounter in 34 innings, 50 to 18, but had to play 52 sessions to annex the final block, 50 to 47.

Marquette Frosh Track Men Beat St. Johns Squad, 51-35

Milwaukee, Wis., March. 8.—(AP)—Marquette university freshmen track squad defeated St. John's military school of Delafield, Wis., 51 to 35, in an indoor dual meet here tonight.

WOLVERINES TIE FOR BIG 10 TITLE; PURPLE TENTH

College Scores

BIG TEN.
Iowa, 18; Ohio State, 17.
Minnesota, 28; Illinois, 21.

OTHER SCORES.
St. Thomas, 23; Hamline, 20.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 8.—[Special.]—Michigan's basketball team cinched a tie for the conference title tonight by scoring an easy victory over Northwestern, 46 to 14. Northwestern was unable to make a dent in the Wolverine defense and could not stop the scoring spree of the Michigan five.

FRANK HARRIGAN.

Eddie Chambers, star forward, was elected captain of next year's five after the game. Chambers will be the only man on the Wolverine squad with two years' experience, after the graduation of Capt. Dick Doyle and Ginn in June. He played in most of the games on the Wolverine schedule last year and this year has been one of Coach Mather's best scoring threats. His home is in Niles, Mich.

Grab 11 to 0 Lead.

The Wolverines started the scoring with the opening gun and had run up eleven points before Northwestern made a basket. Michigan had 22 points before Northwestern rung up its second basket and by half time the score stood 23 to 4 in favor of the Wolverines.

The Northwestern quintet tightened up its defense a little in the second half, but were unable to halt Reece and Harrigan and Michigan added 14 points.

Reece and Harrigan led the Wolverine scorers, each accounting for six field goals and two free throws. Capt. Doyle, playing his last game for Michigan, made 10 points. Ginn also played his last game tonight, both he and Doyle graduating this year.

Purple's Passing Poor.

The Northwestern five played a fast game, but their passing was poor and they had no plays with which to penetrate the Wolverine defense. White got three baskets and Fisher, Chrisman, and Bush one apiece. Lineup:

The defeat, which also closed Northwestern's schedule, put the Purple five in last place in the Big Ten standing, with three victories and nine defeats.

IOWA, 18; OHIO, 17

Iowa City, Ia., March 8.—[Special.]—Iowa remained in the fight for the Western conference basketball championship here this evening by beating Ohio State, 18 to 17, in a wild finish. Ohio was unable to make a field goal until the final five minutes. With only a few minutes remaining Iowa led, 15 to 9, when Bell, substituting for Dempsey, tossed two baskets. Tarbert and Jeffrey followed with a basket each, but the gun halted the rally. Lineup:

GOPHERS TRIM ILLINI

Minneapolis, Minn., March 8.—[Special.]—Minnesota's basketball team won its second consecutive Big Ten game here tonight by beating Illinois, 28 to 21, in the fastest game played here this year. Illinois, led by Haines, opened up with a brilliant offensive attack in the first half, only to have Minnesota tie the count at 10 and 10 and get on the long end of a 12 to 10 count as the half ended. The second half the Gophers outplayed Illinois all the way and on long shots piled up a comfortable lead. Lineup:

Wrestling Notes

John Wilcox, a full-blooded Indian, who played football at the University of Oklahoma, will meet Pat McGill in the semiwindup to the Mondt-Grenna match at Dreamland arena on March 17. Ned McGuire was under consideration as Pat's opponent, but pleaded for more time to train. Grenna is training at Mullen's and Mondt will be here later in the week to finish preparation.

Waino Ketonen, middleweight, will appear on the card at the Star and Garter Friday night. A match between two heavyweights will feature the show.

Hans Steinke, Giuseppe Massetti, John Freberg, and Charley Leppanen will be among the grapplers to appear at North Side Turner hall, 820 North Clark street, tonight.

Elegant Coupe or Dashing Roadster

The fashionable and dashing high-powered roadster, top down, swung low and comfortably on its long wheelbase, has always been the ideal of motor car owners.

The Coupe, comfortable and secure in all weather, safeguarding the personal appearance of the occupants for formal occasion or business appointment, is the logical transportation means for business or professional men.

And both are combined in this Kissel, with the elegance and utility that only Kissel can give. Either the Six Cylinder at $1695 or the Straight Eight at $2095 represents an entirely new automobile value.

FOR ITCHING TORTURE
Use Antiseptic Liquid Zemo

There is one remedy that seldom fails to stop itching torture and relieve skin irritation, and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy.

Any druggist can supply you with Zemo, which generally overcomes skin diseases. Eczema, Itch, Pimples, Rashes, Blackheads, in most cases quickly give way to Zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear over night. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is a safe antiseptic liquid that may be applied at any time, for it does not show. Ask your druggist for a small size 60c or large bottle $1.00.

300 BIG 10 TRACK ATHLETES POINT FOR INDOOR MEET

Iowa Favorite, but Three Other Teams Strong.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

More than 300 athletes, representing all the Big Ten universities, will compete in the annual indoor track and field championships of the western conference at Patten gymnasium, Northwestern university, Saturday night. Trials in the quarter and half mile runs will be held Friday night. The Big Ten indoor swimming championships will be held at Michigan on the same nights.

GEORGE GUTHRIE.

While several keen duels should take place, the high hurdle race between Werner of Illinois and Capt. Guthrie of Ohio State should top the list of banner attractions. This pair ran a dead heat in the final of the 75 yard high hurdles in the Illinois relays. Each ran the distance in :09 2-5, world's record time, in their trials and duplicated the time in the final.

Iowa Team Favorite.

In the National A. A. U. indoor championships at the Chicago Riding club last Saturday night Guthrie won the 70 yard high timbers in the world's record time of :08 3-5. The Buckeye defeated Morgan Taylor of the I. A. C., the Olympic 400 meter hurdles champion, and Carl Christensen of the Newark A. C., one of the best hurdlers in the east.

Iowa, which has been a factor in western conference track and field athletics ever since George Breshnahan, the former Wisconsin middle distance runner, became the Hawkeye coach, has an excellent chance to win the title captured last year by Michigan.

Sure of Many Points.

Iowa has a sure winner in Capt. Dauber in the shot put. Cuhel, the former Cedar Rapids High school athlete, will be hard to beat in the quarter mile and he should place in the hurdles. Mann will gather ponits in the running high jump and Roberts and Sorenson should figure in the middle distance runs. Iowa won the one mile relay at the Illinois games and will be a strong favorite in the event on Saturday night.

Michigan, Illinois, and Wisconsin are the other teams expected to make a strong bid for team honors, but other teams have not the all around strength to be considered contenders.

Drawings for heats in the dashes and hurdles and pole positions in the runs will be made Friday, when all coaches will meet at Patten gymnasium.

Taberski and Natalie Open 400 Point Match Today

Frank Taberski, world's champion pocket billiard player, will meet P. Natalie of Baltimore in a 400 point match at the Radio billiard room, 16 South Clark street, today and tomorrow. Blocks of 100 points will be played each afternoon and evening.

HOFF'S POLE VAULTING.

CHARLEY HOFF of Norway is not through breaking world's records, in the opinion of the large crowd which attended the National A. A. U. indoor championships at the Chicago Riding club Saturday night.

When the Viking easily cleared the slender wooden bar at new indoor world's record height of 13 feet 6¾ inches he apparently was good for another six inches at least if he tried again. But what was the use? Charley is a good showman. There are other meets to follow and all his rivals had dropped out at 13 feet.

Hoff, dark haired and not flaxen despite his nativity, stands as erect as his bamboo pole to a height of about six feet. In physique he looks like a distance runner. He has well proportioned arms, although not of the muscular type common to weight men, and legs which give an impression of springiness rather than strength.

Hoff started his run for the takeup farther back than any of the others except "Laddie" Meyers, about 80 or 90 feet. We tried to count the number of his steps, but those legs were flashing so rapidly as he neared the bar that we could not keep up. As he leaves the floor his pullup and fling over the top are beautiful to watch. Not once did he displace the bar. His record creating leap was safe by several inches.

The riding club's tan bark arena proved an acceptable place for a track meet. Competition could be seen clearly from all parts of the large building. Attracted by the presence of Hoff, the crowd was appreciative of the various record breaking performances.

"An Impossible Catch."

In the summer of 1867 there was a baseball team in Washington, D. C., called "The Nationals," which played a team from Providence in Washington.

Berthong was catching for the Nationals when Paul Hines of Providence knocked a foul fly 100 feet high which descended about 50 feet from the home plate. Berthong started for the ball and was pretty well under it when he saw a horse and buggy with two ladies in it almost directly in the path of the falling ball. He jumped into the buggy, stood on one foot and made a sideswipe at the ball, catching it with his left hand and ending the game.

Andrew Johnson, then President of the United States was a spectator and congratulated Berthong, telling him that he had made an "impossible catch." It was the most remarkable baseball play I ever witnessed. Can you beat it?

Highway Trees Dedicated to Heroes of War

BY J. L. JENKINS.

The popular East Dixie highway has made a bid as the original "road of remembrance" in the middle west through the planting of 2,500 memorial trees and 137 tablets dedicated to war heroes along the Cincinnati section of the famous southern route.

Plantings were made during the last year by the Ohio division of the National Dixie Highway auxiliary, and follow closely the national highway planting suggestions made by The Tribune some four years ago, when the American Legion and other organizations backed the campaign to line all main roads with trees dedicated to the men who served in the world war. The initial planting was made by the Dixie auxiliary last Arbor day and the first tree dedicated to the unknown soldier.

"To the lasting memory of those who fought and lived, and those who fought and died; those who gave much and those who gave all, these memorials are erected," reads the inscription on the tablets placed at intervals along the memorial avenues. Eventually it is hoped that a memorial tree will stand to the memory of every soldier in the districts planted.

Choice of trees narrowed down, following consultation with forestry experts, to the hard maple, red and scarlet oak, European elm, and tulip tree. The main plantings are hard or sugar maples. Between the permanent memorial trees Lombardy poplars have been planted, to give an immediate effect and serve as nursery trees. They may be removed when the slower growing memorials mature, according to Mrs. Charles W. Bosworth of Cincinnati, vice president of the Ohio division of the auxiliary.

Badger Anglers Plant Millions of Baby "Big Ones"

BY BOB BECKER.

Millions of game fish fry are going to be baptized in the state waters of Wisconsin this spring, with sportsmen in the Badger state officiating at the exercises in many instances. According to the reports from the north woods fishing holes, this year's fish planting operations will exceed those of last year, as an increasing number of sportsmen, fishing clubs and Izaak Walton league chapters realize that only by extensive fish planting can the terrific drain on our game fishes be checked.

The average sportsman living outside of the states where fishing and catering to summer vacationists are "industries" hardly can realize the "more fish-more game" spirit which prevails in these states. We were talking with a group of north woods residens the other day, and the major part of the chat was taken up with plans for planting fish fry and development of hatcheries to produce the fry.

Louis Maier of Antigo, Wis., was telling us that eight or ten cars of fry would be planted in Langlade county alone this year. This is just a sample of what is being done to keep most of the streams and lakes well stocked so that the disciples of Izaak Walton can have their fling with big trout and bass.

There's a little bit of MURAD in nearly every cigarette - but only a MURAD is ALL MURAD

"There's a little bit of WHITEMAN in nearly every good orchestra leader, but only WHITEMAN is ALL WHITEMAN"

It was Paul Whiteman who lifted jazz music into the realm of the classical. So when one would pay the supreme compliment to a dance orchestra, he says, "It is like Paul Whiteman's."

But the likeness is only a resemblance—not a counterpart. Supremacy has no duplicates. Only Paul Whiteman is all Paul Whiteman.

So it is with cigarettes. The highest honor you can bestow on a cigarette is to say, "It suggests a MURAD."

And it does . . . it must . . . if it contains some truly fine Turkish tobacco.

But it suggests MURAD only so far as it contains fine Turkish tobacco. That's why only a MURAD is all MURAD.

For in MURAD the world's finest Turkish tobacco is not used merely as a dressing for other tobaccos. It is the sum and substance of the whole cigarette. Its body and its dressing. Its sole and its soul. In Turkish and in charm, MURAD is nothing else but.

LEGLESS BOWLER AVERAGES 180 AT A. B. C. TOURNEY

Fifty-six Toledo Teams on the Drives.

Toledo, O., March 8.—(AP)—The appearance of a legless bowler on the alleys of the American Bowling congress tournament here today marked the first instance of its kind in the 25 years' history of the congress.

The bowler was Peter Gregory of Detroit. He was entered from the Toledo Rotary club, taking a position left vacant by a bowler who failed to show up.

Uses Arm Motion.

It is customary for a bowler to run several steps before hurling the ball, but this is impossible for Gregory, who walks to the foul line on his stumps.

It is purely an arm motion that enables the maimed pinster to reach the end of the runway.

Gets Average of 180.

Fifty-six other Toledo teams were on the alleys tonight in two squads.

SCHWARTZ LEADS IN PENTATHLON SWIM PRELIMS

Al Schwartz of Marshall took first place in the preliminaries of the high school swimming pentathlon championship at the Covenant club pool last night. Lyle Colbath of Lane was second, Mark Wicks of Senn third, and Edward Knox of Englewood fourth. Fifteen swimmers competed in the trials, which included the 40 yard free style, 40 yard back stroke, 40 yard breast stroke, a 100 yard free style, and fancy diving.

The finals will be run off tonight in connection with the Central A. A. U. swimming championships under the auspices of the Covenant club.

BOWLER TO HEAD SEMI-PRO LEAGUE

Ald. Thomas Bowler last night was elected commissioner of semi-pro baseball in Chicago at a meeting of the Cook County and Midwest Baseball association. The following clubs were represented:

Sinceritys, Belle Plaines, Mason Parks of Evanston; Sterling, Ill.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Algonquin, Ill.; Lemont, Ill.; K. of C.; Glen View, Ill.; West Lawns; Highland Park Elks, Maywoods, Melrose Parks, Famous Chicagos, Lowell, Ind.; Jefferson Parks, Kankakee Legion, Cullen A. C., Niesen's Pyotts, American Giants, Chicago Union Giants, White City, Aurora, Ill.; T. J. Bowlers, Duffy Florals, Chathams, Hartford Giants, Mellin A. C., St. Michaels, Ravenswood Blues, Ellers, Senecas, I. C. Stars, Chicago Athletics, and Michigan City, Ind.

High Scorer of Pro Cage Loop Plays Here Thursday

Johnny Russell, star guard of the Cleveland Rosenblums, is topping the American Pro Basketball league in scoring, according to figures issued yesterday by Secretary Rose. He will be seen in the Cleveland lineup when the league leaders tackle the Chicago Bruins Thursday night at Loyola university gymnasium. Jack Tierney, who has the best average for the season on the Bruins, will have Russell opposed to him.

Chicagos Upset Whiting Legion Cagers, 32 to 26

Whiting American Legion basketball team last night went down in defeat before the Chicagos, 32 to 26. The game was played at the Whiting, Ind., community gym. Lineup:

The entries for the Central Manufacturing Industrial bowling tournament closed at midnight last night. The tournament opens on April 10 at Louis P. Peterson's alleys, 2055 West 35th street.

LANE BATTLES ENGLEWOOD FOR CROWN TONIGHT

Lane Tech and Englewood High basketball teams will fight it out for the heavyweight basketball championship of the City Public High schools tonight at the Tilden High gym. It is the second final game between the schools, Englewood having won the lightweight championship last week.

If Englewood should snatch a victory from the techs it will be the first time in five years that any school has captured both championships. The south siders will have to snap out of their slump to defeat Lane, which has been showing improvement with every game and now is on edge to avenge the defeat of the lightweight five.

St. Ignatius, which Monday called off its Catholic league round robin game with Loyola heavies due to illness of four of its players, yesterday voluntarily forfeited to the north side school when no provisions for a playoff could be made.

Tonight the lightweights of the Catholic league title series play their second round games. St. Mel plays at De La Salle and St. Patrick invades St. Philip.

MAC FARLANE IS LOSER IN FLORIDA; MEHLHORN WINS

Miami, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Brilliant exhibitions of golf coupled with surprises, featured the second day of play in the international four ball tournament here.

In the principal match of the day Johnny Farrell and Tommy Kerrigan defeated Willie MacFarlane, national open title holder, and Tommy Armour, 1 up.

The opponents of Farrell and Kerrigan tomorrow will be MacDonald Smith, western open champion, and "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, who survived the match with Bobby Cruickshank and Al Espinosa, 4 and 3. Leo Diegal and Gene Sarazen, one of the favorite pairs of the tourney, defeated Joe Kirkwood and Joe Turnsea, 2 and 1.

The only walkaway was the 7 and 6 victory that Harry Hampton and Clarence Hackney scored over Cyril Walker and Pat Doyle, New York. The semi-finals in the lower bracket will bring together Sarazen and Diegal against the Hackney-Hampton team.

Schlaiffer to Arrive Today; Boxes Friday

Morrie Schlaiffer, Omaha welterweight, matched to box Shuffle Callahan of Chicago Heights at East Chicago Friday night, will arrive in Chicago today to complete his training.

This bout is attracting more interest than any contest scheduled by Promoter Jim Mullen this winter. Bets have been made the fight will not go five rounds, but opinion is about equally divided as to the probable winner.

The bout will mark the turning point of Callahan's career. A victory will put him in line for a match with Bobby Barrett and an ultimate crack at Mickey Walker for the world's welterweight title. A defeat will relegate him to the preliminary class with little chance to climb up the ladder again.

BERNICE WALL MEDALIST IN BELLEAIR MEET

Belleair, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Miss Bernice Wall, golf champion of Wisconsin, led the field in the qualifying round of the Belleair championship tournament for women here today. She turned in a card of 44—41—85, which was two strokes better than that of Mrs. G. H. Stetson of Philadelphia and three over that of Miss Glenna Collett, national women's champion, who was putting badly and took a 47 and a 41 for the 18 holes.

The other qualifiers in the championship flight were: Helen Payson, Portland, Me., 89; Frances Hadfield, Milwaukee, 96; Mrs. Caleb Fox, Philadelphia, 96; Mrs. S. C. Crobaugh, Cleveland, 96; Dorothy Klotz, Chicago, 98; Mrs. W. C. Dennison, Cleveland, 102; Mrs. Harvey Myers, Covington, Ky., 102.

An enthusiasm shared by thousands of men

THERE may be some—probably yourself—who wonder why we feature "Full Havana filler"—so prominently in each advertisement of Robt Burns cigars. Frankly, we're just as full of enthusiasm over the fact, as Robt Burns is full of the best tobacco that grows. And here's the reason why:

There's no need to tell true judges of fine cigars that for sweetness of taste, mildness, mellowness and body, there's no tobacco in the world like that grown under the smiling sunshine of Cuba. In some cigars there may be just a little bit of Havana, mixed with inferior tobaccos to add to size and not to quality. No wonder, then, that we are particularly proud of the fact that the filler of Robt Burns is full, unadulterated Havana from tip to end.

And better still, the Havana tobacco now being used in Robt Burns is from the finest Cuban crop since 1915. You will find a new sensation of cool, free smoking Havana enjoyment in each of the four gentlemanly Robt Burns sizes—the long, graceful Panatela, the friendly Staples, the popular Perfecto and the aristocratic Invincible.

Ideal year-round climate for tuberculosis patients

Mortality rate in Colorado Springs from tuberculosis contracted here is but one per year for thirty years among thirty thousand population.

MORE than a million people in the United States today are suffering from tuberculosis. The arrest or cure of this disease lies in prolonged rest, proper food, dry clear air, abundant sunshine and the supervision of physicians who have made an intensive study of tuberculosis in all its forms.

Colorado Springs and Manitou, nestling in the midst of the most picturesque section of the American Rockies, offer the ideal year-round climate for tuberculosis patients. To this is added the healing power of an average of 310 days of sunshine yearly.

At the proper stage of recovery, this great scenic region offers exceptional recreational facilities such as motoring, hiking, horseback riding, golfing, fishing and camping and also affords the best in music, drama, public and private schools, colleges and up-to-date shops.

Colorado Springs sanatoria and medical equipment represent the latest in scientific research; her physicians are widely known as tuberculosis specialists.

El Paso County, in which Colorado Springs is located and adjoining counties also offer good opportunities for farmers and their families needing a change of climate.

Mr. E. E. Jackson, Secretary of Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce, will be glad to answer all inquiries concerning the city, climate, housing facilities, farming, etc.

At the first sign of tuberculosis you should consult your physician, then, if financially able to make the change, seek climatic conditions favorable to the cure.

He will, upon request, send a beautifully illustrated booklet entitled "Winning Health in the Pikes Peak Region," and, if desired, copy of a booklet on Agriculture.

HARLAN CLAIMS PLAN TO SOLVE SURFACE TRANSIT

Dever, Aldermen Invite Him to Tell It.

John Maynard Harlan, New York lawyer, long in practice here, desires to submit his plan to settle the local surface transit question. He wrote to Mayor Dever that it can be settled without more state legislation.

Chicago aldermen almost have decided that more legislation is imperative, but Mr. Harlan, a legal adviser in connection with the Union Traction receivership, prior to 1907, wrote that at the request of certain bankers he has worked out his plan. "Under existing laws," he said, "and on a basis that would insure progressive extensions and improvement in service, and without any injustice to the security holders of the present companies."

Aldermen to Receive Plan.

Mayor Dever wrote Mr. Harlan, said he would submit the letter to the council local transportation committee with the consent of Mr. Harlan. That has been sent to the mayor. The committee has invited Mr. Harlan to submit his scheme, the nature of which was not disclosed to the mayor.

Among the more pertinent suggestions is the following from Mr. Harlan:

"I believe that if they (the bankers) were invited by the mayor and the chairman of the local transportation committee of the city council to submit a plan for solving the Chicago traction problem under existing law, the bankers I refer to would accept the invitation, and I am sure that if they did accept they could make good, and the problem could be fairly and adequately settled and out of the way by Feb. 1, 1927, and without any legislation by the state."

Raps Many Delays.

Mr. Harlan takes a fling at the procedure which he understands is now being followed. He wrote:

"That situation would be rather profitable to everyone concerned, except the city and the public, patiently and hopefully waiting for improved transportation facilities."

Chairman McDonough of the local transportation has not yet been informed when Mr. Harlan or the bankers he referred to will be ready to appear before the committee.

Theodore Gurney, 20 Years on Police Force, Has Retired

Theodore Gurney, 52, for twenty years a member of the Chicago police force, has retired. Recently he has been operator at the South Clark street station. He became eligible for a pension on Dec. 28, but remained at work until last week, when he became ill. Gurney was secretary to former Chief of Police John J. Garrity and was a veteran of the old 2d infantry of the Illinois National Guard, of which Garrity was colonel.

CITY MAY SPEND $20,000,000 ON WAR MEMORIAL

Is Chicago to have a $3,000,000 memorial to its part in the great war or will it create something tremendously worth while costing, perhaps, $15,000,000 or $20,000,000?

Delay May Be Beneficial.

More than seven years have passed since the Armistice and Mr. Gore says he thinks the delay in erecting a memorial may have been beneficial, since it leaves the way open for a larger effort than might have been undertaken in a hurried campaign for funds.

"Our committee," he said, "has confined its efforts to trying to bring together all interested agencies and as soon as we can have a meeting we probably shall propose that Mayor Dever appoint an all-Chicago committee, which will work out a definite plan.

Sets $20,000,000 as Cost.

"Chicago should do something great and I think $20,000,000 is not too big a figure to set for our goal. Of course, that would contemplate a memorial of utilitarian as well as commemorative purpose, a structure that would be of lasting value to the community."

How Weak, Frail, Thin People Gain Needed Weight and Strength

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets will increase your weight 5 pounds in 30 days or your druggist is authorized to return your money.

No more will weak, thin, unfortunate children cry in protest when the nasty, fishy-tasting, horrible-smelling cod liver oil is brought out.

Medical science progresses rapidly, and now you can get at your druggist's real, genuine cod liver oil in sugar-coated tablets that young and old can take with ease and pleasure.

Even the run-down and skinny grown-ups, who ought to take cod liver oil, because it really is the greatest vitamine food and builder of healthy flesh in the world, will feel extremely joyful when they read this welcome news.

Thin, run-down, anaemic men, women and children who need to grow strong and take on flesh are advised to get a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, and if you don't gain 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for it.

One woman gained fifteen pounds in five weeks, according to her own doctor—another ten pounds in three weeks. A very sickly child, aged nine, twelve pounds in seven months, and now plays with other children and has a good appetite.

Just ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. Owl Drug Co. or any druggist will tell you that they are wonderful flesh and health builders. Only 60 cents for 60 tablets—and don't forget that they are wonder workers for feeble old folks.

McCoy's Laboratory, New York City.

Gasoline and Wheat

No other two commodities have a more intimate bearing on the affairs of man than gasoline and wheat.

A brief study of their price relationship will prove interesting.

The Monthly Crop and Market Bulletin of the United States Department of Agriculture shows us that the average farm price for wheat in 1913 was $.784 per bushel.

These figures show that in 1913 one bushel of wheat would buy 5.28 gallons of gasoline.

Which, expressed in terms of commodity, means that in 1925 one bushel of wheat would buy 8.69 gallons of gasoline—or 64% more than it would purchase in 1913.

In other words, while the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) average Chicago tank wagon price for gasoline advanced 16.4% in twelve years, the average farm price for wheat increased 91%.

Factors which no man can control enter into the business of supplying the nation with food and with gasoline.

Inclement weather can ruin crops and influence prices. A dry well can waste enormous sums of money, which the petroleum industry must absorb.

The flow of crude, like the yield of wheat, fluctuates with conditions nature sets and which no man can control.

Yet the farmer and the oil man are able, within certain limits, to overcome these opposing forces.

Irrigation and "dry" farming have increased enormously the yield of grain in many localities.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), by developing its famous cracking processes, has been able to double the yield of gasoline from a barrel of crude.

The farmer and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) have had to meet increasing costs of production. The price of everything has gone up during the last twelve years.

The fact that the price of gasoline has advanced less than that of almost any other basic commodity is a tribute to intensive specialization in a highly organized industry.

The net result of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) efficiency in keeping down costs and selling prices, is reflected accurately in the affairs of every man, woman and child in the ten Middle Western states served by this Company.

Big Brute

General Motors Contribution to American Industry

Brute in Name—Brute in Power—Brute in Size—Brute in endurance, and built to stand against the most brutal requirements of Man and Industry.

It is a Colossus among the Giants of modern commercial transportation, yet it is operated with the ease of a light passenger car—something that users of trucks have hoped but have never before had.

The motor trucks of the entire world were studied by General Motors engineers in developing Big Brute. Service records covering the past ten years—actually the experimental development years in truck transportation—were gathered from all possible sources.

Big Brute is a Truck Like Men Have Never Seen Before

BECAUSE—it is born of the combined engineering genius of 1000 of the world's foremost engineers—built from the vast engineering experience of General Motors, covering the production of 4,849,485 passenger and commercial cars during the last 25 years. BECAUSE—in Big Brute General Motors has eliminated the vital weakness, the structural mistakes, the engineering flaws previously common in heavy duty trucks, thus giving BIG BRUTE

Greater Power
Greater Endurance
Greater Economy
Greater Comfort

That BIG BRUTE will change the industrial motor transportation of the world, there is no question, hence General Motors Corporation feels that it has made a most important contribution to American industry, and is setting a new record in heavy motor transportation.

Sold Under GMAC Plan

Big Brute, like all other products of the General Motors Corporation, is offered under the liberal General Motors Acceptance Corporation Plan of deferred payments—the lowest cost under which any motor car or truck can be financed on time payments.

Hog receipts yesterday at 63,000 in-

Hog receipts yesterday at 63,000, including 6,200 purchased by packers on outside markets, were second largest since November. Buyers took advantage of the big supply and forced prices mostly 25c lower. Trade, however, improved after mid-session with late transactions strong to 10c above low time of the morning. Fancy light sold late on shipping account at $13.75. General average dropped 20c at $12.10, being lowest in nearly two weeks, against $12.30 the previous Monday, $13.85 a year ago and $7.45 two years ago. Shippers purchased 15,000 and about that many remained in the pens, largely in possession of yard traders. Quality graded good. Last week's average weight reached 247 lbs against 222 lbs a year ago.

Weakness appeared in the cattle market after a steady opening which was followed by a 15@25c slump in medium and weighty beeves. Buyers were more conservative after mid-session, when an advanced estimate of today's run called for 13,000, against 11,233 the previous Tuesday and 9,360 a year ago, resulting in a dull, top-heavy finish at the low time of the day. Quality of beef steers graded better and bulk of offerings were 25@35c above the previous Monday, with extreme top at $11.35 showing 10c advance over last weeks' top. Choice 1,099 lb. long yearlings topped at $11.35, with 1,251—1,473 lb steers at $11.00 the next highest price. Butcher stock and canners were firm. Calves were steady. Stockers and feeders sold stronger.

Lambs Slightly Changed.

With more than 60 per cent of the day's 19,000 sheep receipts consisting of stock bought by packers at other market centers, hardly enough remained for sale to test a Monday trade. Quotations showed little change compared with the close of last week, but were 50c to $1.00 lower than a week ago. Fancy 79 lb. fed western lambs at $14.75 were out of line, shippers obtaining fancy handy weights at $14.25@14.35. Best to packers went at $13.75. Shorn lambs reached $12.00, good 160 lb ewes $9.00, and 92 lb. Nebraska aged wethers $10.00. Shearing lambs averaging 76 lbs. were $14.00. Choice 93 lb ewe lambs sold to a New York breeder at $13.60.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 13,000 cattle, 24,000 hogs and 16,000 sheep, against 9,360 cattle, 21,064 hogs and 13,287 sheep, the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

Selling by the south against spot cotton, combined with the weakness and decline of 11 to 12 points in Liverpool futures, made a weak and declining market, reflecting the trend of stocks. Although prices declined early, a rally came late in the day, which made a close at the best prices, but there were losses of 4 to 13 points on futures and 10 to 20 points on spots. New Orleans led in the latter, showing 18.65c, with New York 19.45c. New Orleans stocks were corrected to show 384,485 bales. Prices in leading markets follow:

PLAN $2,000,000 TEMPLE SHOLOM ON SHERIDAN RD.

BY AL CHASE.

Sheridan road is to have what is claimed will be one of the most magnificent Jewish synagogues and one of the most completely equipped community centers in the country, to represent an ultimate investment of $2,000,000. W. B. Frankenstein, realtor, donated $100,000 as a nucleus for a building fund for the center.

ABRAM HIRSCHBERG.

Congregation Sholom yesterday puchased a site, a block long overlooking Lincoln park, between Stratford place and Cornelia avenue, from A. M. Johnson, chairman of the board of the National Life Insurance company, for a reported $400,000.

Will Comprise Two Units.

New Temple Sholom will comprise two units, one to contain the synagogue auditorium, seating 2,500, and the other a large community center. The latter unit will have a large auditorium, gymnasium, thirty classrooms for Sunday school purposes, kitchen, library, and recreational rooms. This center will be available to various civic and philanthropic enterprises regardless of creed.

"It is hoped to make new Temple Sholom one of the outstanding landmarks in the city," explained Paul R. Kuhn, of the Burnet-Kuhn Advertising company, a member of the congregation. "It is one of the oldest organizations in the city, having been founded in 1867. It was then known as the North Chicago Hebrew congregation and its first temple was at Superior and Wells.

Destroyed in Big Fire.

"This was destroyed by fire in 1871. The second temple was at Rush and Walton and the third at La Salle and Goethe, dedicated in 1893. The fourth was dedicated in 1911 at Pine Grove and Grace. This was sold recently for $315,000 cash, to congregation Anshe Emes."

The site, in addition to fronting 200 feet on Sheridan, also fronts 216 feet on both Stratford and Cornelia. It was bought through Tom Warren of E. A. Hastings & Co. Benjamin Engelhard, president of the congregation, Mr. Frankenstein, and Henry Roth represented the church. M. Gesas, Mr. Roth, and Burton P. Sears were attorneys. R. I. Lowenstein is secretary of the congregation; Eli Brandt is financial secretary, and Philip Spiegel is treasurer.

PROVISIONS DE

FFORT TO TAKE PROFITS ERASES GAIN IN WHEAT

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Buying of May wheat headed by local bulls advanced the price 1½c over Saturday's finish to $1.61½ in the early trading, but when the buyers tried to take profits they found support limited, and with moderate selling by houses with eastern connections the May declined to $1.57⅝, and closed at a net loss of 1⅞c at $1.58@1.58¼. Deferred deliveries lost ⅞@1⅛c with July $1.38⅛ to $1.38¼, and September $1.32⅝. Corn was ⅝c lower with May 77⅝c to 77½c, and July 80⅝c to 80¾c. Oats lost ⅝c with May 39⅝c to 39⅜c, and July 40⅝c, while rye was off 1@1⅝c with May 88½c and July 89½c.

Prospects of a liberal reduction in the domestic visible supply was a factor in inducing buying of wheat early, but after the statement was issued showing a decrease of 1,766,000 bu to a total of 38,925,000 bu against 69,605,000 bu last year there was a decided movement to accept profits, and the market declined faster than it had advanced. Around $1.60 for May houses with eastern connections sold freely, helping along the recession. Foreigners were on both sides of futures at the start with the United Kingdom selling, while the buying was credited to other countries.

Outside Trade Lacking.

There was nothing in the news to account for the weakness in the market but there was a noticeable lack of outside trade, and the early bulge weakened the technical position. Pit operations are largely responsible for the erratic fluctuations. Liverpool closed 1@1½d higher after having been ½@⅝d lower early while Buenos Aires finished 1¼c lower with March $1.31½ and May $1.37.

Cold weather over the winter wheat belt attracted attention, but failed to bring in any damage claims of consequence, and the forecast was for fair with rising temperatures. Export demand was fair with sales of 400,000 to 500,000 bu, largely Manitobas, the bulk of the business having been done on Saturday and not previously reported. Numerous stop loss orders were uncovered on the way down, and the fact that May failed to get above $1.61½, at which the bulge of last week was checked, added to the bearish sentiment toward the last.

Light Trade in Corn.

Trade in corn was unusually small, and largely of a local character with the market dominated almost entirely by the action of wheat and the finish was at the bottom. Spot corn basis was 1@1½c higher with a good demand and receipts of 294 cars. Country offerings to arrive were small. The visible increased 1,335,000 bu for the week, and is 35,213,000 bu against 32,534,000 bu last year. Oats had a range of ½c closing easy with wheat. Commission houses were fair buyers early, and later there was buying of May and selling of July. Rye trade was light, and after a moderate showing of strength early the finish was about the inside figures of the day with wheat.

Flaxseed at Buenos Aires closed ½@1c lower with March $1.48⅜ and May $1.52¼ per bu.

PROVISIONS DECLINE

Lower prices for hogs and corn, combined with hedging pressure and limited support, carried prices for produce down, with the close at inside figures. Net losses on lard futures were 7½ to 10c, short ribs were unchanged with light trading, and bellies lost 12½c to 17½c. Prices follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Small sales of Manitoba and durum wheat were made at the seaboard yesterday, but after including the business done Saturday and not previously reported the aggregate was swelled to 400,000 to 500,000 bu. A few loads of oats were worked, but there was no interest in other grains.

Chicago handlers sold 13,000 bu wheat, 25,000 bu corn, and 71,000 bu oats to the domestic trade, with 10,000 bu No. 2 hard winter wheat in store at 5c over May.

Basis on winter wheat in the leading western and southwestern markets showed no change with No. 2 red winter here 10@13c and No. 2 hard 4@7c over May. At Minneapolis spring wheat sold readily at full prices, as compared with May with shipping sales of 47,000 bu. Advices of shipments from the country were small.

Demand for cash corn was fairly good and with light offerings the basis advanced 1@1½c, as compared with May, with No. 3 grades 5@7c; No. 4 grades, 6@11c; No. 5 grades, 10@12c, and No. 6 grades, 12@13c over the future. Outside markets were 1½c lower to 1c higher.

U. S.-GERMAN TRADE INCREASES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—(AP)—American trade with Germany last year amounted to $634,595,756, an increase of $54,919,370 over the previous year. There was a gain in exports of $29,926,282 and an increase in imports of $24,993,088.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

A government report on farm reserves March 1 will be given out at 2 o'clock, Chicago time, today. Average of the private reports on wheat is 91,000,000 bu, corn 1,303,000,000 bu, and oats 555,000,000 bu. Stock of wheat in country mills and elevators is also to be given. The total of farm reserves and mill stocks is estimated 168,000,000 bu, against 180,000,000 bu. Revised figures on reserves last year are: Wheat, 112,042,000 bu; corn, 759,471,000 bu; oats, 546,656,000 bu. Mill and elevator stocks of wheat last year were 67,622,000 bu.

◆

A number of local professionals were inclined to be bullish on wheat despite the fact that bulges run into selling orders and there is little help from the outside. The inclination is to buy on all breaks, and there appears a dislike to go short of May. A factor in shaping opinion is the light stocks of contract wheat here and cash premiums for the wheat in the car lot, as well as in the market for in store lots.

◆

Some local operators are advocating purchases of July wheat in Liverpool at 14c under Chicago. Statistics suggest a stronger position than existed a year ago, and the belief is that it is relatively cheap, as it sold at 35c over Chicago July last year.

◆

Coan specialists remain bearish to a considerable extent, basing their ideas on prospects for a moderate sized movement. A receiving house here says those having corn in the country are not rushing it to market in sections where roads are good, and in localities where they are poor they are not disposed to offer corn to arrive. Stocks are piling up at terminal markets, with Chicago and Kansas City having around 23,000,000, or 60 per cent of the total visible supply of 35,213,000 bu, or about 3,000,000 bu over last year.

◆

Good buying of offers on wheat was on late in the day by a local professional, who bid them up 1c without getting a large line. It started the crowd of privilege traders to buying and enlivened trading at the last.

◆

Artificial maintenance of rye prices in Germany is said to be meeting opposition. It is said out of a production of 8,000,000 tons last year farmers used 5,000,000 tons, including that used for fodder

PRICES on Miramar Lots go UP!

[Telegraphic options will be accepted until twelve o'clock at present low prices for this beautiful section of Biloxi on the MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST]

THE general rise in land values on the beautiful Mississippi Gulf Coast has forced us to increase our present low prices for the remaining Miramar lots. The advance will take effect at noon tomorrow, March tenth. Telegraphic options with an accompanying deposit will be accepted until twelve o'clock noon. Investors will recognize this opportunity for quick profit.

The new quick transportation to this nearest Southern Sea Shore brought in a wave of increased popularity, and resulted in a bigger demand throughout the Middle West for Mississippi Gulf Coast property. Biloxi is at the heart of this new development, and Miramar is one of the loveliest sections of Biloxi.

All improvements in Miramar, paid for by us, are made on a generous, permanent basis—wide concrete pavements and sidewalks, gas mains, water mains, electric lights, storm sewers, fire hydrants, et cetera.

There is still time if you act immediately to secure one of these remaining Miramar lots at the old low prices. A telegram or phone call will secure prompt action.

The Monument to a Century of Service

Towering skyward, story on story, the CANAL BANK's new home occupies a half-square in the heart of New Orleans' financial district—a fitting monument to past accomplishments; a promise of continued resourcefulness; a symbol of permanent stability.

While the CANAL BANK has grown tremendously, it has not outgrown personal contact with its customers—nor will it.

The surroundings and banking-room conveniences alone will change—this Bank, now as in the past, offers complete financial facilities, and an interested service, to sound business enterprises.

TAX BILL GIVES FOREIGN TRADE PUSH FORWARD

BY HARPER LEECH.

The National Foreign Trade council has been doing considerable rejoicing over the provision in the new tax law which puts Americans doing business abroad on an equality with their competitors by excluding from the categories of individual citizens of the United States who have to pay income tax all bona fide nonresidents for more than six months, in respect to earned income received from sources outside the United States.

O. K. Davis, secretary of the council, writes: "It is a victory far greater than is indicated by the small space this clause takes in the bill. It is a profound indication of the high value we now are getting on foreign trade, and of our disposition to treat as handsomely as possible the high type of Americans now going into it." The account of the long fight and hard plugging which was necessary to convince congress of the equity and necessity of this measure is characteristic of American history in such matters.

In view of the sentiment of so many of our own people and the efforts of our anti-national and anti-business groups, it is really remarkable that we have any foreign commerce at all. It is interesting to note that those who have an animus against our civilization at home also have acute sympathy with barbarism abroad. No sooner had the Firestone interests announced their intention to grow rubber in Liberia than the little cliques of socialists here who have foisted themselves upon various church bodies under various sociological aliases began to agitate against this "imperialism" which may let some light, cleanliness, and genuine uplight into Africa. It is reassuring to note that the Firestone enterprise is going right ahead.

The unfavorable trade balance of last January is warning that no matter how pretty America has been sitting, we are not going to remain on top of the world by merely sitting pretty. It takes an increasing quantity of foreign commodities to keep our industries going. We must sell stuff abroad to continue to pay for them—not all the interest upon our increasing private investments abroad, added to the decreasing returns which it appears we are ever going to get from our governmental loans, will in the long run be sufficient.

So slight an advance of prosperity as that of 1925 over 1924 brought about the following increases of raw materials imports: Rubber, from 735,000,000 pounds to 888,000,000; raw silk, from 51,300,000 pounds to 63,800,000; sugar, from 8,272,000,000 to 8,933,000,000 pounds; wool, from 268,000,000 to 329,000,000 pounds; newsprint paper, from 2,714,000,000 to 2,897,000,000 pounds; furs, from 143,000,000 skins to 160,000,000; tin, from 146,000,000 to 172,000,000 pounds. There were increases in tea, cocoa, burlap, tobacco, cotton, and fertiliser imports, and the only significant decreases were in coffee, copper, and diamonds. Price increases, especially on coffee and rubber, were vastly more significant than the quantitative changes.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS.

[Copyright: 1926: Fairchild News Service.]

NEW YORK.—The local gray goods market opened quietly, indicating a slightly easier tendency. Some constructions changed from Saturday's closing price level. Quotations were: 64x60, 5.35 yards to the pound, 8¼c; 68x72, 4.75 yards to the pound, 9⅝c; 72x76, 4.25 yards to the pound, 10⅝c; 80 square, 4.00 yards to the pound, 12½c.

BOSTON, Mass.—A fair tone prevailed with the opening of the local wool market. Generally stocks are considered low, and dealers and mills are apparently waiting results from the New York goods market and the opening of the second 1926 series London auctions on Tuesday.

NEW YORK.—Advices from Calcutta indicated that the burlap market was up 5 or 6d. Locally business was quiet, but a better tone prevailed.

PIONEERS IN PUBLIC SERVICE

Service to the Investor
Backed by Intimate Experience

LONG and successful experience in the development and financing of utility properties qualifies the Byllesby organization as an authority in public utility securities.

In addition to the securities of Byllesby managed companies, serving a million customers in eighteen states, we offer to investors other utility issues, also government, municipal, railroad and industrial securities.

We are equipped to furnish prompt service in handling customers' orders for listed and unlisted securities, through direct wires connecting our principal Eastern and Western offices.

Our Investors Service Department furnishes dependable information, upon request, on general and specific subjects relating to investment securities. It also conducts an investment-by-mail service of wide extent.

"Scope and Service", our new booklet on the Byllesby organization, and a copy of the Byllesby Monthly News will be sent upon request. Ask for booklet AU-342.

New Issue

Roman Catholic Church in Bavaria
Descriptive Name
(Actually: Gesamtverband der Acht Bayerischen Dioecesen)
6½% 20-Year Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, Series "A"

Dated March 1, 1926 Due March 1, 1946

Interest payable semi-annually March 1 and September 1. Redeemable as a whole on or after March 1, 1931, at 100 and accrued interest. Cumulative Sinking Fund commencing March 1, 1928, sufficient to retire entire issue by maturity by approximately equal semi-annual payments for purchase at or below 100 and accrued interest or redemption by lot at 100 and accrued interest. Coupon Bonds in $1,000 and $500 denominations, registerable as to principal only. Principal and Interest payable in United States Gold Coin of the present standard of weight and fineness at the office of Central Union Trust Company of New York, Trustee, without deduction for any present or future German or Bavarian taxes.

The purpose and security of this Loan are summarized by His Excellency the Archbishop of Bamberg, President of the Gesamtverband or "General Union of the Eight Bavarian Dioceses," as follows:

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH IN BAVARIA: There are in Bavaria two Archbishoprics, six Bishoprics and over 5,000,000 parishioners (approximately 70% of the population of Bavaria), constituting the most important unit of the Roman Catholic Church in Germany. About 36% of the population of Germany are of the Catholic faith.

The two Archbishoprics and the six Bishoprics are as follows: The Archdiocese of Munich-Freising, Bishopric of Augsburg, Bishopric of Passau, Bishopric of Regensburg; The Archdiocese of Bamberg, Bishopric of Speyer, Bishopric of Wuerzburg, Bishopric of Eichstaett.

The "General Union of the Eight Bavarian Dioceses" is an Association of the above eight Dioceses in Bavaria, which comprise the entire Catholic Church in Bavaria, an integral part of the Roman Catholic Church. Each Diocese is represented thereon by its Archbishop, Bishop or his attorney and a lay member. This General Union has corporate entity under the laws of the German Reich and the State of Bavaria and the taxing powers of the eight Dioceses have been transferred to it.

OBLIGORS: The Bonds are the Direct Obligation of the "General Union of the Eight Bavarian Dioceses" (embracing all the Roman Catholic Dioceses in Bavaria) as provided by a resolution of the Union on February 8, 1926, approved by the Bishops' Assembly and are issued under a Trust Indenture with Central Union Trust Company of New York, as Trustee.

The proceeds of these Bonds are to be reloaned to Catholic Dioceses, institutions and organizations in Bavaria against first mortgages on property (in each case passed on and approved in writing by the Bishop of the Diocese or the proper Diocesan authority) of a tax value of at least four times the amount of the reloan or against other security of an equal collateral value satisfactory to the Committee administering the reloans.

As the proceeds of this issue are released by the Trustee, the payment of the principal and interest of this issue will become the Direct Several Obligation of each Bishop in whose Diocese a reloan is made, to an extent proportionate to that part of the net proceeds of this issue so reloaned. Upon the release of the entire proceeds the payment of this issue will, therefore, in addition to being the Direct Obligation of the "General Union," be further covered by the Collective Obligations of the Dioceses using the proceeds as well as by a charge upon first mortgages on property of a tax value of at least four times the amount of the reloans or other security of equal collateral value. Applications for reloans in excess of the amount of the proceeds of this issue have already been made.

SOURCES OF REVENUE FOR SERVICE OF LOAN: To pay the Interest and Sinking Fund charges on this Loan there are amongst others two primary sources of revenue:

(1) The reloan of the proceeds of this issue to Catholic Dioceses, institutions and organizations, as described above, will be made with corresponding sinking funds but at higher rates of interest than on this issue.

The revenues available for these reloans service charges will come partly from tax receipts and partly from other income from productive properties (vineyards, forests, farmlands, rented buildings, etc.), owned by the Dioceses and parishes. The individual parishes have the right to levy on their parishioners up to 10% of local direct taxes assessed against them. Catholic Parish taxes so levied in Bavaria in 1924 and 1925 amounted to between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 Gold Marks (about $1,430,000 to $1,660,000) in each of these years.

(2) The bonds will be specifically secured by a first and paramount charge upon taxes collected for the "General Union of the Eight Bavarian Dioceses." These taxes are now 4% of the amount of Federal and State direct taxes and in each of the years 1924 and 1925 totaled about 2,500,000 Gold Marks (about $600,000). The Church may, without State permission, increase this percentage from 4% to 10%.

ADMINISTRATION: The administration of the reloans of the funds derived from this issue will be in the hands of a Committee of five members including a Representative of the Issuing Houses. The approval of this Committee upon each reloan must be unanimous.

PURPOSE OF LOAN: To rehabilitate and provide much needed institutions of an educational, social service and religious character under Catholic auspices, practically no educational institutions, hospitals, orphanages, old peoples' homes, churches, etc., having been built in Bavaria for over eleven years.

The use of these funds for such purposes at this time rather than rebuilding out of income over a period of years, will have a far-reaching effect in maintaining and improving the physical and moral welfare of the people of Bavaria. The Loan will, therefore, be of great assistance in upholding the stability of the Bavarian State as one of the bulwarks of the German Reich in its struggle for economic recovery and in increasing the productivity of the German people.

GENERAL: No Roman Catholic Church organization in Germany has ever defaulted on any of its obligations and it is further believed that this is true of Roman Catholic Church organizations throughout the world.

We are advised that the revenues of the "General Union" and of the Bavarian Dioceses and Parishes are not subject to any charge under the Dawes Plan, and that the Dawes Plan does not authorize any interference with remittances for the service of this Loan.

The legality of this issue will be subject to the approval of our counsel, Messrs. Cravath, Henderson & de Gersdorff, of New York City, Messrs. Chadbourne, Hunt, Jaeckel & Brown of New York City, and Dr. Wronker-Flatow of Berlin, and to the approval of Professor Scharnagel of Munich for the General Union.

These Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to the approval of counsel. We reserve the right to reject subscriptions in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount applied for and to close the subscription books at any time without notice. Interim Receipts deliverable in the first instance.

Make it of an Alloy Steel

If there are certain steel parts of your product that are always giving you trouble—you can probably eliminate the trouble by making the part of an alloy steel that is made to do the work exactly. And that is the advantage of an alloy steel, the different characteristics—strength, resiliency, hardness—can be determined in advance. Interstate metallurgists are experienced in diagnosing steel troubles and prescribing the solution. They are available to work with you on your problems any time you say—without obligation.

RAILROAD NOTES

A rehearing was denied by the Supreme court in the rate controversy between the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway and the Chicago Heights Terminal Transfer company. The Chicago and Eastern Illinois had sought to reopen the case, which the highest court recently dismissed for lack of jurisdiction.

During the period March 1 to 7 the Chicago and Northwestern railway handled 38,338 loaded cars, compared with 37,277 last year. Car loadings on Canadian railroads for the week ended Feb. 27 numbered 55,564, against 56,154 in the previous week, and 52,512 in the same week last year.

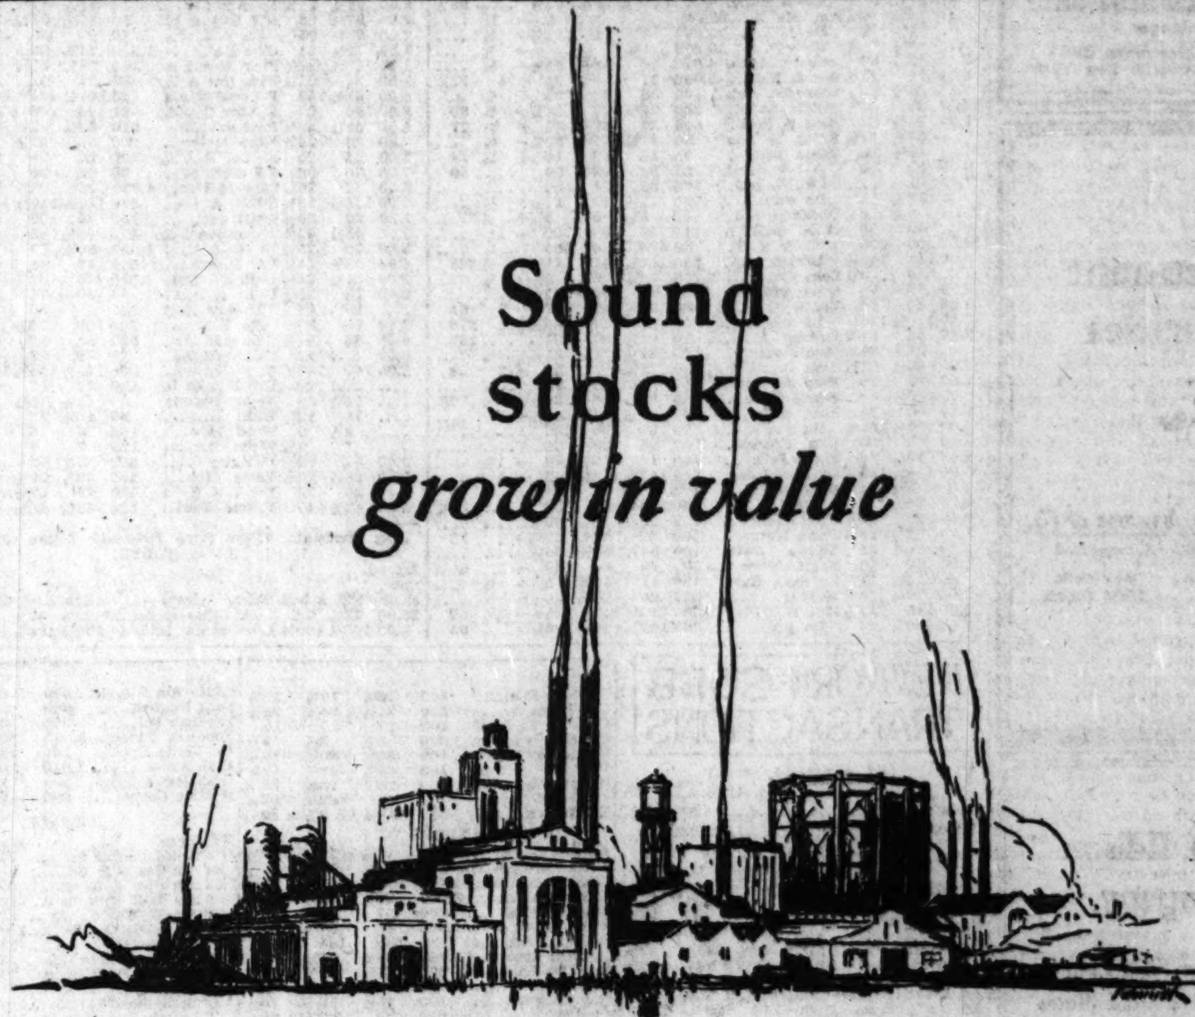
Minnesota Railroads Win Second Rate Victory

Minneapolis, Minn., March 8.—(AP)—Minnesota railroads won their second victory in the County District court here today in the prosecution of rail rate cases, when Judge Thomas H. Salmon dismissed the indictment charging the Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Omaha line with violation of the long and short haul statute. Judge Salmon's decision was supported by a previous ruling by Judge Mathias Baldwin in District court, who quashed the indictment against the Northern Pacific, charged with violation of the Cashman rate act. Judge Baldwin held that "the Minnesota courts are without power to act contrarily to rulings of the United States Supreme court, which gave the interstate commerce commission authority to fix intrastate freight rates where they conflict with interstate rates."

$750,000 Salvaged from Co-operative League

Indianapolis, Ind., March 8.—(AP)—More than $750,000 has been salvaged from the financial wreck of the Coöperative League of America, one of the companies controlled by the defunct Hawkins Mortgage company of Portland, Ind., it was indicated today at a meeting of creditors. Dividends which eventually may total forty per cent of the amounts paid in by contract holders will be paid creditors, Carl Wilde, referee in bankruptcy, believes.

Sound stocks grow in value



A conservatively managed, growing corporation reinvests a substantial portion of its earnings in its own business for plant enlargement to increase production; improved machinery to reduce costs, and in advertising and sales promotion to increase volume of business.

Thus the growth in the value of sound stocks and the profits realized by investors who have held the stocks through such periods of growth, are accounted for, as well as the increasingly favorable opinion of stocks as long term investments.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

Monday, March 8, 1926.

Day's sales.........87,000 Year ago..........33,000 Total, 1926.........2,830,200 Previous year.......2,776,900

Chicago stocks slumped in the week's opening session yesterday, the principal exception being Balaban & Katz, which jumped 4 points to 71. On moderate sales, United Light and Power A and B common led the decline on news that a banking syndicate had taken over the market commitments of the pool operating in the stocks. The B common dropped 35 points to 75 and the A common and preferred were off 4½ each, the common closing at 78 and the preferred at 82½. The B preferred eased down to 48, off 1½. American States A was off ⅞ to 4; the B sold down ⅝ to 1⅞, and the warrants sold down from 1⅛ to 50 cents, off ⅝.

Kraft Cheese slid down to a low of 65, but managed to recover some of its loss, closing at 69, a net decline of 3 points. Middle West Utilities was 1⅛ lower and Oil-O-Matic was off a point. Auburn Automobile sold down ⅝ and Armour B was ½ lower. On small sales, declines were: Great Lakes Dredge, 4 points; Electrical Research Laboratories and Crane, each 2 points; United Paperboard, 1⅞; Union Carbide, 1⅝; National Electric Power A, 1½, and Hupp Motor, Yellow Truck, Real Silk Hosiery, Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee and Adams Royalty, a point each. United Biscuit and Middle West Utilities prior lien each advanced a point.

RALLY AT CLOSE RECOVERS EARLY STOCK LOSSES

YESTERDAY'S AVERAGES

New York, March 8.—(AP)—The stock market early today underwent the traditional secondary reaction which follows a break such as took place last week, but a spectacular rally set in during the last hour of trading and materially reduced or canceled many of the early losses. Closing quotations were irregular, a long list of active issues showing net losses of 1 to 6 points, with a much smaller number of 1 to 8½ point gains sprinkled through the list.

The credit situation continued relatively easy, call money renewing at 4½ per cent and then dropping to 4, despite the approach of the income tax date. Announcement that the treasury department would offer $500,000,000 long term bonds on a 3¾ per cent basis was generally regarded as an indication of easy money rates for some time.

Industrials, Rails, Lead Rally.

High priced industrials and the Van Sweringen railroad shares led the late rally. General Electric rallied from 313¼ to 329, where it was up 8¼ points on the day, and American Can from 299 to 309. Nickel Plate common, which had been hammered down more than 11 points below last week's closing quotations to 146½ in the early trading, snapped back to 154⅝. Pere Marquette closed 1½ higher at 80½, after fluctuating between 79½ and 85, and Chesapeake & Ohio touched 128½ and then eased off about a point after having sold as low as 124½.

A rather thin market developed for some of the rail shares, Atlantic Coast Line dropping about 6 points to 216 and Delaware and Hudson 4¼ to 155¼.

U. S. Steel Closes Higher.

United States Steel common sold down as low as 121⅞, but later rallied to 123⅜, for a small fractional gain on the day. Good buying also was noted in General Motors, Hudson and Railway Steel Spring.

Foundation Company was one of the few stocks forced down below the lows established in last Wednesday's drastic reaction, falling to 102 and then bounding back to 107, where it was off 6 points on the day. Other conspicuous weak spots were American Brake Shoe and Foundry, Coca Cola, Gulf States Steel, which duplicated the year's low; McCrory Stores B, National Cloak and Suit, Pullman, Tidewater Oil preferred, which touched a new 1926 minimum at 96; United Fruit, Western Union, and U. S. Industrial Alcohol, which touched the lowest price since 1923.

LEAD PRICE REDUCED.

NEW YORK, March 8.—(AP)—The American Smelting and Refining company today reduced the price of lead from 8.75 to 8.60c per pound.

UNITED LIGHT 'POOL' CRACKS; BANKS STEP IN

BY O. A. MATHER.

Another pool dried up yesterday as the result of last week's crash in the stock markets. A banking syndicate was organized by Otis & Co., New York and Cleveland bankers, to take over the floating supply of United Light and Power shares, which are traded in on the New York and Chicago markets.

Frank T. Hulswit, president of the company, announced the bankers' action but declined to give any details as to the pool's operations or the amount of stock the bankers will take. There were reports in La Salle street, however, that the bankers took up the stock at approximately $60 a share and will make a public offering after the recently authorized splitup of the shares on a five for one basis becomes effective.

Stock Soars and Crashes.

The career of United Light and Power shares has been spectacular. The A stock last year soared from 44½ to 167 and the B stock rose from 45 to 160. Last month it was announced that the A stock would be increased from 500,000 to 3,500,000 shares and the B stock from 500,000 to 2,500,000, and that new shares of both classes would be issued on a five for one basis.

Then came the crash in the market and United Light and Power shares collapsed. The A shares sold yesterday as low as 70½ and closed at 78½. The B shares have declined almost as precipitately. La Salle street reports were the bankers are taking over the pool's holdings of both A and B shares. The company has widespread holdings of public utilities, notably in the middle west.

C. & N. W. Is Prosperous.

Operating economies resulted in a sharp increase in earnings for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad last year. While gross revenues of $148,538,270 were nearly $1,000,000 below 1924, operating expenses of $115,626,056 were almost $5,000,000 lower. The preliminary annual report shows net income for 1925 of $10,784,578, equivalent, after preferred dividends, to $6.35 a share on the common stock. After common dividends there was a surplus of $3,410,828. Net income in 1924 was $7,671,324, equivalent to $4.20 a share on common stock, and surplus after dividends was $297,574.

"The improvement shown last year is encouraging," President Sargent says, "but earnings are short of what the company is fairly entitled to receive in return for its service and what it would receive if rates in its territory were on a fair basis and comparable with other rate making regions."

Crude Prices Cut.

News of trade and industry was mixed yesterday. An unexpected reduction of 25 cents a barrel was made in Pennsylvania crude oil prices. This was said to result from shutting down of some refineries because of flood conditions. On the other hand, another decline in California production was reported for last week.

Steel ingot production thus far this year is slightly below a year ago, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute. Output for the first two months of this year totaled 7,948,684 tons, compared with 7,954,807 last year. Production last month was 3,795,139 tons, compared with 4,153,545 in January and 3,756,243 in February, 1925. Therefore, last month did not show the slackening of this time last year, when the industry entered into a prolonged summer slump. Last month's operations were 87.82 per cent of theoretical capacity of 56,000,000 tons a year.

Greif Bros. Cooperage.

O. C. K., Hillsdale, Mich.—The $1,800,000 Greif Bros. Cooperage corporation ten year 6 per cent notes of 1936 are a direct obligation of the company and constitute its sole funded debt, except for $8,000 purchase money mortgages. No mortgage or pledge of the company's present properties of more than one year's maturity may be made while any of these notes are outstanding. Net tangible assets are given as over $3,167 per $1,000 note. Net quick assets of $2,534,038 are equal to 1.4 times the amount of these notes. Consolidated net earnings available for interest, before federal taxes, for the three years and ten months ended Oct. 31, 1925, averaged 4.47 times annual interest on these notes. For the ten months ended that date such earnings were at the annual rate of 6.99 times such interest charges. These notes are a suitable investment for a business man's funds. They carry stock purchase warrants which give them an attractive speculative feature.

Borg & Beck.

R. P.—Borg & Beck company's net income available for dividends, after charges and taxes for 1925, more than doubled that for 1924. The figures were $668,932, or $5.35 a share earned on the common stock (par $10) in 1925, compared with $309,236, or $2.47 a share in 1924. Profit and loss surplus was increased during the year from $1,185,446 to $1,573,128, and the company started 1926 with net working capital of $1,069,405. It is paying dividends at the rate of $2 per share per annum and has declared two extras of 25 cents per share each, payable Jan. 2 and April 1, 1926. This stock deserves a fair rating.

United Gas Improvement.

J. S., Rock Island, Ill.—United Gas Improvement company earned $66.37 a share on its preferred stock and $6.44 a share on the common in 1925, compared with $66.34 a share on the preferred and $6.28 a share on the common in 1924. The par value of the common is $50. It is paying dividends at the rate of $4 per share per annum. It is a high grade stock.

Capital's Duty

Extra capital has only one function—to work for its owner. Your capital is doing its full share of work for you if it is invested in S. W. Straus & Co. first mortgage bonds.

A generous interest return—5.85% to 6.40%—means a gratifying increase of capital at the end of each year.

There is no worry about the safety of your capital—no holder of Straus Bonds has ever had to wait even one day for the payment of either interest or principal. These bonds will stand every test. Will you investigate?

WALL STREET NOTES

NEW YORK, March 8.—(AP)—Renewed liquidation of the public utility shares turned the course of prices reactionary in today's curb market. United Power and Light "A" broke 13½ points to 70½ and then rallied 8 points. American Light and Traction broke 10 points to 202 and then rallied to 208, and Electric Investors dropped nearly 3 points to 45¼, but snapped back to 47½. Net declines of 1 to nearly 3 points were recorded by American Gas and Electric, Commonwealth Power, and Southeastern Power and Light.

Humble Oil dropped 2 points and losses of a point or more were recorded by Standard Oils of Kentucky and California [new], Reiter Foster, Lago Petroleum, and Gulf. The new Tidewater-Associated common and preferred stocks were admitted to trading on a "when issued" basis. The common fluctuated between 26¾ and 25½ on total transactions of 6,900 shares, and the preferred sold between 99¼ and 97¼.

There were a few weak spots in the industrial group. Electric Refrigeration broke 6 points to 62, but snapped back to 64½, and Land Company of Florida sold off 2⅝ points to a new low for the year at 27.

Strength of United States government obligations and the renewal of selling activities in other parts of the list were the contrasting features of today's irregular bond market. The political crisis in France precipitated further selling of this nation's bonds, resulting in average declines of a point. The first, third, and fourth Liberty 4¼s rose to the highest levels of the year.

Some of the recoveries scored by railroad bonds after last week's drastic decline were swept away again today before another selling attack. Chesapeake and Ohio convertible 5s fell 4½ points to 138, but closed only about 2 points lower on the day. Atchison adjustment 5s, Chicago Great Western 4s, Chicago-Terre Haute income 5s, Delaware and Hudson 5s and 7s, New Haven consolidated 4s, and Seaboard All-Florida 6s were driven down a point or more. Skelly Oil convertible 6½s sagged 3½ points, and fractional declines were general throughout the industrial list.

Foreign exchanges were irregular. French francs got down to within a few points of the year's low of 3.54½ cents, but rallied to 3.60¼, where they were practically unchanged from Saturday's closing rate. Demand sterling held steady around $4.85 7-16.

HOW ELECTRICITY SAVED THE LIMITED

IN a blinding Iowa snow storm the Limited had run past a warning block signal. A whistle within the engineer's cab started blowing, indicating that the track ahead was not clear. A motor under the pilot of the locomotive, operating automatically through electricity in the rails, applied the brakes and brought the train to a stop. Thus electricity is being used to make railroad travel safer.

What a boon to mankind is electricity, employed in industry, in the home, the laboratory, on railroads, in aeroplanes, and at sea. Constantly we are discovering new uses for this marvelous public servant, so speedy, so adaptable, so powerful.

The manufacture and distribution of electric light and power has become a great essential industry offering a particularly attractive field for investors who value safety and stability.

For years this Company has specialized in Electric Light & Power securities and our executives are skilled in their selection. We have at all times bonds in denominations of $100, $500, and $1000, adapted to the special needs of all classes of investors. These may be acquired on a cash or partial payment basis.

How St. Louis Led All Other Cities

REPRODUCING PIANO

advertised in The Globe-Democrat exclusively

THE PROBLEM was. . . . . .sales.

The organization, as you know, is centralized, with representatives and dealers in all of the most important cities of the United States.

In the campaign for sales, a series of striking, well-prepared newspaper advertisements was furnished by the home office to the Baldwin representative in each Baldwin city.

In St. Louis it was The Globe-Democrat.

. . . .Naturally.

The Baldwin Welte-Mignon advertising in St. Louis was published during the last five months of 1925 exclusively in The Globe-Democrat.

An investment of $3896.40. . . . . . . .all in the Sunday issues.

. . . .And the St. Louis Baldwin store sold more Baldwin Welte-Mignon Reproducing Pianos than any other store in the United States!

Not something new—but more a miracle than radio - -

Sales increased steadily as the advertising campaign progressed. The success of the plan here in St. Louis justified the confidence which business men have come to feel in judicious advertising co-ordinated with intelligent sales effort.

So there's another testimonial for this St. Louis market. . . .An index to the prosperity of the new St. Louis, where building activity is breaking all previous records, where unemployment today is practically unknown, where money is being earned, and where buying is active.

This sort of thing is regular with The Globe-Democrat. Our representatives can tell you of similar successes. . . .can show you the success stories which we have published, as in this Baldwin case.

The advertising of every worthy business organization deserves the influence which The Globe-Democrat can lend it.

The Adopted Wife

By Amelie Rives
[Princess Troubetzkoy.]

SYNOPSIS.

Celia Gibbs is left an orphan by the death of her father, who bequeaths her to the care and charity of Hilary Fraser, one of his few friends. Hilary's sister, Laura Eversham, relieves him of his charge by placing Celia in a French convent and when she is eighteen taking her into her home to live. Two years ater Laura dies and Hilary is greatly disturbed as to what to do about Celia. A young Russian sculptor proposes to her, but she refuses his offer, and Hilary, in desperation, proposes to her himself, in order that she may live in his house with propriety. Celia is happy in the arrangement.

INSTALLMENT XIV.
EAVESDROPPING.

Her experience in society that winter, as Mrs. Hilary Fraser, left her naively astonished.

A grotesquely impressive married woman has quite a different position from a grotesquely impressive girl, and the vogue of very thin ugliness was just then beginning to have its supporters among the elect.

People began to call Celia mysterious. By the end of the season she had become a personage and her queerness an asset. No man attempted to make love to her, however. Her state was something that of a rare idol, whom people will make every effort to see but do not like to carry off with them.

She formed no intimate friendships with women. Indeed women as a rule were rather repelled by her, and not a little jealous of her.

Hilary watched it all with quiet amusement and much pleasure in her arrival. He still employed odd moments agreeably in designing her gowns and head dresses.

One evening Celia was sitting near the door of a small reception room, waiting for her motor to be announced. Hilary had gone abroad unexpectedly to look up data regarding his book, and she had been forced to keep their social engagements without him.

As she sat there, two women on a cassone just outside the door began talking about her. She did not realize at first whom they were speaking of, but when she did she continued to listen more out of laziness than curiosity. She felt no compunction at all.

"On dit," remarked the first woman, "que c' est un marriage blanc."

"On a raison?" returned the other. "Of course it's a 'white marriage'! What man could really embrace a jeweled image as a wife!"

The other tittered.

"How too unkind of you! At least call her a mermaid!"

"Well, isn't a mermaid a queer fish?"

Then they both tittered.

"Why on earth do you suppose he did it?" the first speaker went on.

"Pity, my dear. I've known Hilary Fraser all my life. He's an awfully good sort, but high-flown rather, and mad about art. This girl's father was a protégé of his—a genius, he says, though the world doesn't seem to agree with him. Well, this Gibbs, the girl's father, dumped her on Hilary as a ward, without a penny! Poor Laura took her off his hands as long as she lived, but when she died—there he was! Planté, with this millstone round his neck. He couldn't get any one else to marry her—and of course he couldn't let her starve . . . If he'd set up alone, they'd have said she was his mistress——"

She took the ivory ball and cup from her bedside table and went over to the window.

"But why not?" asked the other. "That would have been much the most sensible thing to do."

"My dear! You don't know Hilary. He's just the sort to choose the Quixotic way out of a mess."

"But some one told me the girl had money of her own?"

"Some one told you wrong then. Maudie Grey-Mannering, Hilary's niece, told me last spring that Gibbs didn't leave a farthing. She said that Hilary had made up some story to save the girl's feelings—and that the allowance he gave her before he married her was out of his own pocket. He called it an advance on Gibbs' paintings. Poor Laura let it slip out one day—and Maudie's awfully sharp, you know. Naturally she's furious over Hilary's marriage—because his fortune would have gone by rights to her and her children. Now I suppose most of it will go to the 'queer fish'—in case he dies first."

"I wonder if the Gibbs girl guessed she hadn't anything from her father?"

"Good heavens! What a question! Think of those greeny Chinese eyes. Are they the eyes of credulous innocence? Of course she knew it. She schemed to marry him from the very first, you may be sure."

"Well, pity is closer kin to contempt than it is to love," observed the other, thoughtfully. "I shouldn't care to be in her shoes."

"I shouldn't care to be in his! I can't endure her, can you?"

"No. She gives me the creeps."

Here a footman came to tell them their car was waiting and they went away.

That night Celia lay awake a long time, and she found this very unpleasant, as she was used to falling asleep as soon as her head touched the pillow. Had her thoughts been agreeable she might have felt differently, but they were most disagreeable, and so after a while, she took up the ivory cup and ball from her bedside table and, rising, went over to the window. She drew back the curtains and sat wrapped in her dressing gown, playing with the quaint toy, and gazing out over the park. She liked to watch the stars and electric lights through the winter branches. For some reason she drew a fantastic pleasure from this mingling of artificial glitter with the austere radiance of the heavens.

She sat there now, staring out at them, trying to change the monotonous flow of her thought, but soon the click-click of the ball in its cup began accenting the words: "A queer fish—A queer fish—A queer fish——" She stopped playing with it, and leaned her head against one hand, her eyes still on the winter trees and the points of scattered light sown through them. All at once a new light dimmed them. This illumination was in her own mind. She was recalling vividly a glaring, spot lighted scene in the Sieburg theater where she had been two nights ago. This theater, brand new, and the pride of its owners, was in reality a sort of lesser hippodrome and vaudeville combined, and the scene that she now recalled one of diving and swimming. It had been featured as the unique event of the evening, but Celia had thought it very poor. The diving was nothing unusual, the so-called swimming contests mediocre. The chief "aquatic artiste," as the program termed her, a short, overmuscled woman in a scaly singlet, had not at all come up to one's idea of human fish—another title given her on the play-bill. She had not stayed under water by several seconds as long as Celia could, nor equaled her in swiftness. As for her so-called high dive—here Celia picked up her ivory toy again and began playing with it. Her closed lips wore their slight smile. She sat there some twenty minutes longer, then rose and went back to bed. In three more minutes she was sound asleep.

The next morning when Donovan brought her breakfast tray she asked her also to fetch the directory. Donovan was a small, vigorous, taciturn woman of fifty odd. She and Celia liked and trusted each other. Neither of them was affectionate by nature and both of them detested chatter of any kind, so they were admirably suited. In a little while Donovan brought the directory, laid it on the bed, and took away the tray, for as Celia only ate a bunch of grapes and drank one cup of tea for breakfast, it was soon over.

When Donovan had gone she began searching in the columns of the directory for the address she wanted.

First came the Sieburg theater, then the Sieburg Theatrical and Vaudeville Co., then Abel and Joe Sieburg, Inc.

She decided to go to the office of the incorporated brothers. It was Abel Sieburg that she wished to see. She had heard from an actress of her acquaintance that he was the more important of the two.

She telephoned herself from her bedroom to ask at what time Mr. Abel Sieburg could be seen. A fat, cross voice replied: "From ten to twelve mornings—two to five afternoons," and cut her off. She chose the earlier hours, and began to dress without ringing for Donovan.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Yesterday morning I didn't think much of Irving Cummings as a director. Today is another day and I've changed my mind. That is, so far as "The Johnstown Flood" is concerned. It is one fine movie—and Mr. Cummings directed it.

On Friday—May 31—1889—that great civic horror of American history, the flood that wiped out Johnstown, Pa., occurred. Thirty-seven years late, it occurred to the film men that the tragedy would serve as a good base for a picture that OUGHT to be a thriller.

They were right.

The fictitious story woven round the catastrophe is believable and intensely interesting. It has been filmed against backgrounds of glorious scenery and its big, crashing episodes are softened by much humorous, human incident.

The cast, headed by George O'Brien, is, as advertised, a good one. Florence Gilbert and Janet Gaynor in the feminine leads are comparative strangers but ladies you will yearn to know better. Anders Randolf, as the lumber king, determined to fulfill his contract at no matter what destruction to life or property, is, as usual, great in his rôle. George Harris is fine—everybody's fine.

The photography is all that the heart could desire and the direction—Okay—positively! So—

I wouldn't miss the film if I were you.

To see it, dears, is quite the thing to do.

An Hour Passes Quickly Viewing "Two Can Play"

And here's little Clara Bow hopping about between two fires—a Mr. MacForth and a Mr. Radley—each bent on proving to her that the other fellow is not the one whose name has been written for her in the stars.

For certain reason, which deponent telleth you not here, Dorothy's daddy introduces Mr. MacForth into the picture. He puts a certain ad in the paper which is answered by an energetic young man with a bee stung upper lip whom you know as Wallace MacDonald.

"You'll do!" says old Mr. Hammis, after some moments of conversation with the applicant, who, at the time, doesn't know that he is talking to the advertiser.

That night Mr. MacForth comes to Dorothy's party and is instructed to "show up" Mr. James Radley to that young lady, who is enamoured of him. It is Mr. Hammis' idea—or so he tells MacForth—that Radley will rob his safe. MacForth is set to watch Radley.

A lot of hocus pocus follows, and then, due to the machinations of papa, Dorothy with her two swains is airship-wrecked on Cameo island. Here she is scheduled to find out once and for all—what she is supposed to find out.

Shoe does. Curtain.

"Two Can Play" stacks up as satisfactory entertainment with which to while away an hour. The players are all favorites of yours and the director has done well with his story.

But if, by chance, the picture bores you, you can have fun playing a guessing game with yourself as to what the operator will do next. Sometimes he shows a film upside down; sometimes he skips a reel; sometimes he shows the same one twice. Sometimes he lays off for a few minutes and doesn't show anything. Yesterday was his upside-down-layoff day.

Prizes Awarded at Hoosier Salon

Nearly $5,000 in prizes was awarded yesterday to Hoosier artists at the opening of the second annual Hoosier salon in the Marshall Field & Co. galleries. The exhibition is sponsored by the Daughters of Indiana, the Indiana society, and the Chicago alumni of Earlham college. The exhibition will be on display until March 20.

About 200 artists are represented. Conditions for entrance were either birth or art training in Indiana, or five years' group work during successive years. The artists represented in the salon are scattered from Paris to the Pacific coast.

Miami Takes Kindly to Chicago Civic Opera

Miami, Fla., March 8.—[Special.]—The Chicago Civic Opera company opened its season of nine performances here tonight in "Aida" before an audience of nearly 4,000 persons at the Coral Gables stadium.

The company's arrival early in the afternoon from Memphis was in the nature of a triumphal entry, local society and a great deal of the Chicago winter colony greeting the members at the station. Mary Garden, vivacious and busy in the excitement of detraining, received something of an ovation, gave out interviews, posed, and superintended the posing of others for photographs and saw that the rest of the principals were safely stowed in vehicles that would take them to their quarters at the Biltmore.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Mrs. Mildred Carroll, 6442 North Irving avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Where Asked.

The Answers.

William McDonald, 427 Sigel street, student.—That's a deep one. I wouldn't want to give any woman one-third of my income in case of a divorce. I think I would go slow enough in getting married so that I wouldn't make a mistake, then a divorce would be on the woman's part, not mine; hence, no alimony.

H. D. Peterson, 1637 Howard street, real estate.—I have heard numerous divorce cases in the different courts. In some cases that amount seems fair, in others not. Where the woman's income is as much as the man's, and with one-third off his income, the unfairness is obvious.

Fred Fogo, Gary, Ind., city fireman.—I wouldn't approve of that. Suppose a man's income is $75 a week. If he had to give one-third of that as alimony to wife No. 1 it would stop him from getting another woman because he wouldn't then be able to support himself and wife No. 2.

C. C. Creed, 2829 Washington boulevard, clerk.—I never was married, so I should worry. It doesn't look to me as though this law could hold good in all cases. Seems to me where there are children it would make a great difference. Children should be considered first; then the mother, and finally the father.

Charles McCormick, 27 West Washington street, advertising.—That ought to be enough, oughtn't it? I am not married, so I am not an authority on the question. But it would all depend. The circumstances, and who is to blame; these, in their thousand variations, are the determining factors.

THEATER

"ACCUSED":

Play, in three acts, by Eugène Brieux as adapted for the American stage by George Middleton: made known in Chicago (by David Belasco) March 8, 1926, in the Studebaker Theater, with this cast:

Edmond de Verron	E. H. Sothern
His mother	Mabel Bert
His grandfather	Henry Herbert
Lemercier	Moffat Johnston
His daughter	Ann Davis
Her maid	Octavia Kenmore
Du Coudrais	Lester Lonergan
De Verron's secretary	France Bendtsen
A valet	J. C. Malaidy
The Mayor of Nacro	Roy Cochrane
A servant	Clay Kennedy

Mr. Sothern, in one of his infrequent visits to Chicago, seems to me to be of greater interest than this new treatise by the Monsieur Brieux, who, as of late has been his wont, again uses the theater as a forum wherein to hold a debate in the outline-form of drama. This time, the sociological and ethical problem vexing the French writer is as to what is right for a high-minded lawyer to do when he feels that his client is guilty. The client is a handsome young woman accused of having widowed herself by the deft use of firearms. The husband thus disposed of is known not to have been of much good; but his father grieves for him, and there is some circumstantial evidence, and the law is explicit, and the common feeling is that she is in luck to have obtained the services of l'Avocat de Verron, whose personal and professional rectitude is, although he is a young man, a proverb. Indeed and indeed, the popular notion is that no jury of honest Frenchmen could reasonably ask for further proof of the lady's innocence than the fact that the high-minded grandson of the eminent Judge de Verron has taken her case.

But the comely widow gives to him no comfort or solace in his problem: she says no word to make him believe that she is without guilt, and says many to make him fear that (a) she killed her husband or (b) is reticent that she may shield somebody else. De Verron is a Frenchman, and he loves her: so, Cherchez l'homme! He talks it over with her father, her father-in-law, servants, his wise old grandfather, and his mother, and doesn't know where he is at save as he has certitude that he will not go into court and say he believes her to be innocent unless he believes her to be. So, when he obtains what he regards as irrefutable proof that she is guilty, he (being a Frenchman, in love, and jealous), argues himself into the belief that he is ethically justified in stating in court that he believes her to be innocent. His honor, he now avers, requires him to lie in defense of his client; and he seeks, in the best passage of the debate, to sustain this point-of-view against the rarefied legalism of his grandfather. . . .

And, of course, it doesn't matter at all after this whether the lady killed her husband. She is acquitted after "that fool of a jury" has listened to the young man's eloquence; and then there is more agony as her father and her father-in-law realize that each has suffered as much as the other, and more as the widow and her advocate talk it over to her eventual advantage and his sentimental collapse. . . . All-in-all, an interesting document, but not drama.

As to Mr. Sothern, he is incredible in the aspect, the manner, and the spirit of youth with which he plays De Verron. He appears to me in the part as if he might be a twelve-month more mature than when I first beheld him, in my boyhood, in "The Maister of Woodbarrow"; and, without rummaging through the files at midnight, I'm willing to wager that that was at least five years ago—at least! And he acts the rôle of the upright barrister much as he used to act when mufti was his only wear, and much as he acted in that garb maybe ten years ago in "The Two Virtues." He is put to it to find things to do that give a semblance of action and movement to the imported play; but he finds them, and holds the interest the length of the performance, in which he always is in the scene. . . .

Neither Mr. Sothern nor any of his associates gets a Gallic note into the representation,—save as some minor items of whiskers may count; but, then, Mr. Middleton's translation doesn't make much of a bid for such atmosphere. Why, I caught one speech that was nothing else but our old playmate of the shockers: "No! No! A thousand times no!" . . . Miss Davis is perfect in the part of the widow, although there isn't much of it as parts go; and the others, seasoned players, are all right for the chore.

Leon Errol, in "Louis the Fourteenth," in the Illinois; Sessue Hayakawa, in "The Love City," in the Selwyn; and Mr. Houdini, in his make-'em-believe-it bewitchments, divided those of Monday's seekers after new things who were not in the Studebaker.

New York Debs Sell Groceries as Charity Aids

And Notables Put Their Autographs on Cans.

New York, March 8.—[Special.—Debutantes and their mammas and their sisters and their aunts worked as grocery clerks today in five chain grocery stores. The shops selected were located in the social center neighborhood.

All day long—the amateur saleswomen, as members of the coöperative committee of the Neurological institute, sold anything from caviar to cheese, and the institute got 20 per cent of the gross receipts.

Several celebrities also were on hand at other shops to autograph cans of peas or what's yours, madam.

Miss Jane Cowl and her fountain pen were found at the 66th street and Lexington avenue store. Miss Anita Loos, authority on what gentlemen prefer, was at the 676 Madison avenue shop, inquiring what the ladies like in the way of provisions.

Alma Gluck had intended to help out, for she said she had a "suppressed desire to sell cheese," but at the last minute she had to send in her regrets as she had an engagement in Havana, or Palm Beach, or somewhere.

Limousines had barely deposited the deb shop assistants at 8:30 o'clock this morning when other limousines began depositing shoppers at the doors. Some of them brought their dogs along to see what grocery stores look like, a thing that city dogs do not know so well as those out in the sticks.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was one of the early buyers. She sent in a $50 telephone order and her chauffeur carried it away. There were a whole case of canned peas and another case of cleansing powder in the box he took out to the car.

Mrs. Montgomery Hare, in charge of the shop at 676 Madison avenue, especially instructed her coterie of orange and blue smocked clerks to boost the sales of strawberries, mushrooms, and string beans.

Presbyterians and Episcopalians Meet to Talk Church Unity

Interest in two important church events, one the meeting of the Presbyterian general assembly in Baltimore in May, and the other the meeting of the World Conference on Faith and Order in Lausanne, Switzerland, in 1927, was aroused yesterday by meetings at the Fourth Presbyterian church.

A commission of the Episcopal church, headed by the Rt. Rev. C. P. Anderson, bishop of Chicago, met with representatives of the Presbyterian church to discuss the principles involved in the Lausanne meeting. Bishop Anderson presided.

The commission of the Presbyterian church which is to thresh out the differences in the denomination regarding so-called modernism and fundamentalism will meet on Thursday with Dr. Henry C. Swearingen of Minneapolis in the chair. Every effort has been made to preserve secrecy as to the findings and it was announced yesterday nothing would be given out from the meeting on Thursday until the general assembly meets in Baltimore, May 27.

The extent of the doctrinal discussions in the Presbyterian church is seen in the formation of two large groups among theological students as well as organizations among ministers and laymen.

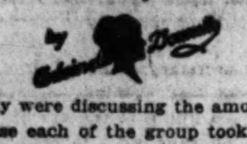
Massage Can Never Fill the Role of Daily Exercise



They were discussing the amount of exercise each of the group took daily. They were being frank about it, and the combined muscular effort of all six women present wouldn't make a good hour's workout for a healthy athlete. One woman proudly contributed: "I don't have to take exercise. I have a masseuse for an hour, three times a week. She tells me that is enough to keep me in good physical condition."

We are a lazy lot of females when one of us can hoodwink herself into believing three hours a week of massage will keep her in the pink of condition, and when the majority of us believe if we take a walk around the block we have done more than should be expected of our fragile sex.

I have nothing against massage—if one needs it and can afford it. But it is no substitute for a healthy woman's daily turn at some form of health preservation.

If one is so run down that she lacks the energy to wage a harder battle in health preservation, massage will find its usefulness. Where the elimination of waste matter must be assisted, and muscles are to be improved in tone, and the general circulation accelerated, much aid may be derived from massage. But one would have to admit semi-invalidism, at least, before she could present massage as her beneficial form of exercise.

It does relieve the nervous system by maintaining the nutrition of the muscles, without the expenditure of nerve force required to make them contract. It acts on the central nervous system thorugh the nerves of sense, stimulating or soothing them, according to the nature and amount of the manipulation.

If one were thoroughly fatigued and there was ahead an occasion calling for energy expenditure, a massage would be most helpful. Athletic trainers often give a five minute treatment so the athlete may repeat or continue a performance otherwise impossible. But the latter does not rely on massage to work him into the condition of health that makes an athlete of him.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

MOLLIE C.: FRUIT ACIDS, SUCH as apples, oranges, and lemon juice stimulates the flow of saliva and are cleansing to the teeth. An apple eaten at night, followed by a careful brushing of the teeth will protect them from the action of bacteria during the night. Send along a stamped addressed envelope for pamphlet on "Mouth Hygiene."

CLARA M.: MASSAGE THE hands with pure olive oil or a good cold cream if you wish to make them more shapely. Let the movements be downward towards the finger tips with occasional light strokes across the back of the hands. The inside of the palm is also massaged to the finger tips. This is found helpful in the case of enlarged joints, as it builds up the hand and makes the joints appear smaller.

MISS J.: EXERCISES FOR REducing the waist and hips? Here they are: Stand with the feet together, hands back of the head. Bend from side to side as far as possible, without moving the lower part of the body. Next, rise on the toes and stretch the arms overhead. Bend the body at the trunk and try to touch the finger tips to the floor. For adidtional exercises, send a stamped addressed envelope.

Entries Close Today for Squash-Racquets Tourney for Women

Entries close today for the approaching handicap squash-racquets tournament to begin on Thursday for the women members of the Racquet club, that exclusive fortress of athletics which is such a delight to its members and such a thorn in the sides of those who have been tried and found wanting. Mrs. Philip Loring Reed, chairman of the athletic committee, is in charge of the entry list, which probably will be shorter at this time than earlier in the winter, when the club's two neat little courts always were filled. Mrs. Reed returns tomorrow morning after a short jaunt to New York City, to take charge of the arrangements.

The game of squash-racquets, for the benefit of those who are not aware of its peculiarities, differs from tennis by virtue of the style of implement used. It is one step less vigorous and dangerous than men's racquets, wherein small, hard balls and bats are used.

The women's board of the club, recently elected, includes Mrs. Robert Orr as chairman; Mrs. Edward I. Cudahy, vice chairman; Mrs. Philip Armour III. as secretary; Mrs. Alan Dixon as bursar, Mrs. Philip Reed, athletic chairman, and Mrs. Charles B. Pike, and Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson Jr. as advisory members.

The invitations just sent out by the American Friends of China for a meeting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bush on Friday evening at 8 o'clock are the most charming things. Long and rather narrow sheets of Japanese paper with a pale design in delicate green gray shades and pink are the background for the printing in gray. The purpose of the meeting is an informal discussion of Chinese politics. A number of young Chinese are to speak. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Robert Gregory, Mrs. Charles W. Hubbard, Mrs. William H. Bush, the Rev. Laurence Faucett of St. John's college, Shanghai; Paul E. Rittenhouse, and Carroll Sudler.

Mrs. Eugene Underwood Kimbark of Evanston has cards out for a bridge party on Tuesday afternoon, March 16, at the Evanston Country club, to meet Miss Gladys Spry and Mrs. Rollin W. Keyes. Miss Spry is to be a bride this month.

Mrs. Ogden T. McClurg, Mrs. Howard Willett, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Leroy Wetzel, and Miss Ada Newman are to pour at the tea at the Fortnightly this afternoon, which will follow a lecture-recital to be given by Clarence Gustlin. The affair is under the auspices of the American Opera society, and Mr. Gustlin's subject is "The Witch of Salem," Charles Wakefield Cadman's opera, which is to be presented next winter. The David Bispham Memorial medals are to be presented to Illinois opera composers following the talk.

Mrs. Francis Lackner of Winnetka is to be hostess at a dinner party this evening before the benefit lecture, "Seven Kinds of Marriage," by Horace Bridges at the Winnetka Woman's club. Henry Booth house is to receive the proceeds of the lecture. Mrs. Lackner is chairman of the committee in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Andrews and their daughter, Mrs. Harlan Eldred of Highland Park, have returned from a cruise of the West Indies and to South America.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip LeFevre Elting of 117 Bellevue place have also been in the West Indies. They returned this week-end.

Mrs. Edward Crossett of 1100 Lake Shore drive is making a week's stopover in Chicago. She returned Sunday from a stay in California, and is to depart this week-end for a sojourn at Virginia Hot Springs before sailing for Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Benson Dushane Jr. have returned from their honeymoon in Bermuda, and are temporarily domiciled at the Ambassador hotel. Mrs. Dushane was Miss Peggy McEvoy of Baltimore before her marriage in February.

Mrs. Hubert Burnham of Evanston has returned from a stay at Palm Beach.

Mrs. Albert A. Michelson is listed as one of the speakers for the annual nature exhibit at the Davis store from March 15 to 20. She is to speak on "Through the Seasons with the Chicago Wild Flowers," representing the Wild Flower Preservation society.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wilson Grassell of 1027 East 53d street are announcing the birth of a daughter, Martha Jane, on last Wednesday at St. Luke's hospital, according to a note from Mrs. Grassell's mother, Mrs. W. G. Wood of the Windermere hotel.

Lecture on "The Miracle."

Miss Victoria Powell of "The Miracle" will lecture on "The Miracle" this evening at 8 o'clock at the Illinois Industrial Home for the Blind, 19th street and Marshall boulevard. Mrs. Dorothy Herman Blum will give some vocal selections. The program has been arranged by Lincoln lodge, U. O. T. S., committee for the blind relief, of which Mrs. Nathan Solomon is chairman.

Wanda Landowska Heard in Recital at Piano, Harpsichord

BY EDWARD MOORE.

In the course of Wanda Landowska's program before the Musicians' Club of Women at the Studebaker theater yesterday afternoon she donated some important information, not by word of mouth, since she announced that her English was not sufficient for speech making, but by power of performance. It was to the effect that there is a large amount of keyboard music of a former era which sounds dry, not to say stupid, when played on a piano, but is neither dry nor stupid when played on a harpsichord. This fact became the high spot of her recital on both instruments.

The corollary is, of course, that the composers of this era knew a great deal about the harpsichord for which they wrote and not a great deal about the piano. Mme. Landowska moved from one instrument to the other, playing a little Bach, a little Mozart, some Clementi and Schubert, and finally a group for the harpsichord that included a piece by herself. She is an agile and clean cut performer and a deft demonstrator of the charm that lies in the gentle, scratchy tone of the piano's ancestor. And as she does it, there is much charm.

Mario Carboni, baritone, with the assistance of Mrs. Morris Rosenwald, soprano, gave a song recital at Orchestra hall last night. Mr. Carboni classifies as a singer of the operatic species, possessing a full toned voice of good range with quite a bit of vibratory temperament in it, and excelling in the slashing strokes of the "Pagliacci" prologue. Mrs. Rosenwald's public appearances have been few, but she is a good singer of songs. Her voice has warmth and color and she has taste. Isaac Van Grove was a sympathetic accompanist, not only for the notes but the varying moods of the two artists' songs.

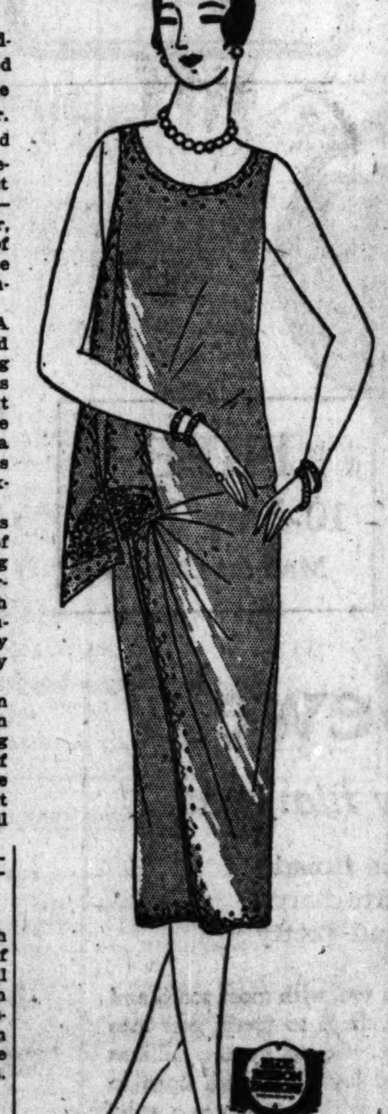
Crushed Strawberry Is a Smart New Tint

by Corinne Lowe



NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The same prospectus offered to Curly Locks of Mother Goose fame is not followed at this present hour. "Thou shalt eat strawberries and cream"—after all, what a trite inducement that is in these days when almost everybody eats these refreshments—at least in the season! If, however, one offers to a lady the opportunity of wearing strawberry and cream, here at last is something worthy of consideration.

We are not speaking flippantly. A few new color notes have been sounded in the spring collection and among these is crushed strawberry. This is exploited in all types of clothes, but especially for evening wear. Here we show it in either satin or crêpe in a little evening model which, if it does nothing else, convinces you of the excellent social position of the drape.

And as for the cream, well, this gown is served with an embroidery of creamy beads with an accompanying tracery of dull gold thread. The sparing use of these beads is in thorough accord with modern sentiments concerning bead treatment and certainly here it completes the classic severity of the contours.

The side drapery is brought down from one shoulder and occurs only in front. As will be seen, the flying folds are in one with the gown itself and only the ends are bifurcated. The draping at the waist line is coincident with a wrap around skirt which still continues in the best form.

Glee Club Benefit.

Plans for the benefit concert which the Glee club of the University of Notre Dame will give in Orchestra hall for the San Callisto Italian mission at 2189 De Kalb street will be discussed this afternoon at a meeting in the Great Northern hotel. The date of the concert has been set for April 23.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Apple and Pineapple Pie Filling.

There is at any time a pie campaign in any locality where there is a lover of pie, one as often as that "pymaniac"—it is hard to manufacture a suitable word—can stir up interest. A history of such campaigns, with various pie legends, might make entertaining reading.

At this season, which is the worst for apple pies—apples are now the poorest and most expensive—is just when people appreciate apple pie the most, true to the well-known traits of the well-known human nature, so we tried out the following filling, and voted it good, while we voted against raisins, and so forth, as additions to the filling, although these were a part of a filling recently exploited in a special way:

◆

Wash and core, but do not peel, one pound of Northern Spy apples. Cook these in one-half cup of water, gently, in a closely covered pan. Simmer until tender and rub them through a sieve. Because of the skins so cooked this apple "mus" will have a pretty pink color. Add to it one-half cup of sugar, one-half teaspoon of cinnamon, about two grates of nutmeg—not enough to be noticeable—and one slice of canned pineapple, chopped rather fine. Bake this under a cover, or it is dainty enough to have a criss-crossed, or lattice top.

As to pie crusts, no end of experience and observation has taught me that every woman must work out her own salvation in making them. Recipes do not seem to help much and what one woman can seem to do, another cannot. My own opinion is that a mixture of lard and butter is best for the shortening—one-third as much as there is flour. Baking powder in pie crust is a makeshift. The ice water must be scanty, but not so scanty for most people as it is for the rare few. Many women are sure they have the one sure-fire recipe, but when one gets a novice to try some of the infallible formulae you see that perfection seems an exceedingly shy maid.

THE TRIBUNE COOK BOOK, by Jane Eddington, with menus for thirty meals and with chapters making a brief guide to correct eating, is on sale for 10 cents by mail or at the Public Service Bureau, 11 South Dearborn street.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Generous Giver.

"I have many good books and magazines for an ill or invalid boy from 14 to 18. I also have a crystal radio set complete with head phones which I will give, and even have a boy install.

MRS. J. A."

This is indeed a generous offer and will help while away the hours for some poor invalid. We shall be pleased to forward your address to the donor.

Use for a Bowling Ball.

"I wonder if any of your readers could find an old bowling ball for my husband. He has tuberculosis, and bowling has been prescribed for him, but we cannot afford to buy a ball. He can use our local alleys gratis, but must have a ball of his own.

"MRS. E. V. S."

If you are an ex-bowler, or have more than one ball and would like to be of some service to this man, we shall be glad to forward his address.

All Types Needed to Make Up a World, So Why Be Anxious?

BY DORIS BLAKE.

What is the ideal type of girl? Is she tall, or is she short? Is she gay, or is she serious? Is she blonde, or is she brunette? Is there one type more popular with men than others?

Repeatedly I am asked to answer these queries. A while ago it was suggested that men showed a universal preference for blondes. But a flood of mail from correspondents relieved my apprehensions that all was not "beer and skittles" unless one were golden haired. A club of young men voted on the subject and reported that but one of fifty young male members admitted his intention of buying a solitaire for a blonde sweetheart. Rather an unusual majority for the brunette, I will admit. But the spokesman assured me the vote was taken in dead earnest.

Yet, each is charming in her own way. One would appeal to one man, whereas the other would not register emotionally at all.

A garden would not be a garden if every flower were of the same variety. We admire the tall delphinium and love the little violet. The fairy columbine delights the eye without affecting the stately charm of the colorful hollyhock. It is the same with girls. The tall, dark, graceful girl has not the same charm as the little golden haired, blue eyed one, but the latter again has not the presence of the well made woman of proportions. Each is a foil to the other. Each has her own charms.

◆

A Brigham Young might indulge a Mormon fancy for a flower of every variety. But your average Romeo is content with one. And if the delphinium were his "ideal type" the violet wouldn't get a look in. So, there you are! Looking the world of women over you must conclude that the "ideal type" is elastic. It embraces so many varieties of girl: the short and thin, the short and plump, the tall ditto; the green eyed, blue eyed, hazel, and black. And so on.

Women Advised to Ignore Political Party Labels

"Every woman should do her duty at the polls, and vote for the man she believes best fitted for office. The political party to which the candidate belongs should make no difference in the selection," asserted Dr. Annie Glidden, state president of the Alliance of Business and Professional Women at a meeting of that organization last night in the Palmer house.

Dr. Glidden, who does welfare work throughout the state spoke highly of the institutions which care for homeless children. She said, however, that a private home, even if the environment is not perfect, is better for the child than the best institution.

Many of these children are ideal for adoption, she said, and any one able to do so should take not one, but two.

Women's Lives
are relieved of a great hygienic handicap in this way. Positive protection—discards like tissue
THERE is now a new way in woman's hygiene. A way scientific and exquisite that ends the uncertainty of old-time "sanitary pads."
It is called "KOTEX." Eight in every 10 better-class women have adopted it.
You wear sheer frocks and gowns without a second thought, any time, anywhere. You meet every day, every business or social demand unhandicapped.
NO LAUNDRY
✓ Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment
Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads, it banishes danger of mishaps.
Deodorizes, too. And thus ends ALL fear of offending.
You obtain it at drug or department stores simply by saying "KOTEX." Women thus ask for it without hesitancy. Costs only a few cents for a package of 12.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff
The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.
You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store and it never fails to do the work.

Night Might Have Been Worse: Elmer

And He Discovers a Triangle in Air.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The dials did some responding last night, but whether satisfactorily or not depends upon the individual viewpoint.

The evening started out with a gusto at 7 o'clock. WLW, Cincinnati, and WWJ, Detroit, both quite strong with good dinner concert orchestra programs. WSM, Nashville, and WJAX, Jacksonville, even stronger with dance orchestra programs. WGY, Schenectady, very weak; KDKA, Pittsburgh, strong. The feature of this hour was a running description of the Iowa-Ohio basketball game, WSUI, Iowa City, in which Ohio lost, as was the announcing through weak signals.

An odd thing here. It was noticed that the stations from which good reception was had at this receiving point last night made a triangle, beginning with WWJ at the north and spreading south, encompassing KDKA, WLW, WSUI, WSM, WJAX, WSMB, with a glimpse of WSB, Atlanta.

An orchestral presentation entitled "Springtime in Light Opera," KDKA, Pittsburgh, 8 to 9, was the evening's best program. It was a straight forward, tightly packed concert, and of loud speaker volume. Toward the close the fading phenomena developed a rapid surging character that was interesting. It is strange thing that this prominent, powerful station should sign off giving the weather report at 10 o'clock eastern time. Blue laws not being in effect in that city.

WLW, 10 and later; very mushy, ruining announcing and the dance music.

WSAI, Cincinnati, 10:30; fading, noises and what not? While trying to figure out the program I tried to figure out the phonetic spelling that would describe the "blooper" music that was heard everywhere and without let up last night—"wheo-lit," "whe-ooo-liet."

WSMB, New Orleans, 9:30. Not strong enough to determine whether the music was being played by a dance orchestra or a brass band.

POLICE BREAK UP TWO STRIKE PARADES IN EAST

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—Clashes between police and strikers occurred in two sections of the metropolitan district today. Forty-two fur workers were arrested on Sixth avenue in New York City when their strike parade overflowed onto the sidewalks. The other mêlée took place in Clifton, N. J., where police broke up a demonstration of striking textile workers by whisking away the parade leaders after first subduing them with their fists.

The authorities swooped down on the parade of fur workers after traffic officers had reported the strikers' lines were disorganized and they had refused to stay in the middle of the street. Some of the strikers resisted the attempt to break up the procession and officers wielded their night sticks industriously but without much harm for a few minutes.

About 1,000 of the textile strikers had attended a massmeeting this afternoon in Garfield, N. J., and were crossing the Clifton bridge when police intercepted them.

PARIS, March 8.—(AP)—According to reliable information, Elsie De Wolfe, former American actress, and Sir Charles Mendl, head of the press section of the British embassy in Paris, plan to be married Wednesday morning. The intended wedding comes as a great surprise to their friends.

Miss De Wolfe is 61 years old. She made her debut on the stage in 1890 and was for years head of her own stock company. She left the stage in 1905 and since has been engaged as an interior decorator. Sir Charles Mendl was an intelligence officer in the British army during the war. He was knighted in 1924.

ANOTHER GANG MURDER INQUIRY REVEALS NOTHING

Inquest into the death of Ralph Calabriese, 1030 South Racine avenue, latest victim of the gang war among the Sicilians, who was shot to death while in an automobile at West 22d street and Kesler avenue, yesterday revealed no evidence concerning his slayers.

Only two witnesses were heard, the principal one being Philip Gnolfo, also known as Abatte, 1119 South Racine avenue, who the police believe was intended to be the victim of the shotgun slugs which killed Calabriese.

How to Have Soft, Pretty White Hands

Many women will undoubtedly be glad to know how they may have beautiful white, soft, pretty hands regardless of the work they have to do. The secret lies in rubbing a little Ice-Mint into the hands occasionally preferably just before retiring at night. In the morning you will be agreeably surprised at the pleasant transformation that has been wrought by even a single application. Ice-Mint is made from a Japanese product that is simply marvelous for its beautifying properties whether used on the hands or face. Regardless of what kind of work a woman does she should have pretty hands as they are really the true marks of refinement. A few applications of Ice-Mint will actually make any woman proud of her hands and skin. It costs little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere.

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Tuesday, March 9.) (Standard time throughout.)

"THE MOVIN' PITCHER SHOW," a riotous re-creation of a performance in the old fashioned nickelodeon, will be the offering in the Play shop this evening from W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel. The thrilling subtitles, the cowboys and the Indians, the weary piano player, and the drummer in the pit—all will be present. It's on at 10:20, following Sam 'n' Henry at 10 and the Old Time Favorites at 10:10.

Jacques Gordon, violinist and concert master of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, is to give the fourth of his first series of recitals tonight at 9 o'clock. His program consists entirely of request numbers, which have come from the large body of listeners who enjoyed his previous recitals. The young composer-pianist, Joseph Brinkman, will be his accompanist. Mark Love, basso, is to be assisting artist during this hour.

At 6:01 o'clock this evening a harp recital will be presented by Leona Hayes. This popular musician has prepared a special program of favorite selections.

The famous comedians, Sam 'n' Henry, will give another of their amusing dialogues tonight at the usual time, 10 o'clock. Don't forget to listen tonight to the "Old Time Favorites." They will be played at 6:45 and at 10:10 o'clock.

EVEREADY HOUR
at 8 P. M.
Central Standard Time

THOUSANDS of comments and suggestions came from the radio audience as result of the "Listening-In" Eveready Hour a few weeks ago. Still much classification work ahead before the program desires of the majority can be determined. In the meantime, tonight's Hour will reflect some of those desires in a miscellaneous offering utilizing as many audience suggestions as can be compassed in sixty minutes. With an interpolated feature—Don Marquis' "Noah, An' Jonah An' Cap'n John Smith."

Today's Winners of $100.00 in "Old Time Favorite" Radio Contest

TODAY'S first prize of $50 in the Old Time Favorites contest conducted by W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel, goes to Mrs. J. Raymond Chittick, 165 County Line road, Hinsdale, Ill. The three songs played last Tuesday are "Love's Old Sweet Song," "My Wild Irish Rose" and "Old King Cole."

The winning sentence sent in by Mrs. Chittick was: "Of these's, 'Love's Old Sweet Song' is my choice because it seems to gather the romances of all ages and condense them to one wonderfully sweet melody."

Sylvia M. Saidl, 5741 South Albany avenue, is awarded $10 the third prize.

All five winners may receive their awards by calling or writing to Old Time Favorites, Tribune Tower, Chicago. Every night at 6:45 and at 10:10 o'clock three old time songs are played at W-G-N. Those wishing to compete for the prizes must name the songs correctly and tell in a single sentence which one they like best and why. Letters must be received not later than four days after the songs are presented.

Italy Jails 300 More in War on Mafia; Frees Harem

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 8.—More than 300 new arrests have been made during the last few days in Sicily in the campaign against the Mafia. In the mountain fastnesses of the interior a harem was discovered, where four sisters were held by the bandit chiefs, Nicola and Olora, for several years. The girls were abducted from their home in Palermo. They declared their "husbands" lived and loved like that notorious Moorish bandit, Raisuli.

Use the right size "B" battery

THE length of time you listen in each day and the size of your "B" batteries in relation to your set determine how long the "B" batteries will last.

On 1 to 3 tubes—Use Eveready No. 772.

On 4 or more tubes — Use the Heavy Duty "B" Batteries, either No. 770, or the even longer-lived Eveready Layerbilt No. 486.

On all but single tube sets—Use a "C" battery.

When these rules are followed, the No. 772 will last for a year or more, and the Heavy Duties for eight months or longer, when listening at the year-round average of two hours a day.

NOTE: A "C" battery greatly increases the life of your "B" batteries and gives a quality of reception unobtainable without it. Radio sets may easily be changed to permit the use of a "C" battery by any competent radio service man.

Like Clouded Jewels

Don't hide yours any longer. Accept this remarkable dental test that restores "off-color" teeth to charming whiteness, and makes gums firm and pretty

Dental science has made some important discoveries in lightening cloudy teeth—a new method in tooth and gum treatment.

It acts on new principles. In a few days you can work a transformation on your teeth. Can change your whole appearance.

Now a 10-day test is being offered free.

It's just a film ordinary brushing won't end

Run your tongue across your teeth. You will feel a film . . . a slippery, viscous coating that dulls and clouds their beauty.

Whiten teeth, Firm the Gums

Remove that film and what you see will amaze you. You are simply hiding their beauty now . . . just like grime on ivory.

Film is charged, too, with most tooth and gum troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions multiply in it and lay your teeth open to decay. And they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea.

It acts to curdle the film and then remove it. Then to firm the gums and protect them.

Send coupon

Results are quick and convincing. Largely on dental advice the world has turned to this new scientific method.

A few days' use will amaze you. The difference will be marked. You will note it. Those with whom you come in contact will note it. You owe clear teeth to yourself. Send the coupon before you forget.

CHICAGO RENT PAYERS

REWARD! INFORMATION WANTED AT ONCE

What have you been doing with the receipt or the canceled check after you have "paid the rent"? Read this carefully, for every rent payer in Chicago will be scurrying around to find the old receipts they have put away somewhere—.

The precious receipts the agent or the landlord has given you for rent payment of a place to live. COUNT THEM. HOW MANY HAVE YOU?

Pile them on the table. Sort them over. How many have you? We want to find the persons in Chicago who have saved the greatest number of rent receipts—given for a Chicago home—place to live.

HOW MANY CAN YOU DELIVER FOR INSPECTION? If your record number lists within high entry record we will notify you and you can then bring the receipts in for verification.

Twelve rewards—total $350. Division as follows: $150—$100 and ten rewards of $10 each.

$150 as the first reward for the person who has saved the greatest number Chicago home rent receipts in consecutive monthly order and submitted together with the best short story of human interest about "Rent Receipts." $100 to be given to the person who has saved the greatest number of rent receipts—not in consecutive monthly order—as stipulated—"for a place to live"—submitted together with the best short story of human interest about "Rent Receipts."

Ten rewards of $10 each will be distributed to the ten following winning contestants as to record number as above stipulated and submitted together with the best short story of human interest about "Rent Receipts."

In the event of a tie for any of the rewards offered the full amount of the reward tied for will be awarded each tieing contestant.

Do not mail receipts in—we are not offering to buy them—as you should keep those receipts. We want to inspect only and verify as to the persons having the greatest number of these precious old receipts.

If you do not understand just how to enter this reward record do not hesitate to phone for further details. Extra phone service installed for information.

CAPTAIN YOUNG, WHO FOUGHT ON KEARSAGE, DIES

CAPT. ROBERT YOUNG.

Capt. Robert Young, a civil war veteran, and for many years a commander of steamers on the great lakes, died at his home in Park Ridge on Sunday. He was 83 years old and had been a Chicagoan for 3 years.

Capt. Young, as attaché of the naval signal corps, participated in 1864 in the battle between the Union warship Kearsarge and the Confederate cruiser Alabama off the coast of France. In 1916 he was commissioned to raise the Eastland from the Chicago river following the disaster which cost 800 lives.

At the time of his death Capt. Young was manager of the Dunham Towing and Wrecking company. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at Central Masonic temple, La Salle and Locust streets. Interment at Graceland.

RITES TOMORROW FOR E. J. KELLY'S 14 YEAR OLD SON

Funeral services for Edward J. Kelly Jr., 14 year old son of the president of the south park board and chief engineer of the sanitary district, who died yesterday in St. Luke's hospital, will be held from St. Ambrose's church, 47th street and Ellis avenue, at 9:30 tomorrow morning.

A military detail from Culver Military academy, where the youth was a student, will attend the services and act as pallbearers. He was taken ill at the school several weeks ago and brought to Chicago for a mastoid operation.

SOLDIER KILLED IN SERVICE IS TO BE BURIED TODAY

Funeral services with military honors will be held tomorrow at 9 a. m. for Private Arthur G. Werkmeister, who died recently at Schofield barracks, Honolulu, of injuries received in the service several months ago.

Werkmeister, who lived at 947 West 51st street, served in the 1st division in France. He was wounded several times and was decorated for bravery.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Four dollar potatoes will be tempting bait at planting time this spring for many commercial truckers who try to swing to the money crops every year. The grass always looks greener in the other fellow's pasture but the potato patch may be a poor place to graze this year. Federal crop experts predict that if growers increase the potato acreage much beyond 10 per cent they may regret it.

The wise spud raiser is taking advantage of the high prices and is selling the marketable potatoes and keeping the small ones to plant. They are not planning any material increase in the acreage over last year.

In times of high prices like the present, Krantz of the University of Minnesota advises growers to make a saving by using their smallest tubers, if they have been properly grown, for this year's seed. But do not increase the acreage. Discouragement often follows such advice because growers frequently figure that if the other fellow is cutting down his acreage it would be a good time to plant more potatoes.

Whole small potatoes are even better to plant than seed pieces from large tubers, Krantz says, provided that they come from vigorous, healthy plants. "If planted when weather conditions are unfavorable, there is less likelihood of the whole small potato rotting in the ground than there is of the seed pieces cut from large potatoes," he says.

PNEUMONIA KILLS JOHN OLESON, 86, VETERAN BAILIFF

Capt. John Oleson, 86, oldest Municipal court bailiff, died of pneumonia yesterday at his home, 2451 North Sawyer avenue. He was at work until last Tuesday.

Formerly a skipper on lake vessels, he became a bailiff in 1886. He was in charge of the jury that tried the murderers of Dr. Cronin. One of the first assignments he had was to guard the anarchists arrested for the Haymarket riots. Despite his knowledge of celebrated cases, he never could be induced to talk of them.

"I never talked about what went on in the jury room," he asserted. "That's why the judges wanted me in their cases."

Oleson is survived by a niece, Miss Beatrice Oleson, and a grandniece, Kathryn Falk. Funeral services will be held at the Graceland cemtery chapel tomorrow at 2 p. m.

THOMAS F. COURTNEY, for many years a plumbing inspector for the city water department, died late Sunday night at his home, 4016 Palmer street, of pneumonia. He was 58 years old and was a brother of ex-Judge John Courtney. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 tomorrow from a chapel at 2346 West Madison street to Our Lady of Sorrows church. Burial at Mount Carmel.

DEATH NOTICES

IN MEMORIAM.

BLIX—Mrs. Bertha Blix. In sad and loving memory of our dear mother, daughter, and sister, who passed away four years ago today. Though God has taken her away her sweet memory still remains with us forever.
LOVING SON, PARENTS, SISTER, AND BROTHERS.

GAMBLE—Cora E. Gamble. In loving memory of my dear wife, who passed away 4 years ago today, March 9, 1922.
HUSBAND.

KOCH—Mrs. Lena Koch. In cherished memory of our beloved mother, who passed away one year ago today, March 9, 1925. Mother, dear, we miss you and are lonesome here. LOVING CHILDREN.

POZNER—Ricka Pozner. A tribute of love to my darling mother, who left us 3 years ago today, March 9, 1923.

What is life without a mother,
O'er the things the world may send;
For when I lost my mother
I lost my dearest friend.

LONESOME DAUGHTER, MAY FINK.

ZIETHEN—Herman R. Ziethen. In loving memory of our dear father, who passed away two years ago today, March 9, 1924.

When the Lord said you have finished,
Come up higher, daddy dear,
You have won a crown in Heaven
By your love and kindness here.
We remember well our sorrow
As we stood beside your bed,
Our deep and heartfelt anguish
When we saw that you were dead.
We miss your kindness and willing hand,
Your fond and earnest care;
Our home is dark without you, daddy;
We miss you everywhere.

LOVING WIFE AND CHILDREN.

ROSEHILL MAUSOLEUM

Rosehill Invites
Your Careful Scrutiny

They who undertake the provision and maintenance of final resting places for the departed bear a solemn responsibility to both the living and the dead. How well they meet that responsibility can be discovered only by investigation, and such investigation Rosehill asks of all. Rosehill's great service to all, whether of large or small means, can best be explained at Rosehill.

Single crypts in the new addition to Rosehill Mausoleum may be had for as little as $450; these, as well as the most costly, are doubly assured of perpetual, watchful care by a trust fund and the Mausoleum Building Special Reserve Fund. Inquiries, by mail or in person, will receive prompt and courteous attention, with no thought of obligation.

Doctors Have Prescribed It
For Over 33 Years

If you feel the need of a good general tonic, it seems but natural to use a tonic which has been and is today being prescribed by thousands of doctors. Physicians for over 33 years have been prescribing Gude's Pepto-Mangan as a quick and efficient tonic. Its prompt tonic power has been abundantly demonstrated by hundreds of careful blood tests at the hands of experts. It is entirely different from the myriads of unscientific preparations and "tonics" which physicians know to be of little practical value.

Prescribe Gude's Pepto-Mangan for yourself TODAY and watch the results. Your druggist has it in both liquid and tablet form.

What Doctors Write:

"I have used Gude's Pepto-Mangan for several years and think it the best of its kind."

"I found its use very satisfactory and am prescribing it now right along."

"I have been using Gude's Pepto-Mangan in my practice for 10 years or more with the best results. I have found it the best form of iron I have ever used. The weakest or most irritable stomach bears it perfectly."

"Find Gude's Pepto-Mangan most excellent. Prescribe it almost exclusively."

WARNING
There is only one Pepto-Mangan, and that is Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

A
QUESTION.

What kind of subdivision property is easier to sell? Property improved with sewer, water, sidewalks, gas, electricity, paving, curbs, trees and shrubs, or bleak prairie staked off into lots away from nowhere?

We know that property like our Devonshire Manor, with all improvements in and paid for by us, sells easier.

You need no experience to sell our property. Capable executives assist you in every way.

We do not want the drifting salesman from other organizations. We want men who want to carve out a career for themselves with our organization, selling in accordance with the ethics of the real estate profession.

Our active subdivision selling season is now under way on a big scale. Busses leaving every day at 11 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. will take you out to see our property.

A WORD
AND THOSE WHO WANT TO SELL.

Prof. Michael Lewis,
Character Analyst,
Rm. 408, 77 W. Washington.

WHAT CAN YOU DO BEST?
WHAT ARE YOUR LATENT FORCES?

Don't waste time. Come in and get a character analysis free. Have your strong powers pointed out to you by a man of 22 years' experience. At a glance he will tell you what is in the way that keeps you from success and will tell you your weaknesses and how to overcome them. You cannot determine your earning power; the best you can do is guess.

Prof. Lewis has been engaged by some of the large corporations in the United States. Many people owe their success to him. His marvelous and wonderful delineations in public and private place him in a class by himself. Consult him absolutely free from 10 o'clock to 3 and from 7 to 8. Those selected by Prof. Lewis will be given positions by a large Chicago corporation.

PADDOCK IS BACK.

Well, boys, I am back at my old job again as city sales manager and I want to see all my old salesmen and several new ones, as I am now forming a new sales unit for city selling.

I want men to call on the business people on the West, Northwest and North Sides. I am putting on an extensive advertising campaign to help you make sales and I will give you all the usual Paddock co-operation. You old men know what that means, and new men will soon learn to appreciate it.

Naturally I am busy, but not too busy to talk to you old men or any new ones, regardless of past experience. Call between 10 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. today.

SALESMEN AND SALES MANAGERS,
Experienced, Inexperienced. Also Those Who Speak Foreign Languages.

If you make a neat appearance and can bring one reference I will appoint you as a salesman or sales manager directly under me to sell property that I personally own, which means that you get all of the commission involved yourself. For twenty years I have been buying and selling Chicago real estate. I own millions of dollars' worth of it now, so ideally situated that the property does more to sell itself than the salesman can do, yet you get top commissions for full or part time work.

You do not have to solicit. We show you every point of selling and then send you to interested prospects direct. You could not help but make money with me.

TWO POWERFUL
A new departure, thoroughly protected by U. S. patents, our proposition will revolutionize retail methods. It is as necessary to successful retailing as the cash register.
First gigantic advertising campaign now started and already leads are coming in.
Salesmen qualified by past success in selling and desiring a permanent connection where they can earn big money and advance rapidly, phone MR. J. M. PEARSON, Franklin 2120, for appointment Tuesday only.

COME IN QUICK.
You want to get in business for yourself. You want a paying business that will grow. Your opportunity is here, and you must succeed with the help you get. Biggest and best business in the world, with a house of forty years' standing behind you. Call at 81 E. Madison-st., Room 312. See MR. BEARD.

ARE YOU AMENABLE
to training? In my business I have found it wise to select inexperienced men of the right type and train them, rather than to take on those who already know so much they do not consider themselves capable of learning any more. Whether or not you are getting it, if you consider yourself worth $65 per week and up, the chances are you are the particular type I am seeking. If you are ready to get down to business, call Room 903, 109 N. Dearborn. MR. PIERCE.

Spare Time Means Money.
If I can afford to pay you the highest money per hour for just three of your evenings a week, can't you afford to give up the movies and the radio for that time? All I ask is that you let me tell my story. I know it will interest you.
ADDRESS S E 267, TRIBUNE.

Saleswomen.

COME OUT OF THE DARKNESS INTO THE SUNSHINE.

Women who held positions similar to your own awakened to the fact that they were fitted for a more remunerative line of endeavor.

They are now making $100 per week and up.

If you possess INITIATIVE and RESOLUTENESS our competent instructors will teach you this interesting profession. Come in for an interview and we will give you full details of how you can earn while you learn.

LADIES, READ THIS!!

IF YOU REALLY NEED MONEY, READ EVERY WORD.

NEW WAY TO MAKE MONEY AT HOME.

Would you like to make money at home—and have fun doing it? Would you like to earn an extra pay check every week for delightful adventure with a nationally famous institution—financially rewarded while enjoying a beautiful cultural experience?

Absolutely no experience necessary! A simple and most fascinating way to earn an extra income in your spare time. Will in no way intrude upon your present occupation. It is so wonderful that members say it seems too good to be true—but hundreds know it is true, and more are joining every day.

$35-$50 WEEKLY.

Whether you merely wish to devote your spare time and add to your present income, or wish to leave your present occupation for a large income, or both, your success is positively assured if you are really sincere. We do not believe that a more genuine opportunity exists in Chicago today for the self-supporting lady, and when the quota is filled we will engage no more.

Call promptly at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, March 10th, 4th Floor, 360 N. Michigan-av. [London Guarantee and Accident Bldg.]. Don't forget—Wednesday evening only.

DO NOT ENVY THE SUCCESSFUL PEOPLE—IMITATE THEM.

Part time workers in our organization who spend two hours an evening and Sundays, are earning $45, $75, and $100 Per Week.
WE TEACH YOU.
WE HELP YOU.
WE COACH YOU.

THE
ON THE LAKE SHORE
AT 5000 NORTH.

It is an undeniable fact that nothing proclaims your standing in the community, so characteristically, yet so unmistakably, as the home in which you live. And so, it can be truthfully said, that any woman, wishing to find an apartment home in which she may enhance the beauty and elegance of her rugs and furniture, may satisfy this desire in the Aquitania Apartments.

This beautiful fifteen story building contains carefully planned and remarkably spacious apartments of from three to six rooms.

The location of the Aquitania is noteworthy in itself. It is very convenient to excellent transportation, with motor busses and elevated trains available at frequent intervals. Furthermore, the peace and quiet, the freedom from noise and congestion, and the cleanliness of its location, makes life in this distinctive building more pleasant and healthful.

A SPRING LEASE!
Will you accept from us an apartment building of your own—a plan that means you do not even have to own a lot; or are you going to spend another year making that monthly payment for a receipt?

This is in a wonderfully developed high grade district, with "L" transportation, and it means not only a real home for you, but an immediate income every month, instead of an outlay.

The amount required to start is $500.

Can you conscientiously afford to overlook a proposition with all the earmarks of common sense and earnestness such as this firm is now offering you?

This to a limited number of responsible people only. Your bank is our reference. Address S E 307, Tribune.
